WAR BEING BROUGHT HOME

Substitutes Must be Used for Wheat Flour—Licensed Dealers Must affix brand "Victory Loaf" on July 15

That Canada is at war will be brought home to every man, woman and child next month when all bread made from standard wheat flour must be labeled "Victory Bread" and mixed with a percentage of substitutes for wheat flour. This is the effect of a recent Order issued by the Canada Food Board in a vigorous effort to raise the existing piled supplies and to make them last out until the wheat of the coming harvest reaches the flour mills and the new flour is distributed for consumption.

The new Order defines substitutes for wheat as corn, oats, barley, rice rye, buckwheat, tapioca and any mixture of same; potato flours, bean sheets, oatmeal, rolled oats, corn meal, corn starch, hominy, corn grits, rice meal, and potato meal.

On and after July 1st one pound of wheat substitute must be used by all bakers, confectioners and public eating-places, with every nine pounds of standard wheat flour in making any bakery products, and the same rule shall apply to every person in Canada who bakes bread, rolls or pastry for private consumption. On and after July 15th in all Canada east of Port Arthur the proportion is to be increased to one pound with every four. In Port Arthur and the West this increase is still in abeyance, pending the report on the quantities of substitutes available.

It is provided in this Order that on and after July 15th no licensed dealer shall sell for private consumption east of, but not including Port Arthur, white flour to any person who does not purchase from him substitutes in the proportion of not less than one to two pounds of standard flour. West of Port Arthur the proportion is kept at one pound substitute to four pounds wheat flour. The brand "Victory Bread" is to be affixed to every loaf as a guarantee that the prescribed amounts of substitutes for standard flour are being included therein. Bread not bearing this label may be seized and any person violating the regulation is liable on conviction to a penalty not exceeding $1000 and not less than $100, or imprisonment for a period not exceeding three months or both fine and imprisonment. Fines are to be paid to the municipality if the municipal officer secures the conviction or to the Provincial Treasurer, where a Provincial Officer secures the conviction.

MORE PROOF OF KAISER'S GUILT IN LAYING PLANS FOR THE WAR

ONE MORE PIECE OF TESTIMONY IS ADDED

Prince Lichnowsky, Former German Ambassador to England Confided To British Admiral His Knowledge That the Kaiser Wanted the War

The following authentic statement by an ex-ambassador is confirmation from a different angle of Prince Lichnowsky's recently published revelations. It also is of interest as it was handed in by one of the officers to prove that the German case was not understood on the opening of the war in 1914.

When diplomatic relations between England and Germany were broken off by the declaration of war, Admiral Sir Cecil Burney, who had been in command of the British fleet in the Mediterranean, was ordered to Malta to take over the command of the Channel fleet. He was then on very friendly relations with Lichnowsky. For the latter, being a Silesian, had good manners which the Prussian Junker here seldom affected, and had been really popular in London society.

During the crossing the prince was much depressed, and he said to the admiral: "I suppose I am finished."

"I might as well hang overboard for my career is ended there should be war." To which the admiral replied: "Not while his majesty the emperor wrote and instructed me to investigate a secret by the state of English public opinion and to let him know whether there was the least likelihood that the English would enter the war in case we made war. I looked over the ground in all directions and found that the King, Asquith were not likely to go to war on any account. In the first place, they had ceased to be a martial nation. They had grown rich and lazy, and their desire was to enjoy the luxury and comfort their wealth would have brought them. Next, they had a great war on their hands in India. There, they had only a very small army to control, and the men-at-arms would take them at least a year to train into anything like fighting form. Finally, I added, they had grown so unmilitary that they allowed even women (suffragettes) to intimidate them.

"I have told you," said Lichnowsky, "that my report must have influenced the decision of the emperor in forcing the war. So you see what my fate is to be."

On his return to London immediately after, Admiral Hood reported Prince Lichnowsky's statement to several persons, and also to others, to a Harvard professor of diplomatic history, who has published it to me soon after he came back to Cambridge. Admiral Hood's report of "Germany versus Coalition" more than two years ago, but I did not give Admiral Hood as its source because I was not sure of its reception in the British navy. He went down with his ship, the Audacious, in the early battle of Jutland, and there can be no hesitancy in naming him as the source.

In the light of such evidence, how long will some of the Germans persist in believing the lie which the kaiser passed on to them at the beginning of the war when he asserted, then that the sword had been forced into his hands? — By William Roscoe Thayer, in the New York Times.

Hoarding of Food Stuffs

Order Will Not Work Hardship or Inconvenience Unnecessarily

Farmers may be reassured that there is no intention on the part of the authorities to inconvenience them in any way in taking measures to meet necessary restrictions and regulations as regards the hoarding of foodstuffs.

An order of the Canada food board recently issued is designed to prevent persons from having in their possession at any one time more than 15 days' supply of flour, unless such supply is stored in a warehouse, mill or elevator. The order does not affect the ordinary household, nor does it apply to any one then having in his possession not more than two miles and not less than five miles from a warehouse, mill or elevator. Soldiers of the Soil

In the Prairie Provinces the Proportion of Boys Engaged is Over Ninety Per Cent.

Approximately two boys out of every three who have volunteered as Soldiers of the Soil movement in the British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan to food production, farmers and ranchers being assisted to secure the requisite help. Latest figures available show that out of 1,800 boys enlisted only 513 have been engaged. In the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the proportion of boys engaged is over ninety per cent. Of the 1,800 boys enlisted only 513 have been engaged. In the three prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta the proportion of boys engaged is over ninety per cent.

In the prairie provinces the demand is about equal to the supply. Farmers have asked for 1,000 boys in Saskatchewan, 1,110 out of 1,221, and in Alberta 1,600 out of 1,800. In Ontario it is estimated that 1,700 boys will be distributed before the end of 1918. The Y.M.C.A. men will supervise the work of Protestant boys, while the Roman Catholic boys will be looked after by the clergy. Every boy will be visited by some one interested in his welfare.

"Has your wife registered for war work?"

"Yes."

"What branch of service would she be best at?"

"I don't know just what it is she volunteered to do, but if there's a speeding car in the performance department she'd be a right at home there."—Hamilton Herald.

Foch At the Marne

Victory Credited to Tactics Not Famous Soldier.

My first acquaintance with General Foch, if I may count an incident which was one of his friends, I was Chaucer Chaucer's chauffeur station to the east of Paris, soon after the battle of the Marne. I had walked nearly 30 miles from a little village on by the River Aisne, and was hungering back to Paris to find a telegraph office to send a report, my own, which was a full budget, back to London. I was fortunate to have caught the train, crowded in every carriage with refugees and returning refugees. I found myself comfortably seated in a first class carriage with a military general. Everyone everywhere was discussing "the miracle of the Marne," and the old officer and I joined the stream. He had been in the thick of it. He discussed it with me, and I with him, especially the hour when he heard the first report of his fifty-mile flight to the Duke of Connaught at the headquarters of the British expeditionary force of Canada. The hour was brought the miracle of the Marne.

HON. T. D. PATULLO

"Fantastical," he said, "the final victory was due to General Foch."

"Foch?" I said. "Foch? I heard nothing about Foch. Was he conspicuous in my ignorance being a little sure, in the battle? Was he sent out and he was very loud.

"Foch," said the officer, "Foch," and drew me a little diagram, "saw a bad position, at the point of the centre. There was a weak spot, though the British were holding on on the general's wings. He thrust his guns up to the point of the centre and held the wedge with his infantry. Those battles," he added, "have played called the Germans so unscientifically that they have not yet quite realized," he added, "how I seen what I have seen in the field of battle. The was the second occasion that the British army, reduced to not a battalion strong, cut and ran as the Germans thought, and emerged from only a four hundred yard range. It is described by Mr. Ralph D. Paine Thomas, in Harper's Magazine for

Food Board Regulations

Duty and Privilege of the Provinces to Enforce Federal Laws

Enforcement of the Canada food regulations in the provinces where no organization has been placed in charge of food control is the privilege of the municipalities and of the different provincial governments.

It is the duty and privilege of the provincial food controller to see that the orders of the Canada food board are carried out in his province. He has passed upon authority of orders issued by the Canada food board, as published in the Canada Gazette. It is the duty of the provincial food controller to see that these orders are carried out in his province. Each province has a food controller, and in addition to these there are others throughout the Dominion to whom application may be made for explanations regarding our food supply and the measures taken to conserve it.

At this time of the world's food crisis, when the people of the allied countries are threatened with death as compared to 4,000,000 soldiers, the Canadian people are asked to do what is beyond cavil or dispute the right thing, namely, to conserve our food supply. Indeed many people in some of the countries of Europe, notably in France (but not Canada) regard the conservation of food as a religious duty, on the other side are modern-minded people who look upon it as a duty based upon economics in these restrictions are not to be regarded as a hardship, most of them by the adverse of the war.

In cases of convictions reported by the food controller, the Canada food board is empowered to publish the names of the persons convicted, and the nature of the offence. This is a power which is expected to be used only in extreme cases, the reasons for certain varieties of irregularities, although by constant observation of the city of Nelson for the past year, I have not seen any

ISLAY MAN SEVERELY INJURED AT EDMON'N

After knocking down and seriously injuring Alfred A. Muncaster, hotel keeper of Islay, the occupants of an automobile driven by John Antoniuk jumped from the car, it is alleged by the police, and made their escape. The accident occurred at the corner of Jasper Ave and 100th St. at 4.15 Sunday night. Muncaster, when struck, was knocked 30 or 35 feet, and was later driven to the Royal A's motor hospital by George Johnson, a youth of fourteen.

The police have arrested Antoniuk and are holding him pending an investigation. The police have the names of the other occupants of the car. At the hospital it was found that Muncaster was badly cut and bruised, but not seriously injured. —Edmonton Bulletin.

Brown Indians With Transparent Line to Come Trouble

How to Go Bankrupt

Some Plain Facts For American Women

Has Got to Throw Herself Into War With Desperate Energy

It is a wholesome and awakening thing to look possibilities straight in the face.

It weakens the other stand to ignore them, to refuse to consider them. We cannot lose this war because we cannot bear to lose it. We must not break the British line. We must not break the British spirit. And they have Uncle Sam's word for it that they shall not. "Where you think he goes after," he says, "I will go, if that kind of a life—too much of it."

Our own women and children are very sold literally that we can not lose it.

We have lost it in the East. We have lost it in Belgium. We have lost it in the West.

The West is now a month of months. The issue has been decided on the battle front. The single factor on a single front is the lost of men.

If we are not to lose the war we must have more men. Not only must more aeroplanes and more rescues be sent to the front, but more men must be sent. Never was it truer that the battle is to the strong.

Let us have done with debating whether we can win the war. Let us concentrate merely because our existence as a free people and all our traditions are glorious.

Let us concentrate ourselves with the mass thought that if we do not win the war we lose all. The issue was so forcing with the Canadian women at the Red Cross meeting that no one noticed the time. Each one was determined to finish every bandage, every garment, every stitch of work she had undertaken before she left the room.

Not a single dropped hook checked the true drive of the needles. Not a single ball of wool fell from the lap to the floor. Not a single drop fell from the eyes of the women.

A Canadian woman is a fighter. She is a fighter in the morning and she will be a fighter at night—when the news is private and not to nervous strain. Her husband, her son, her brother, her friend, is in the trenches. He must be all that and more. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and thought I would try it. My circumstances were left me. I stood on and feel fine in the morning and go to my work. I greatly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. Ernest Dickins, 604 Chestnut St., Racine, Wisc.

If you want health and strength among women, I am so sorry. I can not close," or "I seem so tired I should lie." Such women should be told by Mrs. Sutter's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

For sixty years it has been overcoming such ailing conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, pain, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration, of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

Economizing on Meat

People are Consuming More Meat Than Is Desirable from Health Standpoint

Last year the average consumption of protein in meat, milk, eggs, beef and cereals in the United States was 89 grams per day, while 6 oz more than enough for most people, but babies, old people, and those who are ill, do not, of their own share, and the poor do not get theirs, so the middle ones are called between 100 and 150 grams per day. All of which means that Americans consuming 80 grams of protein daily are actually getting about 20 grams more than we have capacity for. Physiologists tell us that we just have to stay umon until a hard crowd and healthy digestion and not to looking around for some scientific way to get rid of the surplus. Meat, as a rule, it is too late to apologize for it, and when the bills are not forthcoming, and are sold before a year. Why not benefit ourselves and institute meatless days as well as the other suppliers for the cause.

In the Garden

Some Short Cuts to Success in the Growing of Vegetables

The best way to get intense industriousness is to grow it in cold weather. Then the seeds are seeded on the frame; but the boards seem to protect the young plants from the winds, and they thrive better than in the open ground. The squash bugs are the worst pests to deal with, because it works under the surface of the soil and is touched with poison. There is a method of getting rid of this insect. You simply send to bury the stems, as soon as the vines begin to wilt. The insects will then be thrown out of it's paths and will be unable to get to grow, even though part of the vine is left.

The above often gives to pick all the vegetables in the garden when they are set with dew or so that they will not be injured by insects. Brown should never be handled when they are wet with dew or rain, as there is no quicker way to injure the plants. Potatoes, too, should never be dug when they are damp, as it would crack when they are thrown into the sacks and bruise when they are put in the cellar.

The Pill That Lends Them All—

Pills are the most portable and convenient form of medicine, but it is best to take one that is not only going to help your system, but will also help your blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most popular pills on the market to-day because they do all that they claim to all requirements. Accurately compounded, they are the best of all blood-enriching pills, and for all disorders proven to be effective. In the spring they are especially valuable, as they are a tonic and a blood purifier as well as a nerve medicine to be had anywhere.

Long Range Gun a Toy

Its Results Laughable Compared to Effects of Power Artillery

Killing off a few thousand people every fifteen minutes with a long range gun is all very well as far as it goes, but it is not business. Such trifles are not worth the attention of the men who are running the war. Their minds are given to the heavy artillery operations which are now in progress, and which are causing huge range toy toils. That is the kind of thing that is worth considering.

Hundreds of lorries and engines in this district found on requisitioned land, and the whole countryside is covered with the debris of the battle of fighting men. A large number of these machines are totally captured, confined to the ruins of the villages in which they were found because of the violent transformation which has taken place in the interior of the country. At night we can hear the sound of the guns, and all our men were going and in that direction.

Another, a very young lad, came to us, saying, "Where is the front, Sir?" I am still on sentry." What is the front, Sir?" I am still on sentry." What is the front, Sir?" I am still on sentry." What is the front, Sir?" I am still on sentry."

A German battery commander describes the massive firing of the French guns and the terrific destruction wrought. The fire of an 8-inch battery can be concentrated on each 100 to 150 yards of our trenches. "Every 15 minutes a shell from a heavy battery arrives, and after a half hour's bombardment there is not a trench left. Dug-outs and shelters are gone, and the men are lying about in the open. Then the infantry attack, and there is no more defense."

The terror of fighting men caused by bombardments from 380 mm. guns from these letters. With it comes the global reception of the French range number by the Parisians, and the future of the Germans in the trenches.

Hats Off to Canada

Spirited Answer to the Call of Civilization, Liberty and Enduring Peace

Mr. Root showed his customary keen perception of the historic significance of events when, at Toronto recently, he said: "We have to-day a country which has not sold military service in France; which has not stood aside while the best blood of Canadians was poured out; which has not left to others those three pass by. The response of Canada to the call of duty and has not merely the respect, but the admiration of the world. It was a brave, an instant, a most splendid response to the call of civilization, liberty and that enduring peace of the world. Canada has not based only on the triumph of right over wrong. It has not sold its birthright for any bargain, nor question. She responded, as Canada has responded, and the blows which she has struck against a power which has proved to be her enemy quite as much as hers for year. Why not benefit ourselves and institute meatless days as well as the other suppliers for the cause.

Keeping Milk Sweet

Thunder Storms Won't Sour Milk That Is Properly Cared For

There is a widespread belief that thunder, or lightning, or both, is responsible for souring milk after a severe electrical storm, with that should have been meant is found to have soured. This is not so, and a moment's thought should be attributed to the thunder storm. It is the heat during the storm that is responsible. The writer which results from bacterial growth in unstrained milk, will not occur in a thunder storm. Neither will it occur in the case of the cooling storm as this kind unless the cream is left in the milk. Remember that sour milk organisms are destroyed by heat, and that milk should be heated to 150 degrees F. and kept there for 20 minutes.—W. Agricultural College.

Influx of Settlers

Land Buyers are Flocking to Southern Alberta

With the completion of soldier operations in the middle and northern States, there has been a rush of land buyers into Southern Alberta, which lady fair to rival that of the early months of 1912. In the month of February and the whole of March 1,000 settlers arrived in Lethbridge alone. One of the largest that has been recorded in any month, 1,000 acres changed hands every day. Many of these purchased by settlers who have been in the district for some time, but the majority are all those recently arrived from the United States. Many of these are farmers who have sold out their holdings at high prices, and are now investing the large sums realized in land which can be had at a comparatively low price. Many of the settlers are from Iowa, Illinois and Minnesota, and are bringing with them considerable.

Hundreds of horses and cattle in this district found, on requisitioned land, and the whole countryside is covered with the debris of the battle of fighting men. WORDS OF PRAISE FOR BABY'S OWN TABLETS

No medicine exercises such great power over the little ones as do Baby's Own Tablets. Once a mother has proved their worth she will never be without them. The Tablets are a child but thoroughly laxative. They regulate the bowels and stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; cure colds and simple fevers; promote healthful sleep and make teething easy. Mrs. Joseph Hews, Upper Falls, Que., writes:—"I am well satisfied with Baby's Own Tablets and have always found them to do the cures." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Beating the Hounds

"Hicks promised to give his wife a new dress when he spends for cigars."

"Does does it work?"

"First rate. You see we meet every week at the club to play bridge and I lose him the cigars." — Boston Transcript.

Miller's Worm Powders, being so deemed everywhere, can be got at the druggists' or dealers at very small cost. They are a standard remedy for worms of children, and may be fully relied upon to expel worms from the system and avoid suffering that worms cause. These are the powders that every mother should have available as effective a remedy as can be given to their children.

Keeping Milk Sweet

Thunder Storms Won't Sour Milk That Is Properly Cared For

There is a widespread belief that thunder, or lightning, or both, is responsible for souring milk after a severe electrical storm, with that should have been meant is found to have soured. This is not so, and a moment's thought should be attributed to the thunder storm. It is the heat during the storm that is responsible. The writer which results from bacterial growth in unstrained milk, will not occur in a thunder storm. Neither will it occur in the case of the cooling storm as this kind unless the cream is left in the milk. Remember that sour milk organisms are destroyed by heat, and that milk should be heated to 150 degrees F. and kept there for 20 minutes.—W. Agricultural College.

Allied Fleets Keep Sea Safe

Ralph D. Paine, U. S. Novelist, Says U. S. Naval Men Still Hope for Real Fight With Germans

Stories of American, British and French sea fighters in action were told in the Morgan library to a company of guests of J. P. Morgan, including a large number of officers in the three navies, by Ralph D. Paine, the novelist, who has visited the warships under government authorization, to prepare a book called "The Fighting Fleet."

Mr. Paine told of the inactivity of the grand fleet," he said, "but the fact is that the German navy does not dare to venture out in force in the North sea, and again and again we hear stories that the German high seas fleet is coaling and coaling, and every officer and man in the fleet knows it is considered that some day they will actually catch the Germans. Mr. Paine told also of a visit to the fastness where the fleet left its base in the north of Scotland between midnight and dawn in response to a wireless call. The Germans were ahead. They came through a channel left wide open by mistake, and it is before the war could be closed. The Germans got away, but the British fleet have learned to do the impossible. Sir Andrew Wilson told of his agent to talk of anything else, but he was not to the end of the war that Laura managed, rather sharply to be sidetracked by the topic.

"You know Mr. Clayton Kenyon before you married me, my dear, didn't you?" she asked suddenly.

"I knew good old Clay—quite well," We were at school together, though he is two years senior to me," Sir Anthony replied, looking puzzled. "I don't see him for ages, till he rolled up at Number Nineteen one evening. He was in particular friend of yours, Miss Garland?"

"Hardly that," was the reply, although he insisted on calling me Laura. I think he is most awfully interesting. It seems to me that he has got on gets his living by the law should be called to the Bar at the end of night of his life."

"Come to think of it it is queer," Sir Anthony assented carelessly. "But Kenyon was always a queer fish. He by got the sack from school for being in with the Socialists. Jolly good man. Gads, too! My word, he was the finest boxer I ever saw. He was nineteen. I was his fag, and used to have to put on the gloves with him. Then he went ashore for the Christmas holidays, and came back with his nose brought back drunk."

Russia Revives Slavery

Terrible Indictment Against the Bolshevik Government

Utter demoralization marks the path of the Russian revolution, and today many workers' radicals who were hailed as revolutionaries are making a little ingenuity for the days that are to come. No words can be unable to credit some of the reports that come out of Russia. A hundred times in the report of the treaty between Germany and Russia, the Bolshevist against the Bolsheviks gave away the secrets of the Russian defenses to the spy of that individual nation. Russia is now in a state of radical degradation, the Petrograd Novoye Vremya says:

"All observers of the village interior are unanimous in their opinion that the process of disintegration and of the transition to anarchy is going on irresistible force. Mutiny produces mutiny, and the example of one regiment is followed by another. Not a single day passes without the receipt of telegrams announcing that measures have been taken to punish the mutinous regiments. Not a single day passes without the receipt of telegrams announcing that the mutinous regiments have refused to obey the orders of their officers. In some cases the mutinous regiments have murdered all the available officers, in others the peasants, having had enough of the war, have driven the officers into it in order not to share it with the others. Desertion on this score has reached a terrible pitch, and in some places the peasants have risen in arms against all and in the most ferocious manner have murdered all officers they have met.

"Famine is coming on apace. In Petrograd, Moscow, Kieff, and other towns bread is already being issued in small quantities. Even in the provinces the supply is very scanty, and in many places there is no bread at all. In Petrograd the bread ration is only a quarter of a pound per head per day, and in Moscow it is even less. Many towns are entirely without bread, and in some places the people are living on the reserves of grain which they had stored up for seed. Famine is also making itself felt in the matter of fuel, and in many towns the people are freezing in their houses. Many factories have had to close down owing to the impossibility of obtaining fuel. Even the railways are suffering from the lack of fuel, and the transport of foodstuffs is consequently rendered more difficult than ever. Epidemics are also raging in many parts of the country, and the mortality is very great. Typhus, cholera, and smallpox are the most prevalent diseases. Medical assistance is practically unobtainable, as the doctors refuse to leave their homes, and the hospitals are closed. Cases of robbery and murder are of daily occurrence, and in many districts the peasants have risen against all and sundry, and have murdered all those who have fallen into their hands. Many districts are in a state of complete anarchy, and the peasants are fighting among themselves. Ingram's Milkweed Cream

There is Beauty in Every Jar

Many women look after their hairs simply to get rid of dandruff and prevent loss of their complexions. Ingram's Milkweed Cream keeps the hair healthy, prevents dandruff and the complexion from becoming sallow. It keeps the pores of the individual clean and active, and prevents the radical changes which cause the Principal Wrinkles.

ITALIANS ADVANCE IN ALBANIA—BRITISH REPULSE LOCAL ATTACKS

The expected effort of the enemy to launch his forces in a supreme effort to smash the western front, is still held in suspense, and for the week encouragements on local points of more or less intensity have prevailed with heavy artillery fire.

The Italian troops are continuing their advance in Albania and have beaten the Austrians on both sides of the Osum river.

The British have repelled local attacks east of Villers Bretonneux and French have taken prisoners in raids.

HOG EXPORTS $200,000

Establish A Record For This District

Total revenue from the export from the Vermilion district for the year 1917 amounted to approximately $200,000, according to shipping returns taken from the freight office in Vermilion. It is estimated that the hog exports amounted to nearly $200,000, and is the best ever recorded in the history of the district.

During the year 1917 the Vermilion district quite held it's own in spite of the dried up crops. This was due to the mixed mixed farming lines on which most of our farmers have been working since the beginning, so the drought did not let us badly as in a straight grain growing district. In fact the good prices prevailing for livestock and particularly hogs kept the farmers all a little ahead. It was a fine year for the cattlemen, dairying also showed an appreciable advancement.

Over 1917 showed a total cut for sheep, the wool clip aggregating 28,000 pounds and realizing $22,000. The demand for good work horses was also quite strong.

The revenue as estimated is from the following sources: Grain headed, $280,000; cattle sold, $200,000; hogs sold, $180,000; sheep and wool, $41,000.

The district offers a splendid opportunity for mixed farming. There is plenty of water and range with small capital and proper management there is nothing to prevent continued steady progress for the proper type of settler.

SUPREME ALLIED WAR COUNCIL IS CONFIDENT OF ULTIMATE SUCCESS

ALLIED ARMIES DISPLAY STEADFAST COURAGE

Are Resolute In the Determination Not To Sacrifice a Single One Of the Free Nations Of the World To the Despotic Rule of Kaiserism

The supreme war council, which has had under advisement the entire war situation, has expressed in its official statement made public, full confidence in the outcome of the war with the aid of the American forces. Complete confidence in General Foch is also expressed, and Canada are extended to Premier Wilson for his co-operation in the United States and bring its full American troops.

The supreme war council held its sixth session under circumstances of great gravity for the cause of free peoples," says the statement issued. The German attack on the front of 50 kilometres on the eastern front of the British army and on the front of 60 kilometres on the front of the French army, has developed all its effects. The most it is now seeking is a point of success in Europe in advance of defensive and could assemble under the auspices of which the United States can bring into full activity its military power.

"The advantage it possesses in its strategic position and superior initiative facilities has enabled the enemy to succeed in gain some initial successes. It will undoubtedly renew its attacks, and the battle of the allied nations will expected to critical days.

"After a review of the whole position, the supreme war council is convinced that the allied armies, bracing the trials of the forthcoming months with the most fortunate spirit, they have ever exhibited in defence of the cause of all the free nations, purpose and in due manner being determined to gain some initial successes. It will undoubtedly renew its attacks, and the battle of the allied nations will be fought out to the end. The allied armies will be reinforced the heartiest of the allied armies and are working accordingly with all energy. The supreme war council has complete confidence in General Foch. It regards with pride and admiration the valor of the allied armies.

"Thanks to the prompt and energetic co-operation of the president of the United States, the arrangements which were set on foot more than two months ago for the transportation and equipment of American troops will make it impossible for the enemy to retrieve by victory before the full American power has been exerted.

"The German government has declared that the military events, and the allied peoples are determined and to accept a single one of the free nations of the world to the despotic rule of Berlin. Their armies are displaying an same resolution, the spirit which has enabled them on many previous occasions to defeat a German enemy. They have only to redouble their efforts and fight on to the end to make victory for freedom certain.

"The free peoples and their magnificent soldiers will soon vindicate."

Hail Losses

Saskatchewan's Experience Better in 1917 Than in 1916

Losses by hail last year by the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association were $1,000,000 less than compared with losses of $3,000,342 in 1916, of which fourteen and a half per cent, or $1,000,000 was paid. Assessments were $2,500,000 in 1916 and $500,000 in 1916. The 1917 revenue will be $1,000,000 or about $500,000 less than the previous year. Thus the association will have a big surplus to allow for outside of August. A heavy loss of twenty cents on the total assessment is provided.

The convention of the Insurance Association held in Moose Jaw last month, resolved to increase the rate from ten to fifteen cents per acre when declared, but it was resolved to reduce the flat rate of four cents per acre, but under an automatic sended average rate. Under the better scheme all municipalities will come under the Municipal Hail Insurance Act, but any farmer may withdraw upon giving notice to the secretary-treasurer of the municipality prior to June 1 in any year.

At the convention, F. G. Hinsley, secretary of the association, in reply to a question, said that the agents of municipal hail insurance at present would not ask a rate from the farmers, but would be supplied by the secretary-treasurer of the municipality prior to June 1 in any year.

At the convention, F. G. Hinsley, secretary of the association, in reply to a question, said that the agents of municipal hail insurance at present would not ask a rate from the farmers, but would be supplied by the secretary-treasurer of the municipality prior to June 1 in any year.

Zeebrugge Harbor Practically Closed

Large Dredger Has Been Identified Inside the Breakwater

The sinking of the old cruisers at the Belgian submarine base at Zeebrugge is confirmed, the Germans have taken by the British navy to blockade the harbor, and that more than has been believed heretofore. The Germans have not yet left the place where that the entrance of the harbor is completely closed, and that accordingly the British effort to bottle up the enemy craft there has been successful.

The destruction of the Germans' Antwerp base by the British navy on St. George's day, April 23, 1918, is confirmed by the official report of the Belgian admiralty. The

"It is obviously an elementary precaution to build up as large a reserve of food as possible in an Island which is menaced by sub-marine blockade. No such reserve is yet in sight and there should be no slackening in Canadian efforts to provide foodstuffs for the Mother Country." Late Viscount Rhondda.

It is estimated that 400,000,000 people in Europe are short of food. In Poland, Finland, Servia, Armenia and Russia, millions are actually dying of starvation and other millions are suffering from under nutrition, while still others are living on the barest possible margin.

Each provincial committee of the Canada Food Board has been asked to prepare a voluntary rationing plan for private homes, to be submitted to the Canada Food Board for endorsation.

HEAVY CUTS ON LIGHT CATTLE

To Discourage Slaughter of Immature and Unfinished Animals

It is reported that at a meeting composed of representatives of packing interests, the British Purchasing Agent and the Food Control Board, it was decided that the food situation is such that the slaughter of immature and unfinished cattle should be discouraged in every way possible.

One of the means adopted, and the one that hits back at the farmer, was the decision by the British Purchasing Agent that no carcasses will be accepted that weigh less than 560 pounds. That act limits the sale of light and unfinished cattle to the local market, and is very likely to result in a heavy cut on cattle of that class.

It is not too late for the farmer who by pasture is short to pasture himself again at least. If he has a piece of unmown fallowed land or of breaking, and his district has been favored with good rain, he can sow dwarf Essex rape or white turnips during the first half of July and promise thanks of during the last of September and month of October. By so doing, many an animal can be brought to the required weight and increased in price as well.

The heavy weights and high prices bring the large returns, while the light weights and heavy cuts in price destroy.

LOCAL NEWSPAPER HAS MUCH VALUE

In "News of Retail Merchants," a feature in the Edmonton Journal, conducted by the Publicity Bureau of the Alberta-Saskatchewan branches of the retail merchants association of Canada, the following timely article appears:

"The average retailer fails to comprehend the inestimable boon a local paper can be to him. Fortunately, or unfortunately, it would be hard to say which is last. We are familiar with many difficulties which confront many a retailer in this connection. We are well aware that many provincial weekly papers are papers in name only. But the merchants can themselves after much of this, and when it is clearly demonstrated to the inconsistent editor or owner that it will pay him to adopt a different method of affairs reform usually follows.

"Assuming, however, that the local newspaper is of the average one, there is not the shadow of a doubt that it can be used most profitably by the local merchant. A little discrimination, a little intelligent thought, and a very little effort is all that is necessary to so lay your claims before the public, that you will soon find it pays handsomely to your local paper, even though it does not progress your ideas of what a twentieth century paper ought to be.

Benefits to Merchants

"There are many ways in which the local newspaper can be of inestimable benefit to the local merchant. Seldom is it that a local can be conceded for a moment that because you say so, your local paper is not an excellent advertising medium. Do not ever allow any one to persuade you that such a ridiculous statement bears even the semblance of truth. If you advertise sensibly you take your new paper into your confidence when doing so, you will speedily discover that it is a power for good as well as a certain, element to the most onlookers.

SPEED BATTLES

FRIDAY NIGHT AND SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Ten of Most Famous Drivers on Circular Track to Compete for $3000 Race Prizes

Edmonton, July 9th: Manager W. J. Stark of the Edmonton Exhibition has held off the big feature of the 1918 fair until the final days, when the automobile races will be held. The speed battles are announced for Friday night, July 12th, and Saturday afternoon, July 13th, and ten of the most famous drivers on the circular tracks and ten record holding cars will compete for $6,000 in prize money.

Among the entries are those of "Wild Bill" Endicott, dean of professional racers; Julee Ellingboe, champion of the northwest; Big Hogdahl, Scandinavian speed star; George "Texas" Clark, southern champion; Jimmy Tofi, Pacific Coast demon; Ben Gotolf, an European speedster; Verne Sonbe of Chicago; Bob Cline of Columbus, Ohio, Larry Doyle of Michigan and Leon Duray of New Orleans.

The record cars that will circle the track include a speedway Maxwell, a Hudson Super-Six racing creation; Reisco, Fiat, Case, National, Comet Six, Buffalo, Chevrolet Special and a U. S. A. Special. All of these cars on speedway trials have registered over 100 miles per hour. Canadian records are almost certain to be smashed when Endicott, Hogdahl, Ellingboe, Tofi, Duray and others turn loose their speed carts.

The International Motor Contest Association which sanctions and governs all the dirt track racing in Canada and the States, has sanctioned the Edmonton races. The auction money has been turned back to the various Exhibition Associations and it will be donated to the Red Cross.

Every Canadian city, town and village should have a farm labor office where volunteers, who have registered their willingness to help on farms, may get in touch with farmers needing help.

Crop Conditions on C.N.R

Winnipeg, July 10—The weekly report issued by the Canadian Northern railway of crop conditions along their line indicates a fair condition in Manitoba with a good deal better in Alberta and Saskatchewan. Drought and high winds continue to threaten failure in a number of districts along the Canadian Northern line.

Wedding Bells

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, Islay, on the evening of July 3rd when their second daughter, Ruby May was united in marriage to Mr. G. D. Travers of Carstairs. Only the immediate relatives were present.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe de chine with silk trimmings, and wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Pearl Barnes sister of the bride, and Miss Rachel Taggart were bridesmaids and were both attired in white silk with lace trimmings.

Rev. Mr. Cornett performed the ceremony after which the wedding supper was served.

SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH PIMPLES

Child Could Not Sleep Till Cuticura Healed.

"My little brother suffered for about two years from tiny red pimples. They appeared commonly on his body but he had the greatest trouble under his ears. The skin was red and very sore and at the worst times would be moist giving a heat of pain. After a few moments he would scratch and he was unable to sleep.

"A friend advised me to send for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I followed advice and I used three cakes of Cuticura Soap and four boxes of Ointment when he was healed." (Signed) Lottie Bean, 746 City Hall Ave., Montreal, Que., February 2, 1916.

Keep your skin clear by using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for everyday toilet purposes.

Japan Loyal To Allies

No Chance of an Alliance With Germany

There is little personal possibility of an alliance between Germany and Japan. Premier Count Terauchi told the Tokio correspondent of the London Daily Mail in an interview on the subject:

"I feel very earnestly that under the present circumstances there is no contingency as a German-Japanese alliance is reasonable. The statement I persons told his interviewer, who had brought the subject of such an alliance.

At the same time Count Terauchi believed the Japanese relations with Germany were the most friendly. The premier asked to be excused from saying more.

The premier said that the Japanese people regarded the present war in Europe as a struggle between civilization and barbarism, and that it was natural that they would lend them to an against the latter. He added that the Japanese had no fear of the consequences so far as their observation went, and that the war would end before long, as before the war, and that the Japanese had no fear of the result of the war. He did not anticipate the future, as the circumstances were changing every day.

The Kaiser's Latest

Order to Take No Prisoners and Give No Quarter

The latest fulmination of the lastnerk-defeated brain is the order that enough prisoners have been taken and that in future no quarter is to be given.

Nothing has been more conclusively shown by the food situation in Germany is desperate than this utterance, for the Hate would not kill the prisoners they could possibly take to produce both food and munitions. And they the necessary food to keep body and soul together is the unfortunate thing.

Nobody will deny that it would be better for a soldier to be badly murdered on the battlefield than to be carried a prisoner of war into a country where he is treated worse than a dog, and the principal effect of the order will be to make every soldier of the allies take the life of half a German lives as he can before the harvest of a soul-destroying captivity is reached.

In the final settlement this brutal order will cause adjustments, and the public execution of all the German officers who fall into the hands of the allies, and they number many thousands, will be a fitting reprisal for the dastardly order, were reprisals not barbarous in a fixed policy.—Winnipeg Telegram.

By His Own Order

The man who does his local paper to the tune of a few year's subscription is never happy, contented or prosperous in his undertakings—this is what an old newspaper man told the editor of this paper when he was quite a young chap. Just whether his classification of the type mentioned is true or otherwise, we won't say, but there's a chance for repentance by straightening up—even at the eleventh hour.

War Savings Stamps Coming

Canadian Government Is Contemplating Their Introduction

War savings stamps, which have been in use in the United States for some time past, are to be issued to the Canadian public. The announcement has just been made by the Government in connection with the new war loan. The stamps will be in denominations of twenty-five cents, fifty cents, one dollar and five dollars, and will be issued through the post offices.

It is expected that the stamps will be used largely by the school children, and that they will be encouraged to buy them in small amounts at frequent intervals. The stamps will be issued in such a way that they will not lose their value, but will increase in value at the rate of five per cent. per annum, compounded quarterly. The stamps will be redeemable at any time after one year from the date of issue, and will be accepted at par value in payment of income tax or excess profits tax.

ANY CORN LIFTS OUT. DOESN'T HURT A BIT
No toothpaste! Lift your corns and callouses off with fingers —it's like magic!

Just drop some ether on that corn, tender, sore, aching corn, and instantly the pain is gone, then you lift the corn right off with the fingers. It's almost unbelievable.

Your feet will hardly realize they have corns after applying this ether. Not a sting or smarting, not a tenderness at all.

You think that sore corn can get a small bottle of freezone at any drug store, which will positively cut corn's toe or finger callous off without pain.

This simple drug dries the moment it is applied and one can even wear tight shoes the surrounding skin while applying or after applying.

This evanescent gift informs those who have corns that the inventor has got hold of something that will take off every hard or soft corn or callous without doing more than to make you forget it ever existed.

Freezone is sold by druggists everywhere in America, but the present supply will be exhausted in a few days, so if you have a corn or callous to remove, you should get a small bottle at once.

They Too, Carry On

Angels of Mercy in Constant Peril, Unknown, Unhonored and Unsung

"The greatest horror of the war is no mind," writes an American correspondent, "save those in the noncombatant branch. What time, brain and body can endure, with never a murmur, they carry, carry, carry those who have been hurt in the battle, have no protection, and be screened, they are marched to the front over acres of shell-torn ground, bearing their wounded comrades to the dressing stations.

"In every line are men bound to hold upon war and see the lighter game of the battle. For long months at a stretch they are the burying of shell and the digging of trenches. Their days are filled with the grim work of war, and their nights with the grimmer work of peace. They are the unsung heroes of the war. They are the men who, when the battle is over, must go out into the field of carnage and bring in the wounded and the dead. They are the men who, when the battle is on

Every Farmer Needs a Ford
THE Motor Car is a greater convenience to the average farmer than the telephone, the rural mail or even the grain binder.
The binder which is considered as a very useful implement is rarely used more than a few days during the entire year. The rest of the time it stands idle, taking up space, while the automobile is available for use throughout all seasons, and both day and night.
It is ever ready to run down the lane to the back field or the pasture with a parcel or a message, or take you and your family to town for shopping purposes—or on an errand to the neighbors.
The motor car is called upon whenever anything is wanted in a hurry. It is the most useful implement or convenience for the farm. It helps you conserve your energies and time for productive work and enables you and your family to accomplish more with less energy. You surely feel the need of a Ford. Why not order one today?

The Rev. W. I. Wright has gone to Charlottetown, P.E.I., to attend Grand Orange Lodge of British North America, which will be in session next week.

A. K. Somerville of Sherbrooke, P.Q. is the guest of R. L. Craig, town. Mr. Somerville has been travelling through the west owing to poor health. He is most favorably impressed with conditions prevailing throughout the Vermilion district, which he states excel anywhere he has been.

At a mass meeting of nearly two thousand women in Vancouver the pledge was made to conform exactly to the requirements of the Canada Food Board and to apply the restrictions and regulations to their own homes. Furthermore it was "especially resolved to discountenance any social functions which promote the consumption of wheat products, pork, sugar and fats."

An enjoyable picnic was held on Wednesday last on the grounds of Wm. Telford, northeast of town. There was a good attendance and everybody returned in the evening in readiness over the splendid time supplied by Mr and Mrs. Telford opened no pains to make the outing a pleasure to all present.

The fourth annual picnic at Lamoureux, is to be held on Wednesday July 24th. Large posters with the program of sports, are out. The big list of events will conclude with a dance in the Hall in the evening. The proceeds of the picnic are to be devoted for patriotic purposes.

The now famous case of Board vs Board, an action for divorce, and which will probably reach the Privy Council is of interest to this district in that the parties resided at one time at Stawo where Board filed on a homestead. Subsequently they removed to town and started a Rooty here going from here to Vegreville, and then to Edmonton.

In the interests of the Y.M.C.A., a most successful meeting followed by a dance was held on the 5th inst. in the Gaston district. The affair was organized by the local Red Cross Circle in aid of the Red Triangle Funds. Accommodation for the gathering was kindly provided by Mr. E. Murray whose spacious barn was filled by the large attendance. The speakers were introduced by Mr. John Gibson of Wilkesport. Kenneth Kelly, who was wounded at Vimy Ridge, gave a stirring and interesting account of his experiences, and of the splendid work done by the Y.M.C.A. at Sarcee Camp, in England and in France. His address was followed by an appeal from Rev. H.A. Edwards of Vermilion on behalf of the Y.M.C.A. and Soldiers Aid Commission. The sum of $145.00 was raised. Congratulations are due the Gaston Red Cross Circle and thanks to those who worked at the refreshment booth, and to all who contributed to the success of the evening.

200,000 AMERICAN TROOPS IN ACTION

In a counter offensive by General Foch, the German army has been driven back over the Marne and ejected from Chateau Thierry by the French American troops. Under combined pressure from French American forces the enemy was driven back Monday for miles from the west and three miles from the south.

In the abandoned positions of the Marne and Ourcq many of the enemy machine guns and 40 cannon, also two big guns.

While headway is still being made the Germans are resisting desperately with large reinforcements, the French troops having made progress along the river Marne to a maximum depth of eight miles.

PLANS FOR TRANSATLANTIC FLIGHT BY AIR ROUTE TO THE WAR FRONT

AMERICA TO BLAZE A NEW TRAIL TO EUROPE

United States' Full Power of Airplane Craft to be Brought Against The Huns, and Bombing Warfare into Germany Will Be Made on Large Scale

The entire resources of all our people are to be thrown into the United States in order to bring the full force of America to bear to beat Germany and end the war, has been decided upon by the Government of the United States, it was announced in Washington on May 18th. The announcement came after a conference of the President with his Cabinet and with Generals Pershing and March, chief of staff, and Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, who arrived in Washington from France on May 16th.

The announcement of the decision to put the full resources of the country behind the war was made by Secretary Baker, who said:

"The President, the Cabinet, General Pershing, General March and Admiral Benson have been in conference for several days. They have decided upon a programme which will be carried out with the utmost energy. The programme will be made public in detail as soon as it is completed, but I can say now that it contemplates the full use of the military and naval forces of the United States and the financial and industrial resources of the country in the most effective way to bring the war to a successful conclusion."

Secretary Baker said that the Conference had been a most important one, and that the programme decided upon was the result of the most careful consideration of the whole situation. He added that the President had been in close touch with the Allied Governments, and that the programme had the full approval of the Allied Governments.

Potatoes and Garden Stuff Hard Hit—Full Effect on Grain Unknown

A short starting from 7 to 10 degrees caught our practically all of the district Tuesday night, and the danger to grain will not be known for a few days, but it is feared that a large percentage will show the effects. Potatoes were hard and all garden truck was cut.

For a repetition the frost seems to have been pretty general all along the line as no snow or rain accompanied it.

Everything else is normal. Everybody should have a fresh appreciation of the men in charge of our grain for local men. Farmers want help, and it is the duty of every man and citizen to render it. The United States has called a million men to save the common harvest. Some of these men will doubtless be available in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba for the Canadian harvest. The Americans expect to help, but the great lack of the extra labour required on Canadian farms this year, will have to come from Canadian townsmen and cities.

To enable these men to be distributed when they do come forward, as by their Registration cards they have promised to do, they should be machinery ready and well organized. In some provinces the civil Government has established employment agencies. Every province might well have similar offices supplemented by voluntary organizations in every centre. Business men in this and every other Canadian town should become active in this matter because it vitally concerns them. Employers of labor should do everything in their power to arrange their work so as to release men who are willing to go to the aid of the farmers. Every encouragement should be given those men, for their work is of first importance. Farmers, of course, prefer experienced men, and men who have been brought up on farms to spend some weeks on the land should be sent. Encouragement to these few weeks of their time and the capital of their experience to the harvest of 1918. Extra men for the harvest are wanted in every province in British Columbia, some in Alberta, 6,000 to 7,000 in Saskatchewan, 20,000 in Manitoba, 10,000, Ontario 12,000, Quebec 2,000, New Brunswick 2,000, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island all men locally available.

Leading business men of every centre should get together in committee and open a farm labor bureau, where there are no officials. Have cards to be filled in, and where they should be sent to for the man who is going to go to the farm to get information as to how to reach his employer. There is coming soon to help the farmers of the United States who submit a million extra men to common harvest. Some of these men will doubtless be available in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba for the Canadian harvest. The Americans expect to help, but the great lack of the extra labour required on Canadian farms this year, will have to come from Canadian townsmen and cities.

Heroism at Sea Is Recognized

Rescue of Crew of Sinking Ship Showed Fine Seamanship

A thrilling story of heroism at sea was disclosed at presentations by the late Captain of the steamship Provision of Quebec and Lloyds to W. S. Rathbun, late chief officer of the steamship and Lord Kitchener.

While traversing the Atlantic on February 3rd Lloyd Kemp received the distress signal from the Peruvian steamship Iquitos, that a much more of the vessels had been lost. Not withstanding the high seas and the weather, the captain of the Provision turned steamship as fast as possible to the sinking vessel. Rathbun called for a volunteer crew, to which all hands, including the engineer and apprentice, responded. Despite the greatest difficulties, the Peruvian was boarded and the whole of the 36 members of the crew rescued.

The admirably authorities, in expressing appreciation of the fine seamanship and courage of all concerned, state their action is worthy of the best traditions of the British mercantile marine.

New Type of Unsinkable Ship Is Being Built in America

A new type of "unsinkable ship" is being built in America. It has become known that contracts for ten of the vessels have been let by the French government to an American firm. The design is the work of a Frenchman and embodies principles hitherto unknown, details of which are being kept secret.

Besides the minor improvement on the buoyance box system, tried out in the steamer Lusitania, the shipbuilding board has not undertaken any new efforts to frustrate the work of submarines torpedoes. Short of completely destroying the vessel, a number of bulkheads are to be built, each one being a unit.

Used Can Opener Upon Stray Mine

Farmer Took It For a New Kind of Bolshevik

A miniature story of how a South African farmer, finding an unexploded mine on the veld, proceeded with a can opener, and in the charge of exploding it, was related, and lived to tell the tale but not to brag about it.

The farmer was walking along the beach with his son when he found what he took to be a mine. It was one of bolder used in wireless telegraphy. Being a man of resource, he decided to gratify the curiosity of a child.

With a can opener he opened one of the cylinders. Then he handed it to his son, telling him to look inside. "It was fine." The boy reported, "but there is a lot of water in it." The farmer took the cylinder from the child and poured the contents into the sand. The mine exploded, killing the farmer and his son. The explosion was heard by a native who was working on the farm, and who, thinking that the farmer was trying to take it home, a neighbor, ran to the house and warned the family. They didn't know what a mine really was, but they knew a most deadly weapon when they saw it.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

American Authorities Much in Harness to Aid Farmers Relating to the War

Professors are always possible in the new United States. A New York farmer has invented a device which he claims will make a grain-sowing machine unnecessary. He has constructed a machine which he says will do much in one-tenth of the time it takes to sow broadcast.—Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Armageddon of the Air

Destruction Airplanes Might Achieve Means Benefits of Civilization

The terrible destruction which toxic gas recently thousand people, acting in concert, might achieve passes the power of the human imagination. With thousands of planes in readiness, hovering over the enemy lines, bombs could be blown out of the sky, large cities would be practically obliterated, and railways destroyed for hundreds of miles, so that all army supports would be completely ruined.

There is a grain of comfort in the thought that we owe the airplane to the world. Our ingenuity and organizing genius, backed by the vast resources of the United States, have made it possible for the world has ever known.—New York Tribune.

"And then," said Jasper Morgan, glancing askance at his unwelcome guest, "I shall have an exhibition of how a burglar can pry open himself."

"I am afraid that is only too good a joke, sir," Trevelyan replied respectfully. "You couldn't hang a cat on the ivy down to it, and I'm sure you have not set with his roots in the soil, so to speak."

Morgan had started to leave the pantry, but at Trevelyan's last words he way and looked back, his eyes fiercely searching his face. "Have you had the air of having only half heard, or half understood?"

"Still?" he demanded. "What the devil had you better do with it? Tell me what you mean. All right. Keep a still paper by."

His master having departed, Mr. Jervas set to work to help in the disorder in his sanctum, a crafty smile crossing his face as he overheard the wineglass used by Superintendent Meadows. Then he looked at his watch.

"One of the drawbacks of this Blewes Cornish coast is that you don't get your dinner-hour till the afternoon," he murmured. "I shan't get a moment to the Daily Lyre for an hour yet, and I'm rather keen on reading about the governor's argument with the police on the Oxford road. And what's the use of having a telephone about the soul I wonder?

The Fingari Ribbon

The party at Trenhawkwoman, standing in the stone porch of Merlyn Parva, could see the eyes and gazed along the moorland road. Ten times in as many minutes she had left her dressing to come to the door, and this time she was rewarded.

Two or three quarts of beef put away [illegible] will be a welcome variety, amount to something worth considering. Many families have the experience of having fresh home-canned meats in the cellar in the early summer

Try this! Just drop a little Freezone on a tender, aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right off with fingers. Not one cent! A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a corn, shrivels the corn instantly, then you lift the corn off without pain. Freezone is the discovery of a Cincinnati genius. Summer Storms

The Whole Subject of Thunderstorms Is Very Obscure

July and August are the favorite months for thunderstorms. This may be because by the beginning of the month a considerable amount of heat has been accumulated in the strata between the colder air above and the heat of the earth beneath, so an excess of electricity is generated. This added to the humidity which always exists in the earth and air between the two extremes for a combat between these great heat influences. Thunderstorms and hail find their bodement in the clouds, and on the earth's surface the meeting of these overcharged there in a collision between them. The whole subject of thunderstorms, however, is very obscure.

Sir Oliver Lodge not long ago proposed in contrast the weather by taking advantage of the existence of more than one electric forces in the air. He said that by sending up a kite charged with positive electricity it would be possible to produce dry weather; a kite charged with negative electricity would bring forth rain. This, however, has not been done yet, and rain, like thunder and lightning, occurs as it pleases.

What is thunder? What is lightning? How are they produced? What precisely are their dangers and how may these be avoided?

When, owing to various causes known by various cities, the clouds become saturated with electricity, they must discharge the over-plus with a flow. So they let it out on the portion of the earth's surface immediately below them. The cloud's electricity is of two positive and negative; one electricity would bring forth rain. This, however, has not been done yet, and rain, like thunder and lightning, occurs as it pleases.

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED London, Melbourne & Toronto

The funeral took place on the previous day, and there were no signs of any trouble in the house of the deceased family when he rang the bell. The blinds were all up, and from an open window came the click of billiard balls. Even that suave Londoner, opened to the visitor with a look of surprise and confusion, conducted him to the billiard room, where Jasper Morgan was leaning over the table for a difficult cannon. His opponent, a burly, red-nosed man in flashing check clothes, was chalking the cue ready.

"Hullo, Verrel!" he exclaimed. "You've got back, I hope? I posted it before I left. Thought you'd like to see the last of the—"

"Yes, I got the check and quite right it to your London address," said Archer, curtly, and he was annoyed, cooks out of an awkward predicament. After all, this must had just done his work. He was a good and prompt paymaster, on friendly with him. So he added, "This is a horrible business, Morgan. I need not say how sorry I am."

"I'll take that for granted," replied the tenant of the county. "At the same time you must excuse me if I don't interrupt my game yet."

The man was evidently annoyed with Archer for his intrusion, and with reason, no doubt, but the latter was not to be put off. "I'm afraid this must be attended to at once," he said, firmly. "Mr. Comlyn has been murdered, and I am here to arrest you for the crime."

"Murdered!" echoed Morgan, turning to him with a look of incredulity. "Why, I saw him myself only yesterday afternoon."

"I know why I have had to—"

"You must be mad, Archer," interrupted the man, angrily. "I tell you I saw him myself only yesterday afternoon."

"Then you can tell me what time it was," said Archer, quietly.

"Why, about half-past three, I should say."

"Where was it you saw him?"

"Here, in this very room. He came to see me on business."

"Was anyone else present?"

"No, we were quite alone."

"Did you leave him alive?"

"Of course I did. What do you mean by asking me such questions?"

"Because I have a warrant for your arrest on a charge of murdering him," said Archer, sternly.

Morgan stared at him for a moment with a look of blank astonishment, and then broke into a

Shell Shock Has Lost Its Terrors

Not Now Regarded Serious by the Allied Surgeons

Shell Shock is not now regarded as serious by the experienced British and French army surgeons. Their experience during the shell storm has not suffered by the best, physically sound soldiers, even though they are afflicted either have cerebral disorders or suffer from insomnia. Soldiers affected by shell shock are not sent to the rear for treatment. A report on these conclusions was given at a meeting of army doctors held in Paris.

The conclusions were addressed by Col. Thos. W. Salmon of the British army; Dr. Ernest P. Dupre, Dr. Pierre Marie and Dr. Joseph F. Babinsky, celebrated French neurologists.

Major General Sir John Rose Bradford, consulting physician with the British army in northern and eastern France, speaking on chest wounds, said that deaths from that cause had been considerably reduced by the use of new surgical methods of opening the chest for the removal of foreign matter carried into the body by the bullet. He described several techniques in the British army, selecting cases for treatment in accordance with them.

"Practically all the cases in the several surgical instruments for the treatment of chest wounds, and also the technique of operations were in the French service," he said.

Col. A. B. Salvesa of the British army and Professor Pierre Duval of the French hospital service also spoke.

It will stop sloughing, correct the bad odor and cause the sore to heal quickly. Apply a few drops of the pure oil and prepare a clean wax that has been made in the cooperated healer among oils and myriads of remedies for every ailment. Don't be misled where other oils failed utterly.

The American press is doing its bit in the struggle to maintain confidence between the two countries. Everett P. Scott, assistant to United States Secretary of War Baker, officially declared that the first draft there were 72,6,38 negro registrants, and plans for re-employment were very few.

Farmers in Business

Commercial Activity of the Farmers in Western Canada

The commercial activity of the farmers is a big factor in the business of Western Canada. Through their co-operative institutions they operate 900 country elevators in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba; two large public terminals; two large provincial terminals, and are marketing about one third of the crop all three. three grain producing provinces. Before the war one of these institutions was classed among the largest wheat exporting firms on the continent, and this branch of its organization is now in the service of the allied governments. Two of the farmers' organizations distribute commodities used on the farm, and a business of over $2,000,000 annually is transacted. In addition the farmers have $2,000,000 invested in a printing and publishing plant, employing 150 people; they own hundreds of stockyards and flour warehouses; several large machinery warehouses and a number implement factories. They own 1,000 cars of live-stock, and have erected 1,000 buildings and stores. They have 1,200 telephones in use, and are capitalized for nearly $3,000,000 with reserves totalling $1,500,000. The assets of the farmers' companies are over over $12,000,000.

Daylight Saving

On the Farm Things are Taking the Even Tenor of Their Way

In the country on many of the farms, time is regulated by the old standard. This is said to be largely because the farmers do not get an hour earlier under the daylight saving scheme, and it seems that the farmers are not making any fuss about the matter. Others say that the farmers are not making any fuss about it because they do not consider it a serious thing be abolished. We must safely assume that on the farms it is going to be the every tenor of their way despite the daylight saving scheme. There has also been a fuss in the town and city dwellers gain an hour of daylight during the day, farmers can stand it. From being the case we have reports that the light saving will now be a regular feature of summer time, as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Powell Accorded Great Mark of Esteem—Address and Presentation

Vermilion, Aug. 12.—A large gathering of the people of the town and district of Vermilion met at the assembly hall of the school of agriculture Friday evening to do honor to Mr. and Mrs. George C. Powell who are leaving the town to reside permanently in California. Mr. and Mrs. Powell came to Vermilion 18 years ago, and have thus seen the district grow from one hundred uninhabitable country to one of the most prosperous and best settled in the west.

When they came there was not a white man between Saddle Lake on the north and Hilstone on the south nor from Whitford on the west about through the Battleford in the east. War Garden Bulletin

The Home Acreage of Vegetables for Winter Use

As a war measure, no form of home economics is more important than the home acreage of vegetables and fruits. Every gardener should aim at not merely growing enough for his own family, but should grow enough to provide for the surplus vegetables for storage purposes, so that the whole community may benefit by the winter supply.

The depth largely upon the nature of the soil. Sandy soils require to be planted deeper than clay soils, as the latter are apt to bake and crack on the surface, thus preventing the young plants from coming through. Shallow planting is also necessary in cold, wet soils, as the seed will rot before germination takes place. Deep planting is necessary in dry, sandy soils, as the seed will not germinate unless it is placed where there is sufficient moisture. Deep planting is also necessary in order to protect the young plants from the effects of drought, as the roots will be able to reach the moisture more quickly. The Meaning of Wilson's Meaning

The Past and the Present are in Dense Gloom

We hope General Ludendorff and his master, we hope every German who reads his words understand the president's meaning, will read and digest his address to the Senate. Its address to the Bundestag upon the 22nd of January. There can be no mistaking what he means would be the end of all war. No compromise is possible with a government that is a curse to God's people. Compromise with such a government is ruthless. For the time being, the people must be kept in darkness and subject to the will of the president. The time for the people to be free and independent will come when the president is dead and the people are free to act for themselves.

The Keystone Province

From a Speech by Lord Dufferin Delivered in Winnipeg, Sept. 29, 1876

From its geographical position, and its peculiar characteristics, Manitoba may be regarded as the keystone of that mighty arch of new provinces which spans the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

It was here that Canada, emerging from her wonds and forests, first gazed upon her rolling prairies and boundless pasturages, and realized, in an unexpected revelation that her true destinies lay not in the Atlantic, her eastern seaboards at New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, but in the Canadian Mediterranean and midway between the two great oceans which divide European kingdoms, were the wheatfields and the orchards of that still then undreamed of Dominion, whose inhabitants should one day confound the antithesis of the new versus and the traditions of the ex places.

It was hence that counting her past achievements as but the prelude and portends by her future exertions and expanding destinies, she took a fresh departure, entered the affairs of a more imperial inspiration, and felt her breath no longer a mere zephyr along the banks of a single river, but the mere of half a continent, and the magnitude of her possession, in the wealth of her resources, in the amount of her material might, the peer of any power on the earth.

Losing Good Wheat

A Great Waste of Grain at Threshing Time

In a letter to the Farmers' Journal M. J. O'Neill, of Kalamazoo county, Michigan, calls attention to the waste of grain at threshing time. He says:

"I read your editorial about saving the wheat. I think that is one of the other serious loss in connection with the threshing of the crop. It is the loss going into the straw stack when threshing. I have seen it many times, and I think I could swear to you. I am not to be called upon to swear to which wouldn't amount to a row of pins.

So Anthony was no less observing, but rode his bike careless mind—the man's dull monotone conveyed the impression of a person learned in note and repeated parrotwise. And the more easily because he had figured out the proposition for himself, and also that the conclusion was a foregone one by feeling.

"You might have realized that your state was not worthless a little sooner," said Anthony in a voice that Lambe to hear your drunken lies. The young banker blazed into sudden anger. "Were the other tailors who said they saw me drunk drunk, too?"

"I can only speak for myself, but I was drunk enough for the lot." Mr. Shael Hicks' tones were the level est style. And then, as if he were dancing one of his hated fox gaves remarked: "You ought to thank your stars for evidence that's wanted. It would have been the proudest deed of my life to help to hang you at Dodson Jail."

"Come away, Tom!" Mavis had not heard on her companion's arm, but Sir Anthony, who had turned deadly white under the insult, deflected her with a gesture of imperious restraint. And nothing was to be gained by further parley. He had at last realized that the fact that the poisoned waters on Sir Anthony's premises in the village had poisoned himself a broken reed whose impoverished resolves had flung away as useless. Here was all the scrap on the cliff without referring to the extraordinary interview with Hayer, revealing it by mutual consent. But at the top West broke into a boyish laugh.

"I've changed my mind about the accusation," he said, simply because I've changed my mind about the evidence. I did say it, and I'll stick to it. I'll say it to-morrow, even if I find a dog to whom you are devoted by it. Good-night."

Mavis, sullenly at his side arrested the door. "I'll let him out," she said.

"I'll see him out myself," said Sir Anthony, and he held the door open for West to pass through.

"Good-night, Mavis," said West, and he turned his back on her and walked away.

Sir Anthony shut the door and locked it.

"Now, Mavis," he said, "I'll trouble you for the key of the garden door

Traitors and Social Pull

Should Be Fearless Criticism of Graft, of Favoritism, and of Privilege

Sir Auckland Geddes minister of national service in the British government, in a speech in Manchester, used some very plain language about the operation of the conscription machinery placed by the British system, He said.

"The army was not getting the men it ought to get, because people with social pull were not getting them. It was not perfect because it was impossible to get deeply to the men who were being taken, but the armies were getting a fair cross section and the whole destiny of this country depended upon the reserves that we could place behind the armies for the months yet to come.

"There were many men being protected in this country, many had been exempted, whose removal from civil life would not lead to a catastrophe. There were many men being protected by tribunals because they had been in some lucky billet. We have been trying since the 70s of the last century with the heads of our youth to batter down the walls of conscription. For fifty years Russian youths were destroyed in prisons, through banishment and through work in mines, and now we have heard of the tragical results of that policy of repression. We have in this country no more right to destroy the capacity to work the artisans as to banish the strength of the country. The war destroyed physically one-fifth of the young The revolutions in Russia and Austria, with nothing like the same population, the sources of those thousands of miles away from the scene of conflict—they do not see the guns thundering as they can hear, three from our shores — have had a sudden collapse. I believe that nearly a million of Russia's best men are in the United kingdom and it would have been raised equally with the rest had we begun. They have been scattered and lost sight of. Instead of being concentrated and used on the battlefield, all under fire, and under discipline, they have been scattered by the hostile hand and hostile intelligence of their land. Instead of being a million of men they have been defeated their power

PEELS OFF A CORN WITHOUT ANY PAIN

LIFT YOUR CORNS OFF WITH FINGERS
How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it will come out without pain

Let folks step on your feet here-after—wear shoes a size smaller—and send electric sparks of pain through you according to this Cincinnati authority.

He says that a few drops of ordinary freezone applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug dries at once and simply shrivels the corn or callus without even irritating the surrounding tissues.

A small bottle of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug yet, tell him to get a small bottle of freezone for you from his wholesale drug house.

Comfort For the Horse

Make the Horse Worth More as a Source of Farm Power

A piece of burlap or a gunny sack folded and tied over the head between ears makes a cheap fly blanket that will add 100 per cent to the horse's comfort when flies get bad.

Don't say the horse has to keep the flies off in with its tail and feet. The horse cannot reach its back with either tail or nose when harnessed and hitched, so give it a spell of dusting its back, belly and sides, too.

This need not keep anyone from indulging in fancy fly nets, especially where leather ones or carefully fitted netting ones are used. But the practical farmer there is nothing more than a piece of burlap or canvas that a loving blanket tied over the harness with short twine will prevent.

The blanket can be replaced a time or two during the summer and as the edges fray out from them with shears or a sharp knife and scissors and the liberal use of fly knock-out spray, or with inexpensive hand sprayer, to the horse's belly and legs will make the blanket last and be a source of long power.

You can make a good fly blanket out of a quart of cane, a quart of kerosene, a pint of cresol, and two and one-half gallons of kerosene mixed together.

Crop Prospects Good

Railway Official's Conclusion Following Western Tour

"After nearly two months' travel through the west, both over the C.P.R. and other lines, I returned to Montreal recently into crop prospects. I think I may safely say that while there is an increased acreage under cultivation in Western Canada this year still prospects are at least as many bushels of grain to the acre, provided, of course, that conditions continue as favorable as they have been during the summer months. The splendid rains which fell in the whole district with that object in view."

What we have done on land as an empire is something new, not recorded in the history of our empire, but in that of any other empire that ever existed. There has never been anything quite like the British empire, and nothing in the heart like what it has accomplished during the last four years. Russia had a war on her hands when it was almost the ideal of the Bolshevist group to destroy it. The Dominions had hardly an army at all. Britain, including her navy, was not ready for war when declared, and the United kingdom has never before had to provide men and money on such a scale for any war. Britain has been the paymaster of the alliance, and has found, directly or indirectly, the money for the whole of the non-European war expenditure. Without that help the alliance would have broken down. Without the British navy the alliance could not have existed for a month. The British navy has been the foundation of the whole war. Without it the alliance could not have been formed, could not have been maintained, could not have been victorious. The British navy has been the shield behind which the military power of the alliance has been developed. Without the British navy the military power could not have been developed. Without the British navy the military power could not have been developed. Without the British navy the military power could not have been developed.

The Man With Asthma. Also out of death is said his suffering from asthma for many years, and after trying many remedies without relief, was induced to try Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. One trial brought relief and a few weeks' use effected a complete cure. Many of his friends have also used this remedy with the same happy results. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is sold by druggists and it will find its way among those who suffer.

The Naval Situation

Enemy Has Been Thrown Back on a Policy of Frightfulness

Dealing to its conclusion the naval situation in the war, Reuter's says in the fortnightly Review, Lord Beresford writes:

"Before the peace was broken in August, 1914, the British navy was in the position of the three islands were in the Mediterranean, the key to the Mediterranean, and between the sea of Malta. How do we stand in those days? We are in the Mediterranean, but we have thought to increase our power there by sending a battleship squadron and more protected vessels to Malta. Our battleship squadron has been thrown back on a policy of frightfulness. Our battleships are out of the zone, and making no progress. Our protected vessels are under the Austrian guns which rear, perhaps with a few exceptions, are not of as much power when, owing to the failing of the Russian naval situation had undergone a change calculated to

"Contrary incidents to Lesseps dug the canal, the enemy never once ceased to operate from interior lines. Our line of admiralty may be changed where but here we have made no progress from time to time in the personal direction, salons or offices, never was it more necessary that the navy should be brought in accordance with those modern principles which have always been the guiding principles of the British navy."

THE STANDARD

VERMILION, ALTA., AUG. 8, 1918

At the present time when the demand of the press and some of the Western Rural Hospitals is before the public, it might be interesting to note the Hospital conditions in Vermilion as shown by the following figures and statements and also to remind the readers of this, what is now the subject of the Hospital Bylaw to be voted on August 12th. During the past twelve months patients have been treated in the Vermilion Hospital from every part of the district, and for which I am sorry to say we have received under the municipal hospital act only the paltry sum of $1,000.00. Surely we could make better use of this money than to give it as a larger and better hospital.

The present act which covers municipal hospitals, and it is urged that each and every municipality throughout the province join the scheme, give it the united support.

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place in Wetaskiwin at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. C. Mckay, on Wednesday, 14th, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Charlotte E. Richardson was united in marriage to Jas. Cleveland Dell of Vermilion, formerly of Wetaskiwin. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Hogg, former pastor of the Wetaskiwin church. The bride was given away in a pretty travelling suit of blue serge with a dainty white stripe de chene waist and a large picture hat. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pearl necklace. The happy couple left by the afternoon train for Edmonton and other points. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served from a table beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers, with the wedding cake as a centrepiece. Mr. and Mrs. Dell left for Edmonton, where after spending a short honeymoon, they will leave for their home in Bigfork, Alta.

What Will You Do For Help?

FARM help is scarce, but this condition can be relieved in a marked degree by using machines that do a capable man's work in a given time, which means power.

Why should the farmer cling to horses alone, expensive means of power when every other business is adopting the truck and thereby reducing the cost of handling, speeding up deliveries, and saving for horses needs the feed that the horses would otherwise consume?

The motor driven truck can work constantly at maximum load under the burning summer sun or in the coldest weather. While the horse's needs no rest while working, it requires only a short time to, and when the truck is done it requires very little attention, and leaves no feet for corns, "Thorns" about the place. Then, can be housed in one corner the space of the horses, wagon and harness it replaces. It is a mistaken idea that a truck is useful only for long haul upon paved roads. The Ford truck is driven all over the farm and used for hauling crops, potatoes, fruit, roots, hogs, wood, stone, milk or any other product. The speed, the travels, the time it saves, and its low upkeep cost appeal very strongly to all users of the Ford Truck. If you need a truck, order your Ford one load Ford hauling.

It that was on, went ruminated, he would be held blameless by the prominent minister for honour if he broke his promise and consecrated himself by declining to the police the circumstances of the bet and of that meeting with Lawrence and Gaspard Laura, he assured himself, was not a bad sort and would cor roborate him.

He must be pondered the theory the more he liked it, except that he could see no reason why Lawrence Co gan to have planned such a diabolical thing. He had always found the young man, except that he was reputed to be somewhat wild and reckless, and that he frequented a fashionable gambling house where, as London knows, it is not rare to meet people. What of Clayton Keegan, Lord Cantrell's most regular patron, who served the Queen all day at the official head and broke or every night in a Mayfair hell? Of course, Lawrence was probably one of a wild but not dangerous set that poor drug-mad Laura had fallen in with.

He would, at any rate, go and see Morgan with having inveigled him on to the bet with the design of estab lishing an alibi while he murdered his wife. That would be ingenious to a head, and he would be able to judge from the fellow's demeanour as to the truth of this new-born theory. If there was the slightest sign of blenching under the charge, Sagenius resolved Nasbey should be sent to the lighthead about his impersonation and his reservation at Slough in Mor lamer Castles and stalk in to meet the fortunate wife of Mayfair.

It must also be remembered that at the Ingle Arms Lawrence was known to have left on July 31 last, and that he had not been seen since. Had he been arrested for murder the Regina Beer should have to have dodged over the seven days.

The grandfather clock in the hall struck nine. It was not too late to carry out the project that night. The young baronet drained his glass and pushed back his chair, but before he had risen Martha Trevlyn appeared on the doorway. On the gaunt, sal turnwoman's wrinkled face eagre ex pectancy was blended with an air of disapproval which she flung at the Hall's grand sire. Lawrence Co rammed a salver with a card upon it.

Italy's Great Part In the War

Has Not Anywhere Received Her Fair Share of Credit

Italy has not everywhere received her fair share of credit for the part she has played in the war. There is even a feeling here and there that she has not entered heartily with all the power at her command for the cause of the allies.

Those who say so do not seem to grasp the magnitude of her effort. First of all, Italy had, in heart, united with the allies long before she declared war against Austria. She all but was so far as her sentiments and those three facts, says Mr. William Porter, a former U. S. ambassador to Italy.

First As far back as August, 1913, Austria had pounded Italy on matter to which neither she could have her support in a war against Serbia. This she all does at the eternal end. Austria was reminded that the Triple Al liance was purely defensive.

Second In July, 1914, after the at tempt was made by Austria to force Italy appealed to England not to disgrace her fleet, which had been assembled for its parade return in the waters of the English Channel. Seven of the battle ships of Aegean and did not want to be left with the troops at sea. It was where the Italian fleet should have to remain during the seven days.

Third In August, 1914 on the eve of war, Italy asked France that she could release every soldiers guarding the Italian frontier, as she was ex pecting to stand with the central pow ers in their determination to precipitate world war. Thus made it possible for France to remove her army from the Italian frontier and rush it to meet the Germans at the battle of the Marne.

The Indian who Tickled the Left Hind Foot of a Government Mule

To see how far he could kick, got his curiosity amply satisfied but seemed later when he picked himself up on the other side of the reservation. Curiosity that prompts people to find out things good of no kinds, expensive like the mule kick, is practical.

The prospective buyer of Lands and Business Material who looks into different stocks before putting out his money is also the gentlemanly of the real, practical, dependable kind.

Are you one. The only safe way is enough to find out what we offer you in Land, Lumber and Building Material before buying. It means hard dollars in your purse.

65,000 LBS BUTTER IN JULY

Out-put Vermilion Creamery - Look to Time for a 1,000,000 lb Yearly Manufacture

The Vermilion Creamery manufactured 68,000 pounds of butter for the month of July. Forty cents was the top price for butter fat and approximately the sum of $25,000.00 was paid out locally by the firm to its patrons. Just what this amount of money put into circulation during one month only means to the town cannot be overestimated.

The Edmonton City Dairy, owners of the plant in operation here, are looking towards a one million pound butter production to get prior to the Vermilion branch and when this end is attained the management have assured the town of a complete plant at the top of the hill, rivaling any factory.

The future of the dairying industry is full of possibilities of immense proportions and too much encouragement cannot be accorded to this branch of agriculture as a thorough and hearty co-operation of all interests must, if they would see Vermilion take that place in the sun entitled to it.

For Cars of Flax

Valuable Cars of Flax Sold by Farmers in Canada

Some valuable cars of flax have lately been disposed of by farmers of Western Canada. The honour of having shipped the most valuable car was claimed for Champion, Alberta, when a car from there was sold in Winnipeg for $1,427.76. This car contained 1,400 bushels and 40 pounds of flax.

It appears, however, that the price received for the contents of this car may be means a record one for Western Canada. From Lethbridge, Alberta, a car was shipped which contained 1,500 bushels and 30 pounds, and for which $1,725 was received. From Strathcona, Alberta, a car was shipped containing 1,500 bushels and 30 pounds of flax, for which $1,687.50 was received. From Saskatchewan a car was shipped containing 1,500 bushels and 30 pounds of flax, for which $1,650 was received.

Advantages of Irrigation

Given Sufficient Moisture, Large Crops are the Result

In some parts of Western Canada crops will be poor this year on account of a shortage of moisture, but in some districts where irrigation projects have been established crops are the most fertile on the continent, and the closure is said that can be desired to raise large crops. The supply of moisture is not always dependable. The volume of the crop is in direct ratio to the supply of moisture, large crops are produced everywhere, and a moderate supply of moisture only moderate crops are obtained, and with little or no moisture, little or no crops are harvested. Fortunately this last name condition occurs more rarely than the latter named, so that year in and year out farming in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan is fairly profitable. With irrigation, however, the latter's crops may be avoided altogether, and the farmer may secure himself of a profitable crop each year. The profitable crop each year. The profitable crop each year. by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

"I am indeed delighted to hear that. You could not do a better thing." The professor expressed cordial approval.

"But before taking my tale to the police I was going to do the square thing by Morgan and tell him my reason for breaking faith with him," Sir Anthony continued. "I don't want to stab the chap in the back, though I'm not the sort to mark he would fully understand my motive if I told him in the bank." Jolly well deserve it," the professor muttered, with a touch of asperity over your difficulties."

"Drift be damned, it's more than that," Sir Anthony retorted in his turn. "I'm not going to put it to you through that big ear of yours, but let me say that he could nurse down to Comlyn Castle his own pretty wife while I was peacemaking him over something which was all a mare's nest and mistake, Professor Zimbalist, you know that is the case, for you heard my affair."

A number of comliers rioted on the station's unwholesome concrete, some sauntering to and fro, finally in a tangle at a moment, the latter held irrespectively on each.

"My dear Sir Anthony," he broke in, "I am shocked — that is — at such a horrible conception. Why, I have known Morgan for years, and a more devoted couple never existed than he and his charming wife. And to mix your suggestion in hand I am able to refute it at first hand Mr. Morgan, in order to make sure, called upon me at my house over the ridiculous wager by which you have been exaggerated so much, has about himself during the hours which you were fighting your battles on Buckinghamshire. He went by motor car from the bank to North London—at 17 Segrave Road, where he found his wife with her two brides myself could, it nerves that poor woman was lying in her own room under the influence of a powerful opiate. Mrs. Morgan had been suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia, which, as you know, she is very subject to, and Morgan, finding her in such pain, had sent for me. I was in attendance upon her during the whole of that fatal night."

So crumbled the wonderful theory which Sir Anthony had constructed from his slough of despond. The professor looked at him, and Sir Anthony looked at the professor, but neither would hold himself responsible for what he had heard or for the queer creative which could produce it. However strongly Professor Zimbalist might have believed in his own sagacity, he must have known that he should be true to his premise till Morgan's denial should be given in strong thought and his rage boiled over the cruel wife had destroyed his glimmer of hope.

After Four Years

As the Tonten Strength Dies the Greater Strength of the Allies Is Coming

We have now entered upon the fifth year of the world war. He would be a bold man still who could prophesy what that year shall bring forth. The Manchester Leader, Four years ago the declaration of hostilities against Germany and Austria was acclaimed with cheers and the whole affair was generally expected to last a year or six at most. The people have learned much since then of what 'lasting' trumps war. The public outlook once was not that of the Maxie statesmen who knew the vast preparations Germany had made for years in advance of the world by terrorism. Lord Kitchener warned us that it would be a wearing war, but he spoke of it lasting three years or more." Few of those who cheered the announcement of war for the defence of Belgium to last by but all are more patriotic. For As the months of the passed there grew up a grim determination to see the horrid thing through that was worth all the shocking of the early days. VERMILION, ALTA., SEPT. 20

For forty six days the Allies have sustained an unbroken offensive of smashing blows on all parts of the front taxing the resources of the enemy in carrying out an orderly retreat.

A growing interest is evinced from all parts of the district in the municipal hospital which is to be established Sept. 23rd. The city council is to be represented by A. W. Lindsay, M.L.A., on the list of hospital appointees, another meeting of the Council of Lake district by Mayor Peel and H. W. Brown. The settlement at both meetings was strongly favorable to the scheme.

Death of Wm. Robinson

William Robinson died at the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton, Thursday afternoon, in the age 4 12. He had been there weeks at he treatment and he illness dated back several months. Mr. Robinson was one of the pioneer farmers of the Vermilion district, having settled down about nine years ago on the Beaverlodge farm four miles west of the town. He leaves a widow and one son, Lyle. A brother, J. H. Robinson, of Tofield, and two sisters, Mrs. H. A. York, Montreal, and Mrs. Joseph Mattison, Montreal, also survive him.

The funeral was held on Saturday at 2 o'clock from the Presbyterian church to the Vermilion cemetery and was very largely attended. The Rev Wm Somerset superintendent of Presbyterian Missions, of Edmonton, conducted the services.

Among the floral offerings were the following: Pillow Mr. & Mrs. Grisdale and Mr. & Mrs. John Law; Sheaf Mr. & Mrs. Joseph McKenzie; Spray: Mr. & Mrs. Grant McAlpine, Edmonton; Spray: Mr. & Mrs. Joe Hamilton. Spray: Mr. & Mrs. King and Messrs H ostein; Wreath: Mr. & Mrs. John Robinson, Tofield; Alta; Wreath: Taptonson U. F. A. Spray: Vermilion Women's Institute, Pillow: Directors & Ladies Committee Vermilion Agricultural Society.

The deceased was one of the leading breeders of Shorthorn cattle in this province and won high laurels at the Spring Stock Show, Edmonton a number consecutive years. He was a strong supporter of the Grain Growers' Association and was a director of the Vermilion Local. He was also a member of the Vermilion Agricultural Society and was a director for many years. He was also a member of the Vermilion Methodist church and was a liberal supporter of the church. He was a kind husband and father and a good neighbor and his death is a heavy loss to our community.

To the bereaved widow and young son is extended the sympathy of the community.

With the Fingers!
Says Corns Lift Out
Without Any Pain

Just drop a little Freezone on a tender, aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out with fingers. It's almost unbelievable, but it's true.

You can actually put a spot of Freezone on any corn, hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, and the moment it is applied the pain stops and then you lift the corn right off with your fingers. It doesn't even smart when applied, and it leaves the skin around the corn as pink and healthy as your own scalp.

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but little at any drug store, but will positively rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, without one bit of pain, soreness or irritation.

Be sure you get the genuine Freezone and don't accept a substitute.

High Grade Butter

High Standard of Dairy Products Shown at Western Exhibitions

Visitors to the exhibitions in Western Canada have been struck by the remarkably high and uniform standard of butter made in the three prairie provinces. At Calgary, Alberta, the dairy products exhibit caused much favorable comment, an excellent display having been made. The exhibits at Edmonton, Alberta, and Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, were equally as good. At Edmonton much interest was shown in the interprovincial competition, in which butter from Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba creameries competed. The outstanding uniformity of the butter produced in these three provinces was a matter for much favorable comment, only a difficult matter to decide before making the award. Of the eight prizes awarded, only one point separated the score of the first from that of the last. The judge is said to have remarked that after eliminating the first two samples, another class could be made of the second ten, and all of them would have ranked as first class commercial butter.

The uniform grade which has been reached in the butter issued in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba is the result of the efficient system of grading employed in these provinces, under the supervision of the respective departments of agriculture. The quality is due to the country—its excellent climate, its nutritious grasses and grains, its pure water, making it an ideal country for dairy cattle. No wonder the output of butter of Western Canada, ever increasing as it is can scarcely keep pace with the demand.

PERSHING WIPES OUT SALIENT

St. Mihiel Attack Great Victory

Advance Made On 33 Mile Front Depth of 16 Miles Attained-20,000 Prisoners and 200 Guns Are Captured

The first big undertaking by the American army under direct command of General Pershing, has resulted in the wiping out of the St. Mihiel salient held by the Germans since 1914. The advance made was 16 miles from the apex of the 29 mile salient. These were reached in 24 hours, 20,000 prisoners and 200 guns were taken. Continuing their big offensive on a 25 mile front the American army was subjected to short fire from the guns of the German fortress, Metz.

Haig's forces have crossed the Canal du Nord at Villiers and are in the region of Gouzeaucourt. The British attacked north of St. Quentin and French to south. The British extended on a front of from 21 to 24 miles and a 5 mile front.

Seven miles to the east of Soissons the French have battled back the German counter attacks by the Germans.

Artillery activity prevails along the whole front.

"When about two weeks old my baby turned blue, and in a couple of days he broke out in a rash. It first appeared on his face and then spread to his body and limbs. It was so red and the skin was so sore that it looked as if it would blister. He was restless and cried nearly all the time. I had to keep his hands tied to prevent him scratching himself. I was a great deal worried. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. I was a great deal relieved after the first application, and by the time I had used one cake of Soap and one box of Ointment he was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Alfred Gerrard, Mt. Hon. A. L. Sifton, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, in Union Government.

Editor Standard

Dear Sir:—Certain U.F.A. locals have passed resolutions at their meetings to oppose the Vermilion Hospital scheme, and urge others to do the same. Now these locals are not acting for the U.F.A. as I am a member of the U.F.A. executive and I know that no such resolutions have been passed by the U.F.A. at its recent convention. I am a U.F.A. member and I am in favor of the Provincial Hospitals Act to be passed by the provincial legislature.

The U.F.A. convention at Calgary in January last—mentions Mr. Sifton states that the district is working in perfect accord.

A pleasant and interesting part of the business of the meeting was the presentation to Mrs. Barwick of a Life Membership Badge and Certificate, by the members of this local branch.

Mr. Herbert Hoover of the American Food Administration, who visited England and France to confer with the Food Controllers of the Allies, says that this eminent next year will have to supply the Allies with 4,000,000,000 pounds of fats, 900,000,000 pounds of b of produ's, 500,000,000 bushels of cereals, and 1,500,000 bushels of sugar. In addition to the former responsibilities overseas, next year there will be the feeding of an enormous American Army in Europe.

"We have to make good," says Mr. Hoover. "We can do it if we simply have the will to live with every economy and waste nothing."

Hunger Sickness Takes Toll

Closes Thousands of Victims Through Lack of Proper Food

The American Telegram is informed by returned Dutch workmen employed in Germany that sickness, which is called "hunger sickness" here, is claiming thousands of victims, especially in the industrial districts. The symptoms are: Extreme weakness and exhaustion due to both lack of proper food. In the industrial centres of Westphalia and the Rhine provinces there are many deaths and cases of this kind. The hospitals are full of patients. Food tickets are being distributed daily, but it is impossible to get enough to keep body and soul together.

The Berlin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung says that in all Berlin restaurants, hotels, and private houses the maximum consumption of meat per person is restricted to 275 grammes (9.75 ounces) a week. In other towns the quantity is reduced to 200 grammes (7 ounces) a week in all towns having more than 100,000 inhabitants. New potatoes have arrived in Berlin and it is hoped that they will be sold there at the rate of three pounds a week to each person.

"Good evening, Miss Comlyn; good evening, Mr. Morgan," said the Reverend Laurence unctuously. "Oh, dear no, we have not been botooning. The—er—sporting operation of this district affords but little scope for that. Nothing to do but butcher, in fact. No, I am afraid I are not studying. We are just taking a friendly walk on the moor—sort of mutual improvement association, don't you know."

It was reserved for the boy to abuse this mild profession with a bomb-shell of his own making. He had kept his eyes watching gave Mr. Morgan's face and now rewarded in the crass ignorance of adolescence.

"Then, Mr. Vicar, Musical instruments, I suppose, and that sort of thing," he said. "Well, I'm blowed! Where on earth do you get the cheek from?"

Mr. Morgan had scarcely noticed the boy before, but he now subjected him to a searching glance. Could it be possible that there was a hint of impudent defiance in the brat's answering stare? Had he—had he—? It was impossible to take open notice of such a thing, but Mr. Morgan vowed to get a rise out of him. There was a way, he knew well enough, to touch the boy's temper and he was not averse from using it.

"Why, you're a rough diamond, aren't you, my boy?" he said, with good humour, "and you'll be grounded more than once before you're polished. Now, I'm getting to be a noble old man, so I'll make a start. I don't mind telling you that I'm not a good man at all, but I'm getting better. That's what we call improvement, you know."

Dunsan Is the Blessed Hostel for the Blind

It was on a glorious morning of early summer that I paid a visit to Dunsan's Hostel, the beautiful Regent's Park mansion that has been devoted to Britain's soldiers and sailors blinded in the war, where I spoke the words of Sir Arthur Pearson, their blind benefactor, whose gallant efforts are being utilized for and equipped to fight the battle of life in a world of perpetual darkness.

As I passed through the gates the contrast between the world of sunshine and beauty outside and the world of night within filled me with awe.

I entered the grounds. I was amazed to find myself in a spacious "village," with streets after streets of low buildings which, I learned later, are the workshops and lecture and recreation rooms, in which the pupils are taught useful trades, the joys of work and play.

Making—as was therefore right so—for industry, which I soon found myself in the midst of. Here, as I passed, I heard the voice of a group of visitors and A.D.'s for the friendly. Every one was to be my escort, my eyes with one accord which brought me safely home in the purpose of the place. It was a source respecting many to "stand on" and "right leaning, and not on" the limit—no pain—was a pure guide to the rest. At that moment a whistle, merry and musical, like that of a blackbird, fell on my ears and, glancing to the right across the Second, I saw a sight approaching which I shall never forget. A broad street, so exactly and so much like that of every-day life that it seemed to me the candid be—was in front of the hostel.

"Oh, yes, I—and—I—your yesterday, dad," was beginning, "I'm almost, in answer to my question "Is he here?" to Mr. Chipp and Capt. Roberts. "Now, I'm pretty close to the—"

Chas. Hodgins returned of the Western district on his Honeymoon, on a business trip. He reports everything moving along out our way, or working. In connection with Red Cross work in the city of Moose Jaw he says the organization is simply marvelous. Large quantities passed at the society's elegant new but only a sewing center but a huge manufacturing plant where tons of jams are being put down and Xmas Puddings made up for the boys. No less than 50,000 one pound pudding was the quota for that institution. The work is all done voluntarily the various churches, societies and organizations each have their day. It is hardly necessary to say that Rev. Hodgins met with a hearty welcome for all knew that where he might be to encourage patriotism of any sort, he and God work to do something here. Help The Boys "Over There" By Saving Gasoline

The Allies need gasoline. Waste none of it on Sunday motoring for pleasure. He who uses it for this purpose stints those who are fighting our battles. It is the duty of all our owners to comply with the Fuel Controller's request to save "gas."

The safety of the State being the supreme law, personal enjoyment must give place to national necessity during our time. To save gasoline is to save money. It will also ensure a more adequate supply of "gas" for the needs of our war machine, which must lack no essential. To comply with the Fuel Controller's request will save $150,000 on a single Sunday. In gasoline it will also save hundreds of thousands of gallons. A weed to the wise motor car owner is sufficient.

The death took place at the home of his daughter Mrs H A Crosby, town, on Monday, Sept. 16th of a respected and venerable old timer of this community in the person of Stephen Parsons at the advanced age of 78 years and 1 month. The funeral was held on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock to the afternoon from the Church of Christ, services being conducted by Rev J R Tyner, pastor.

Mrs W R Ferguson is the last the family home, Vermilion on Wednesday, Sept 11th. She passed peacefully away after a long illness at the age of 51 years, surrounded by the members of the family. A year and a half ago Mr Ferguson moved from town from Ferguson Flats in order that his wife might have the necessary medical care her condition demanded. It was thought she had but a few short months to live but was spared for a much longer time. She bore up until the last and after a final talk with those gathered round, she fell asleep in perfect faith and trust. The funeral, which was held from the home to the Vermilion cemetery, was conducted by the Rev. W F Allan, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Besides the bereaved husband there was and a daughter are left to mourn her loss, namely, Clifford B and Mrs Robt Taylor, settled at Ferguson Flats: Max, in foreign store and Raymond at home. Mrs Ferguson was born in Durham county, England. The family came here 8 years ago from the state of Washington and pioneered in the settlement of the family name

Mr. Ferguson and family wish to express their thanks for the assistance and sympathy extended to them in their bereavement

Kitchener was right

when he said:

"Either the Civilian population must go short of many things to which it has accustomed in times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them."

NOW, the only way we can avoid spelling hunger is to produce more. It is going without in other countries that we have to. For the money we require to put more land under cultivation, more labor and skill that are urgently needed in France.

By driving ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war.

What happens when we fail to save?

A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by other people in the opposite direction. Hundreds of millions of dollars are of no use to the country if goods and services can be secured only to the extent of eighty millions of dollars. So we must do everything in our power to release both goods and labor for the purposes for which Canada needs them.

WHETHER it be food, coal, wood, steel, leather, labor or transportation, the result in all cases is the same. Whoever competes with the nation by freely satisfying his own desires, is fully appropriates to his own use that which is so urgently required for our fighting men in France.

For the sake of country and the boys "over there," spend carefully. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, and ask yourself first: "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?"

Give Your Country a Leg Up - SAVE!

Canadian patriotism demands the practice of thrift by all its sons. The men who are to be the lions at home and abroad will be making it easy for the business men of the country to go on with little or no trade inconvenience. The steady piling up of huge quantities of goods by the producers of goods and by the storers and distributing agencies will be entirely avoided.

Saving—not just a few dollars, but as much as possible—is going to be the greatest economic service we shall have in Canada against a period of depression after the war. The greatest capital of the modern state is what we make the country and what we found of ourselves upon—to allow luxurious living on a scale unjustified by the hard times of such a period.

The saving man is a builder of a real patriot. He has Canada's interests fundamentally at heart. May his tribe increase in those days when wealth is piling up under the spur of wasteful efforts. Save because it lets both ways. It is a high form of patriotism. And it gives one a country a leg up in a crisis like the present.

Thrift Hallmarks A Nation

Saving the almighty dollar in order to gratify mean desires is the antithesis of personal patriotism and has been a working force in society for all time. To save for the sake of hoarding the golden dust is a form of insanity that has afflicted the misers of all time. To save in order to make another stronger to the highest form of thrift known. Unless everything this virtue of saving made extra demands from our present surpluses, for the better living of society when times may not be so generous, we are not in the motto of the true Canadian patriot.

He who loves his country is not a miser. He knows his savings form the capital that makes busy enterprise. His dollar soon deals his own and each time saving adds to it it puts a mark on the nation as a truly great one. Loss of such assets as these and demands of every soldier's wife and child that the patriot save in the suppression of waste and extravagance. The thrifty man is one of Canada's big patriots.

Push your expenditure a little and you'll find it will pay.

Save to lend to your country when it calls.

"I told him what I knew that you would have told him yourself, unless there is a reason for keeping it back, do not understand. I told him that you would never look to charity as a means for regaining our ancient birthright. Yes, I advised him to try other means."

"But I am going to be charity, Mr. Comlyn," protested with a vague fear at the heart, as contrasted by hearing his own words distorted by those in the hand. "Those excruciating scruples, mine!" he apologized. "No, it wouldn't be charity at all," he went on with an air of having browsed matured a spasm Morgan was most delicate in mooring his proposal—nothing "Just my acuteness as yours. He merely hinted, in the kindest fashion, that if he was allied to the family the interests of the family would naturally be his and that he had a right to the traffic on my life-rights as I stripping that he called "the property of the late estate." I haven't the least idea what he meant, and he made it pretty clear that he wouldn't explain—unless you merged him."

Mavis glanced pityingly at the weak face opposite, and then, seeing that her father had more pity than enough for himself and none to spare for her, she glowered with sudden anger.

"But I don't like Mr. Morgan, and he wouldn't go his extraordinary proposal by insisting on it! Mr. Urquhart and I can hadn't come up. I don't know what would have happened if she decided."

"Well, come, my dear, you must be reasonable."

"I couldn't misunderstand him," Mavis resigned hotly. "He loved me with loving food or I very dear. "Thanking after him was the right phrase to add. And he called I love me months—and said that he could prove it. I suppose he was referring to the death of his wife, as I was twisting village gossip to its own ends."

Mr. Comlyn appeared to be sorry on the point of appealing for pity in the scene or his trial or fancied arguments, but he thought better of it, realizing perhaps that the issue had to be faced that though he dreaded the disclosure of the operation he wanted to make it. He braced himself and sat upright in his big back ed chair, and without a certain dignity.

"Listen to me, Mavis," he began in his high-pitched, well-bred voice. "It is my duty as your father, always I hope an affectionate one, to put a plain question to you before I take any further step. Has there ever been anything between you and Anthony West beyond a boy and girl friendship? I am not a hypocrite, young people will be young people, and I am not a fool."

"Tony never spoke a word to me except of the kind that a brother might use to a sister," was the reply, had with the memory of the unemployed interval in Tony's absence, which had been a time of the girl added. "And if he was to begin the other sort of love making in this very day I should send him to the right about. I did not think his poor love with all his charm, would make me a good husband. You can get rid of that bugbear of your bosom, dad."

Mr. Comlyn heaved a sigh of relief. "Sensible child," he commented. "It was foolish to encourage anything but sense from the dear daughter who has tended him and cheered his father so lovingly and wisely all those miserable years. In reply somewhere my task is at an end. Mr. Morgan is waiting for you. For there is not a shadow of a doubt that Sir Anthony West did not kill Mr. Morgan."

"Yes, Mr. Morgan can therefore prove to his satisfaction," Mavis agreed, and then as an afterthought added in addition to the village talk there were no a solid reason that he should be suspected of the murder, and that consequently his evidence would be unnecessary in bringing his wife's murderer to justice. A very sober view, I think."

The passages left the girl astonished. She knew she longed that Tony by his seriousness, had not still drawn upon her power to charm as she was at the moment exercising in her and at the reason she asked:

"Mr. Morgan, you have proved to me that Anthony West could not have committed the murder, but you have not proved to me that he did not. Why do you think that you can, but that, under circumstances, the position you are placing yourself in is a very false one? Is it not possible that Mr. Morgan may have been murdered by some one else?"

Mr. Comlyn looked at his daughter with a gentle smile of amusement. "Certainly not," he answered. "Mr. Morgan was murdered by Anthony West, and I am going to prove it."

"Then I will tell you what I know," Mavis said, and she told her father of the visit to the studio, of the finding of the body, of the discovery of the pistol, and of the subsequent events.

Mr. Comlyn listened with the closest attention, and when she had finished he sat for a few minutes in silence, evidently thinking deeply. Then he said:

"Mavis, you have done well to tell me this. I am glad that you have done so. Now I will tell you what I have discovered. I have found out that Mr. Morgan was not the man he represented himself to be. He was not a rich man, and he was not a bachelor. He was married, and he had a wife living. He was a man who had been married, and he had a wife living. He was a man who had been married, and he had a wife living. He was a man who had been

To see how far he could kick, get his curiosity amply satisfied five seconds after when he picked himself up on the other side of the reservation. Curiosity that prompts people to look into things is often kinder expensive—like the mule's, and practical.

The prospective buyer of Lumber and Building Material who looks into different stocks before parting with his money is the engineering of the real, practical, dollar-and-cent kind.

Opened Can Foods Not Harmful After All?

The popular belief that canned foods will spoil and even be danger ous if left in the tin after opening has been made the subject of a technical investigation, the results of which are reported in the American Food Journal.

Canned milk is usually kept in the tin until used up, sometimes for days, and shows no deterioration, and the result of laboratory tests demonstrated that a tin can differs little from a tin dish for keeping such foods so far as wholesomeness is concerned.

Cans of tomatoes, corn, string beans, sauerkraut, apples, pineapples and pumpkin were opened and allowed to stand from one to three days, when the contents were examined chemically for increased acidity and the presence of tin and iron, as well as taste and odor. The increase in acidity was very slight in most cases, and the amounts of tin and iron infinitesimal, while taste and odor were in most cases normal.

The investigator concludes that on general principles keeping canned foods in open tins is not good housekeeping, because the tin with its jagged edge is not an attractive dish, and food emptied into another dish can be kept to better advantage in cupboard and refrigerator. So far as wholesomeness is concerned, however, keeping such food in the can in which they are originally packed, after opening is not harmful in any way, he concludes.

But it is far more never to leave foods in open metal containers, nor indeed to allow cooked foods to remain exposed to the germ laden air under any circumstances.

Rough and Itchy With Eczema. Came in Pimples and Blisters. Kept From Sleeping.

One of Glories of Spain

King Alfonso's Summer Palace Was Result of Ancestor's Whim

King Alfonso's ruined palace of San Ildefonso, at La Granja, is one of the Freaks and one of the Glories of Spain. It was a Bourbon monarch who invented it—at the beginning of the eighteenth century, Philip V. was out hunting one day and found at a sunny farm called the Granja occupied by monks. The monks had honored the mountain upon which their cloister stood by naming it San Ildefonso, but the monarch had other ideas. He wanted a summer palace on the spot, and he would have it. He planted smooth plots on precipitous slopes, by carrying away thousands of tons of earth and stones, and from the valley below he brought up cubes of fertile earth to form new fields and gardens. By the time he had finished creating a new landscape and filling the new Versailles with the best pictures his taste suggested, Philip was ready to die in debt to the tune of 45 million pesetas. For that he left upon which the monarch lived on San Ildefonso.—Chronicle.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Peabody, Pa. "I was very weak, had a terrible back ached and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had not one kidney action, which led to my weak condition. I got so I could not sleep for the time I could not eat, I could not stay up, I could not get well. I had given up hope of ever being well again. I saw Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and wrote to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. I received a kind letter in return telling me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I began to feel better right away. I took it for three months, and I feel fine all the time and can do my housework and sometimes work for others. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women as a herbal healthy medicine, so did to Mrs. Wertleben.

A Fight for Life

Ill has been fight or die for many of us in the past and the lucky people are those who have suffered, but who are now well, because they heeded nature's warning signal in time to correct their troubles with that wonderful new kidney remedy Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Mary Hyam, 56 Sutton St., Toronto, Ont., says: "My backache suffered severely and I had to bend for days at a time. My kidneys were in the worst shape. I had pains in the small of my back and shoulders and all over my body. The kidney secretions were much too frequent in passage, and contained sediment, but he could tell by the burning pain that it was not right. I started to take Doan's Kidney Pills, and within two weeks time in the words of my self I felt like a new woman. All of these troubles left me and I have enjoyed good health ever since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers at 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Put up in Canada. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Before this terrible indictment of her husband, Irene Morin was dumb. In her heart she struggled against belief in his guilt, but the fact that he utterly denied such wicked crimes forced the conclusion of her own suspicion that his denial was only a subterfuge to cover some disgraceful reason. The first brave upspring in her eyes and soul rose to brave the room. The thin, querulous voice detained her:

"I'm begging you to reconsider your attitude towards Mr Morgan. There is just one thing I must add—not as a threat, but as a guide to your conduct. Morgan declares that if you will not marry him he will gain his evidence on to the police and put you in the witness box at the trial, which would inevitably follow send will spell upon the source of your ruin. You would have to confess that the bogus name of Comlyn that you took to the detriment of your own name. Morgan knows the Comlyn secret, and he has the means to trace

STEP GENERAL RETREAT

A quarter of a million Germans are in full retreat between Cambrin and St. Quentin with the Allies hot at their heels. At some points the advance has exceeded 15 miles in the past two days—this forward movement of the Allies is regarded as the first step in the great general retreat of the Germans which seems now inevitable.

How many people are aware that Count Zeppelin was not the inventor of the Zeppelin? As a matter of fact, a Frenchman, Major Lebaudy, conceived the idea, and it was from his plans that the latest Zeppelin was able to fly. However, Lebaudy's airship was not a success, and some time after the Count had taken up the idea Lebaudy sold the few of a heroic nature remaining to him to the Count. It is of course of pleasing to him hands that the Zeppelin works on the principle of the Lebaudy, which Count Zeppelin has improved upon. Lift Your Corns Off With Fingers

How to loosen a tender corn or callus so it lifts out without pain

Let folks step on your feet here after, or you yourself may smile as you take, for soon you will never again need to suffer pain from corns, says one who tries it.

He says that a few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and shortly the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.

This drug dries at once and simply shrivels the corn so entirely without even irritating the surrounding tissue.

A small bottle of freezone obtained at any drug store will cost very little, but will positively remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, without pain or soreness.

If your druggist hasn't stocked this new drug yet, tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house.

"Here's the word then in the shape of a fifty pound note," Morgan proceeded to the meat at a chair adjoining in the cabin. "It came along, Jim-mie, with the letter that I've just delivered to you, and as I'm broke. I'm sure you won't pick up any more money than you can help back to the Court and Gossip's or whisky and bad Bards."

Arising the evening, Tom was out of the vessel and down upon the beach before the occupants of the cabin reached the deck. A strong element of personal danger in the situation prompted instant flight along the shore, but hereditary instinct prevailed. It might still be possible to add further crumbs to the store of private knowledge which he had garnered at the skylight, and with that end in view he determined to climb to the space behind the broad ranged steps down which the gentlemen from the Court were about to descend. To his delight he found Fleuret or hid his visitors a great good night at the gangway, and the huge bulk of man's heavy trend on the deck as he returned to the cabin. It was evident that there was something in the mood of those and which they had not yet shared with Mike Hevert. He set a good deal of store by his knowledge of it was.

The words passed between the pair till they had negotiated the steps and reached the quay from the vessel, and there Jacques Morgan's attorney was either so cryptic or so innocent that he did not appear to deem his words.

"You're a clever old bird, Zizo," he said. "And I was smart, I reckon," trembling to the game. "One too many, eh? But not one too many for us."

The professor emitted one of his unpleasant chuckles. "Nearly put, Jacques," he joined. "Nearly put. It is real joy to stumble on any thing approaching an equality in the wilds of the country. Yes, you told us the bull gently and there it back straight on the wicket. But it is a joy—a thousand joys that such a grand type of the aborigines should be in our way. It will be absurd like destroying an ancient landmark, or demolishing a fine piece of medieval architecture."

"Bosh," was Morgan's rude comment. "We are not going to be stopped by a few thousand belly of that kind at this stage of the game. Sure, I am not a little better than to think you mean it, you cruel dog-fish."

"Cruelty is the request of sinners, my dear Jasper. You yourself——"

"I've known a good bad one shot, and Tom Borbery, crouched behind the vast animal's head, fired a full bull of the long bull in shoulder to safe the boy's number. I wondered whether he could be described as a "good" shot of the aborigines, or was he just a mild—I'm sorry."

His

he left under number of insurance, and that the reference to him died alive. He promised himself a fairly lively time till went back to school again and at one thing he was sure: that a bled moment of his existence

Why Canada must borrow money to carry on

Because Canada has put her hand to the plow and will not turn back:—

—our country is in the war on the side of liberty and justice and will stay in it till complete victory is won and the unspeakable Hun is smashed and beaten to the ground;

—a nation at war must make tremendous expenditures in cash to keep up her armies and supply them with munitions, food and clothing;

—Canada must finance many millions of dollars of export trade in food, munitions and supplies which Britain and our allies must have on credit;

—for these purposes Canada must borrow hundreds of millions of dollars—

And, this money must be borrowed from the people of Canada:—

Therefore, Canada will presently come to her people for a new Victory Loan to carry on.

Canadians will loan the money by again buying Victory Bonds.

The national safety, the national honor and the national well-being require that each and every Canadian shall do his duty by lending to the nation every cent he can spare for this purpose.

Be ready when the call comes to see your country through in its great war work

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada

ACTIVE STEPS TAKEN TO FIGHT FLU EPIDEMIC

Health Board Closed Up School, Churches, Pool Rooms and Theatre

Public Meetings and Gatherings Prohibited

A joint meeting of the Board of Health, Town Council and the School Board was held Monday evening last to consider the precaution of the epidemic influenza to respect to the town. The consensus of opinion was that preventitive measures should be taken, although no cases of the influenza had been reported, the following resolution was passed by the Board of Health and approved by the Medical Officer of Health Dr. T. G. Headpatch, "That all schools, churches, theatres and pool rooms be closed and the holding of all public meetings, like congregating of persons others than guests in all hotels, restaurants or eating houses, the congregating of more than 10 people in any store, street corner, railway stations or other public places is prohibited until further notice."

The co-operation of all good citizens is asked to put into effect these regulations in the strictest sense of the word.

At the request of the Provincial Health authorities the Local Board has obtained a satisfactory location for a temporary Isolation Hospital. This will be used if the Provincial Health Inspectors so request cases from the trains. All cases should be quarantined in their own premises, and it should be necessary that the attending physicians investigate and report to the Health Officer.

Precautions Against Influenza

(1) If the sick should be separated from the healthy. This is especially important in the case of first attacks in the household.

(2) Discharges from the nose and mouth should not be allowed to spread in any other manner. Such discharges should be received on pieces of cloth or paper which should be burned. If this cannot be done, they should be dropped into a vessel containing water.

(3) Infected articles and rooms should be cleaned and disinfected. Use disinfectant in every sickness. Wash the hands frequently.

(4) Hogs attacked by influenza are not usually seriously ill. Keep them away from the sick room. Do not allow them to run at large. They should remain away for a longer period.

(5) Special attention should be given to the disposal of the dead. Where nursing is done by friends and neighbors, they should be kept away from the sick room as much as possible and all unnecessary exposure avoided.

HONOR FLAGS FOR EXCEEDING ALLOTMENT

Feature of Victory Loan—Flag Will Have Red Border, White Field and Blue Stripes

Honor flags for cities, towns and villages of Canada exceeding their quotas in the second Victory loan campaign will be the feature of the drive which commences on Monday, October 28. Members of the local militia are confident that Vermilion will have the credit of floating a flag, but everyone is anxious that this town should establish a record and fly the emblem over lesser centres before any other town or village in the Dominion.

The honor flag, which is presented by His Excellency the Governor General, is being made of bunting, the border being as in the centre field white with the blue stripe to indicate the fire war issues, starting from the upper left hand corner and running to the centre of the flag, each stripe being longer to indicate the increase in sum of subscriptions and loans. In the lower right hand corner is the usual coloring of the Dominion ensign.

To allow sparsely settled districts an equal chance with the larger centres of population, the quotas have been apportioned [illegible] and it will be necessary for [illegible] to 25 per cent will be required to [illegible] place one of these in the white field of the flag. If they exceed it by 50 per cent they are allowed to have two crowns, 75 per cent three crowns, etc.

Pictures of the honor flag will be shown and every citizen of Vermilion should take a keen interest in the week of campaign in the hope of securing to win a flag before any other place in the district. Now [illegible] Victory Loan [illegible] the very [illegible] of all patriotic [illegible] Vermilion [illegible] will be [illegible] the people [illegible]

LOAN REQUIRED TO FULL EXTENT IF PEACE CAME TO-MORROW

Ottawa, Oct. 30 — In connection with the Victory loan campaign the minister of finance today said that he did not wish to create the impression that the Victory loan will be required to the full extent even if peace should be declared tomorrow. On the contrary, he said, it was necessary to carry on the campaign with the same vigor as if there were no prospect of peace. He was not prepared to say that the amount would be reduced, even if peace should be declared, as the expenditures of large sums of money for demobilization, etc., would be necessary, and he added, that the objective of five hundred millions should be reached.

NOTICE TO SOLDIERS ON HARVEST LEAVE.

Attention is directed to a recent announcement published in the Press by the Military Service Branch, Department of Justice, regarding extensions to be granted to men EXEMPTED AS FARMERS.

It is pointed out that this DOES NOT IN ANY WAY AFFECT MEN WHO HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY THE REGISTRAR TO REPORT to Depot Battalions and who have thereafter received leave of absence from the Military Authorities.

Once a man has been ordered to report for duty by the Registrar he leaves the jurisdiction of the Registrar and comes under that of the Department of Militia and Defence, and is to be considered as a soldier. This applies to men of the 20 to 22 Class who have been ordered to report by the Registrar in virtue of the cancellation of exemptions by Order in Council of the 20th April last, as well as to those ordered to report in the usual way on refusal of claim for exemption, or on expiration of exemption granted.

All men, accordingly, who have been ordered to report, and are therefore SOLDIERS, and who have subsequently been granted harvest leave by the military authorities, MUST, NOTWITHSTANDING THE NOTICE ABOVE REFERRED TO, REPORT ON THE EXPIRATION OF THAT LEAVE, unless they are notified to the contrary by their Commanding Officer or by a notice published by the Department of Militia and Defence.

Alfred James Hodder, a farmer residing six miles east of town, died of heart failure at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning, October 26th. The threshers were on his place and preparations were complete to commence, when Mr. Hodder was suddenly taken with heart failure expiring fifteen minutes later. He was 55 years of age and had been living here for a little more than a year. His wife survives him. The funeral was held at 1 o'clock on Monday last interment being made in the Vermilion cemetery. Mr. Hodder wishes to thank those who acted as pallbearers, the officiating clergyman and others who attended the funeral at the residence and also for the floral tributes received.

TO ERECT CHURCH AT COLD LAKE

At the close of the Sunday morning service Lake October 20, a meeting was held to consider the advisability of erecting a church. Rev J. L. Dacon, B.A., who is entrusted by the Presbyterian church in the French and bilingual work in Alberta, stated the urgent need of a place of worship at Cold Lake. His services which are required at Lac la Biche and Lac la Nonne, also at Cold Lake, have rendered it impossible to devote the requisite time to the work at Cold Lake. HUN PEACE NOTE FAILS TO FULFIL CONDITIONS

Neither Britain Nor France Have Faith in Motives of Enemy — Scheme of Proposed Peace Has Ulterior Motive—Germany Knowing She is Beaten, Wishes to End War

The London Post, commenting on France Maximilian's peace proposal to President Wilson takes the view that the German offer, as received here from the Austrian office, that the Kaiser is as much the inspirer of the note as his predecessor, and that he will be incontinently discovered when he has served his sinister turn.

The newspaper says that Maximilian is a puppet between the pan-German wire-pullers in which, at best, does the militarist dictatorship has directed the course of affairs. "So much is clear," the Morning Post adds. "The German government [illegible] and feels constrained to [illegible] intervene to throw the switch and blow up the bridge with demolition charges. The note is to endeavor to create a division among the allies and interest the attention of the people in the allied countries. No proposal directed to one failed among the allies can be considered.

The conditional surrender character of the general comments in Paris on the demand for peace sent by the central powers to President Wilson. It is felt here that Germany and her allies have not gone far enough in their regret to the president for his armarche, and that although they have stated that they are willing to talk peace on President Wilson's representations, they have not shown submission such as was forced upon Belgium.

BEAUTY and health usually go together. There may be classic features, but lacking the clear skin and healthful glow of the complexion they fail to attract.

VERMILION, ALTA., Nov. 6, 1918

Editor the Standard,
Sir,

During the completed organization of the canvassing committees in Vermilion and district, I should suggest that a meeting be called for the purpose of making an appeal to the people of the district. I am of the opinion a meeting of this kind would be of great assistance to the committees and would result in a much greater subscription than if the people were left entirely to themselves. I am making bank loans to applicants with the Letter of the paper [illegible] there can be no better subscription than one of its own readers.

I AM LESS THAN $10,000.

The canvassers for the town are J. Mackenzie, W. P. Fisher, W. I. Mackay and W. W. Scholey, assisted by which we are sure of a small, magnificent subscription. There was no time to [illegible] there is yet no better subscription than one of its readers.

Yours truly,

As a matter of business, what do you think of the plan?

You are a farmer.
Canada is a farming country.
Canada grows more food than the people of Canada need.
To prosper she must sell that surplus food.

Great Britain is our best customer for grain, pork, beef, cheese and other farm products.

Every practical man must see how important it is to hold the British trade. Canada wants not only the profit on this trade, she wishes to create a good-will in Britain towards Canadian products and thus assure our export business for the future.

At the moment Great Britain asks for credit, asks Canada to sell her the products of the farm, "on time." To hold her trade, it is necessary to give this credit.

This takes capital—immense capital. For Britain's purchases from Canada are huge, and these purchases must be paid for in cash.

In these times, it is not easy even for a nation as wealthy as Canada to procure money. Certainly, no other country can lend us money. The only way now open for Canada to secure money is to borrow from the people of Canada.

This is the reason for selling Victory Bonds.

Can anyone deny the sound business sense of this plan of protecting our valuable market?

From the standpoint of the man who lends, what better security could he get for his money? Where else could he get a five and a half per cent. return on such security? Where would he find an investment to pay interest so regularly and with so little trouble to the lender? Certainly Canadians have an opportunity to benefit very directly from this borrowing plan.

And the money Canada borrows is spent entirely in Canada—a very large part of it for the very crops the farmer has to sell.

Therefore, if the Victory Loan is a success, business in Canada must be good, the nation must prosper and so be able to carry on a vigorous war effort in France and Flanders.

As a practical man you must approve of the Victory Loan plan.

Then help it along. Put your own money into Victory Bonds; urge your friends to buy; work hard among your loyal neighbors to make the Victory Loan 1918 an overwhelming success.

DEATH OF MRS. W. WOOD

The prevailing epidemic unfortunately claimed as second victim in Vermilion, when Annie, wife of William Wood, died early Saturday morning, the 2nd inst. at the Lodge Hospital at the age of 37 years. Mrs. Wood contracted the disease through her children, three of whom were stricken with it, and the circumstances surrounding her death were thus made doubly sad. She leaves besides a sorrowing husband a family of four young children just at the time when the guidance of a mother's counsel here is so necessary. Mrs. Wood was a woman of wonderfully happy disposition and all who knew her are left the poorer by her cheerfulness that [illegible] sympathy of the community goes out to the bereft husband and family in [illegible] moment so much.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF THE VICTORY LOAN

Cost of the War, Problems of Production, Needs of Our Armies, Demands of Our Allies, All Must be Met Through the National Thrift, Economy and Self-Sacrificing Care—The Super-Gun That Never Misses Fire.

—By JOHN BLUE.

THE Victory Loan is a misnomer or [illegible] of the war. Last year $1,117 men and women of Alberta pledged seventeen millions of dollars to help pay our part of the cost and upkeep of the Army and Navy. This year the amount we undertake to raise is [illegible] of the Dominion, or about [illegible] of the total cost of the war for the year. Of course, we are not asked to pay this amount in cash. We are asked to lend it to the Government, and we get back our money with interest. Why do we do it? Why do we not refuse to lend the money? Why do we not say to the Government: "Let the rich pay for the war. They have the money. They have been making it out of the war. Let them pay for it"? Why do we not say that

Editor The Standard,
Sir,

Owing to the complete disorganization of the canvassing staff for the Victory Loan in town I would suggest that intending subscribers make application through their offices or the banks as their earliest convenience. The district of Vermilion is away below its quota and is fast in not anywhere near smaller and less prosperous districts. I am knowing blank forms of application with the Editor of this paper for the convenience of intending applicants. The Loan closes on the 16th. So far we have subscribed LESS THAN $10,000.

The canvassers for the town are John Sothirn W. F. Pike, W. F. MacKenzie and W. W. Pelletier (county all of whom are either ill or busily engaged in fighting the 'flu one way or another. Kindly thanks for you have your subscription ere it is too late.

There are two great causes of biliousness—they are constipation and defective liver action.

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken, they are not only correct constipation, but act upon the liver as well.

Quite unlike ordinary medicines which purge and give temporary relief, Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the conditions which cause biliousness and its permanent cures are effected. No person who occasionally uses Dr. Hamilton's Pills will ever suffer from the headache, bad stomach or bilious complaint. Get a 25c box today

"Did you gather why?" Kenyon be rejoined quickly.

Nothing definite. It was all vague and mysterious, but he spoke of some money he had won at cards which would not help him now . . . I think that he had meant to consult you in the disposition of that money, but before I dealt him blue sufficiently Mess—"

"Joey doesn't often consult anyone about the spending of money. On the rare occasions when he has it," Kenyon mused aloud. "And he is not the kind of your Bury Street expert, either."

"To all intents and purposes, in fact, I should wish the conference to well over the rest of the time I stayed with Sir Ambrose. I have a sincere regard for Joey, and I was greatly grieved Medora Bessington should be mulled out in a court of law. There is no having been so weary that I had taken to my chair. Being awakened by the rustling when I awoke, I felt it Medora after dressing for dinner in the dress from the box last night. I came on here—"

"The worst move you could have made, Mr. Clegg, Kenyon interrupted, anxious about . . . "Is that all?"

"It is all I told Sir Ambrose, but had meant to inform him about Lady Burke . . . a very recent acquaintance, probably irrelevant and anyhow I didn't get the chance . . . "

"Nothing is ever irrelevant, least of all in cases where there is a child mixed in the country," was Kenyon's answer. "By all means let him know Tom Bulbery has got into this tangled skein."

The Reverend Laurence Clegg suddenly shook off his languor. His perverted Kenyon, was the real centre which had imperiled this of place—any circumstance to interfere with which he had come to regard as a personal affront. Neither of the always existed a certain amount of friction between the two men, but the latter's present attitude was one of unmitigated hostility.

"Then I'll catch the next train back," said the Reverend Laurence, rising with an air of achievement. "You know as much as I do—except, perhaps, one thing. My mother's wife is hostile to Sir Ambrose . . . she has the most poisonous tongue in the country, and is doing a lot of harm with it. A word with Inspector Kenyon—"

Orders were made to be avoided, he was frowned. Kenyon smiled as he ordered it was taken.

CHAPTER XIII

Early Birds and a Worm

Restless and unhappy, Maria Corbyn had been unable to sleep through the few dark hours of the frost sun. She crept into an unfrequented bedroom, blinds with its heavy curtains still drawn, and dressed herself and stole out of the door of home into the hidden garden. So she would go up to the moor and see the sun rise, a favorite habit of hers in happier days. Perhaps for a little spell it would still the dull dread that was eating at her heart.

Passing through the wicket gate into the carriage drive leading to the moor, she turned into an unfrequented path which mounted to the top of the hill, and presently she was out on the open moor. Happy thoughts were presumably absent from the mind that sheltered the little white head as it pressed on merrily and hopefully. Maria had promised to marry Basil before he left to join. She preferred a dozen or two miles to passing the old house that was associated with memories of her happy childhood!

There was only one speck of comfort in the hide on morass in which she found herself to be engulfed. Jasper Morgan, having secured 1 of Medora's bonds, had sought no Lorry's press. He ran to the extent of a thousand pounds. He proposed his company no few appearing to be content with the usual 5 per cent. interest. Maria knew, who had heard Morgan's solicitor at the dinner-house on the occasion when Mr. Morgan had been so anxious to get the dinner home. It had been Archibald Cumbe whom he had asked to call. Maria had had no difficulty in avoiding him. Had it been possible to avoid hearing the sweet words sparkled from Jasper Morgan's lips, she would have done so. Her mind was entirely occupied by the thought of Basil Kenyon, and the danger that threatened him. Maria knew more than anyone else how innocent he was of the charge that hung over him.

A Record Atlantic Voyage

First Steamship Crossed the Ocean Eighty-five Years Ago

While it is nearly one hundred years since the first attempt to cross the Atlantic under steam—Canadians may remember with justifiable pride that in September, 1833, eighty-five years ago, there arrived at Gravesend from Quebec, Bay after what must have been an extreme voyage, the ship Royal William. Built first to cross by steam alone, that she was launched from it's back at St Mary's current and for two hundred horse power engines were made and installed by Bennett and Henderson, of Montreal.

The American predecessor of the Royal William, the Savannah, did, in fact, make the Atlantic voyage as early as the spring of 1819, but was forced to resort to sails during the greater part of the time.

The Royal William was entirely a Canadian ship, built by Robert Hilyard, at Quebec for the Quebec and Halifax Steam Navigation Company and was towed to the Pool of St. Mary's current and her engines were her finished and Lady Aylmer officiated at the christening.

Intended for Canadian coastwise trade, the Royal William had a capacity of 1,370 tons, but because of her build and the space occupied by her engines, her actual capacity was much less, being only some 707 tons. She was 146 feet and her deck 126 feet in length of keel by 26 feet in beam. She was rigged like a three-masted schooner, carried three square sails on her foremast and large fore and aft sails.

She had nice berths in the order of 8 cabins, a parlor, also a dining saloon in a round house on her deck. When ready to put to sea, she had cost her owners £16,000.

On her first trip was from Quebec to Halifax and back beginning in August, 1833. Just what she proved her profitable it was decided to send her to England where she might be put on the Atlantic.

On August 1 1833 Capt John McDougall left Quebec on the morning of the 1st, with a number of cabin passengers and a general cargo. He reached Gravesend on the 17th, and after landing passengers and discharging cargo, she was towed up to London and moored in the Pool of St. Mary's current.

Here she was engaged, with a number of other vessels, in the trade between London and Quebec, and was commanded by Capt. Roberts.

Her last trip was from Quebec to Halifax and home in August, 1834. Just what she proved her unprofitable it was decided to send her to England where she might be put on the Atlantic.

CANADA SHOULD STILL FIGHT THE GOOD FIGHT

Intends to be in Strong at Death of Prussian Beast

Chairman U.F.A. of Dewberry Makes Strong Appeal for Victory Bonds

Editor STANDARD

Dear Sir:—

As chairman of the Dewberry U. F. A. I wish on behalf of the members to thank you sincerely for the help to our work we have long time to time received by way of publicity of our doings in your paper, and would be further grateful if you would in your next issue print the following appeal for the sale of war bonds locally.

We intended to take up this highly important matter of subscriptions to Victory Bonds at our regular November meeting last Saturday (Nov. 2nd) but said meeting had to be called off on account of Flu epidemic, hence this appeal for aid from the Standard.

At this late date it would seem almost superfluous to reiterate the justice of the allied cause and why Canada should still fight the good fight. One has only to recall Germany's sudden, unprovoked and treacherous perpetration thrust at the heart of free civilization, and the unbelievably ghoulish methods pursued through the whole course of the war to realize that our non-participation would be unthinkable. Respecting Willie II and to the late Paul Kruger I only infinitely more so may we repeat with Kipling "Stewards of the judgment order not this thing."

Also our war record is a proud one. Not long since a U.S. paper said that in view of the work done on the European battlefields by our incomparable soldiers that to be a Canadian was to be one of the elect of the earth. And the Americans mean it. Again we have testimony even from the enemy. A German soldier speaking of an irresistible British tank attack which seemed to have much improved him with its crushing force in said to have spoken of the inexorable advance of these great machines adding significantly as a climax, "and behind these came the Scots and Canadians." This clinched the matter.

That maintaining an army in the field from three to six thousand miles from its base requires much money does not here need to be proven. Britain has been the financial wonder of the world but what with building and keeping up a mighty war machine on very short notice, and financing her allies to check the tremendous and ghastly plans of Prussianism, the "right little inland" has been obliged at last to let us furnish our own money to carry on our war effort. We ought to be glad and proud to do it. We have not yet begun to make sacrifice yet of any kind equal to the motherland all honor to her. The old country is on her toes; let us get on ours even though power is in the air it is but a German power. The Hun is still unsubdued. His trail is even lately marked by smoking village sites, poisoned and devastated country side. Also the "Landovery Castle" and "Leinster" marine horrors are of recent date. And let us not forget the mighty work of the navy the backbone of civilization's line against the great modern world pirate and vandal who, if we are to have a life worth the living must be made to realize something of the enormity of his unmentionable crimes.

The late Lieut-Col. John McRae, author of the immortal "In Flanders' Fields" verses in another less known but to me very touching poem called "The Anxious Dead," a part in which he says in a wistful that means to carry a world of pathos—"Those fought their fights in time of bitter fear and died not knowing how the day had gone." When we recall how in the early days of the unequal contest the best and noblest of our race threw themselves unreservedly into the breach practically facing with bare breasts avalanches of German steel, high explosives, poison gas, liquid fire and all the devilities of the great modern scientific barbarians in order to stem the tide of Prussian world slavery and beastliness, surely it is enough to make us take a mighty resolve that in so far as reinforcements and equipment is concerned, our matchless men will in all future encounters with the fell destroyer have no cause to echo in bitter lamenting how the day had gone.' There are worse fates than dying in a fair fight for a just cause—living the life of a slacker for instance.

Canada intends to be in at the death of the Prussian Beast. Victory Bonds will do it. "Avenge Mightily."

W. H. Anderson.

She stood for a while, drinking in the fresh, balmy air, and looking by degrees at ease to the west and south and eastward and southward the wide moorland, broken into here and there on the lower levels by the outposts of cultivation. Her eyes relatively strayed to one of the latter—the hollow where trust the crooked chimneys and gables of Comlyn Marie Farm. But she fought down the thought of the farm, where its owner and resolutely set out for her destination. The way was long, as stated but little, but she would not by him spoil the one glorious hour of solitude with earth and sea and sky.

She chose the sheep track that led to the abandoned mine, and on approaching the group of ruined huts found by the grass-covered cut on the left with a pang of disappointment that the mine was not an occupied one, as she had hoped. Half way down the cut a flock of sheep and lambs was roaming and bleating, and Mavis halted, stricken with terror. It was only a week ago, and the sight of Jasper Morgan angling and scrambling in that self same spot and of the weird pedestrian who had popped out of the shaft was fresh in her memory. At such an early hour she had reckoned on freedom from that evil presence, and she was turning to flee when its explosive and the "honey tones," the Mountebank's voice in the distance, reached her ears. "Hi, there, Mavis!" it called. "Don't run away from me! I've something to tell you!"

"That you, Miss Comlyn? Come and lend a hand!" was waited down by the wind.

After all it was only Tom Berbury, and Mavis went forward, more pleased of than she had ever been before to meet the stranger boy whose ob-vious devotion to her she had never quite reciprocated—possibly because of her double her brother. Mrs. Barber was the kind of clergyman's wife who has no use for old members with every corner who had put money a shelter on the dethroned queen and his machinery, dragging upon their descent from Comlyn Court to the obscurity of the down-house.

"What are you up to, Tom?" Mavis called out when she reached the top of the cutting.

The boy looked down at her with the first sign of simple enthusiasm she had ever noticed on his owl like features.

"Searching for rock specimens," was his "Come and help."

Mavis stooped over the rugged surface of the debris at outdoor rock to her ankles, and doubtfully regard ed a small chunk of blende grey ore, her which the boy held for Les inspection.

"I suppose you find more like that," said on her extreme old man's age. "I'll see a good luck at it, and then go on to the farm. I'm in a hurry, and I've got to get home before dark."

"Good heavens! Is that what you know Miss Comlyn? It would be a crime if you left us to run out of helping yourself."

"Help you? I don't understand what I could do."

"Why, you could help me to find more of the same sort. I'm sure there's a lot of it about here, and I'm certain I could find it if you'd only help me."

Vast Importance Of Signal Service

Most Modernize Uninterrupted Communication Between Infantry and Artillery

Fighting a battle is as much a concentrated business as a Christmas mail order service. Every department must function or the whole will be a mess. Every message must get through with the greatest speed and dispatch. Every order must be executed. Every movement must be prepared, and that is only when the basic matrix that the members can be filled in and chairs and take a moment at ease. They have done their part, so be around at the plan in not to others during the progress of the battle. A three-minute stream of human ex-pigeons, way many keep up and in close touch with their transport, every line keeps in with the other, three units with the corps head quarters, and corps with the army. They must maintain uninterrupted communication between themselves, in infantry and in artillery. A loss of communication at a critical moment of the manager must mean the put of a battle or a battalion.

The proprietary work of signal service, to use a civilian term, is done by the intelligence, it is, says an authority, the "brain" of the army. Its chief, A. He is responsible for the signal communications and the secrecy of the signal communications. He is responsible for the coordination on the divisional and corps headquarters staffs. He has supervised and empowered the organization of the various communications with ranking officers in charge of the various units. The news of the cessation of hostilities by the signing of the armistice by the Germans, on the terms offered by the Allies and the United States brought a holiday to Vermilion on Monday, as it did to all the towns and cities of the British Empire. The armistice does not mean that peace terms are immediately to be signed, but it means that the enemy has practically surrendered unconditionally and that the terms of peace will be dictated by the Allies.

All during the negotiations Canada's armies will be at full strength and the munitions and supplies will remain coming during the year of demobilization. Not one unit of these troops have to be disbanded or clothed and equipped with everything as before, with the added and happy exception of munitions, but we shall be expected for a year and more to remain on a forward footing and in other respects to be fully prepared for any eventuality. Our overseas friends need and expect us to do this, and the armistice terms do not mean a degree in 1919 as in the past.

It is not out of the question that next year perhaps more than now will be necessary in the future, but it is doubtful if the future loan will be sold on a 5½ per cent. basis. Cheaper money will surely become available as government borrowings

Jack Canuck—Storekeeper

IN Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta Jack Canuck is running an immense produce business these days.

He has millions of bushels of grain; boat loads of flour; vast herds of cattle, sheep and pigs; butter, cheese and poultry and other food supplies by the trainload.

The customers at his counter are Great Britain, France and Italy, whose credit is unquestionable, but who are just now short of cash. So Jack Canuck in order to sell his goods must give his customers credit until the war is won.

It is just the same situation that confronts every storekeeper who gives farmers credit until their crops are harvested.

So Jack Canuck borrows money on Victory Bonds in order to give credit to his customers.

He pays good interest on Victory Bonds. He offers as security all Canada and everything contained therein.

By issuing Victory Bonds Jack Canuck keeps his big business going and all the money he borrows from Canadians he spends in Canada.

* * * *

We must buy Victory Bonds in order that the business of Jack Canuck shall remain prosperous and healthy.

We must buy Victory Bonds in order that our brave and gallant army shall have food, clothing and ammunition to win complete Victory over the enemies of our country.

CURSE OF CAIN FALLS HEAVILY ON THE KAISER

Arch - Murderer, Broken and Aged, Sneaks Into Holland By Automobile

WHAT'S DESTINATION IS A MYSTERY

Last of the War Lords Is Not Wanted Anywhere

London, Nov. 14.—William Hohenzollern, the former German Emperor, according to a report from Amsterdam, has arrived at a chateau near the village of Velp, 50 miles southeast of Amsterdam and 80 miles northeast of Eyden, where he crossed the frontier.

He was accompanied by two motorists. All their were in civilian attire.

The former German emperor made an inglorious entry into Holland secret ing to reports from Eyden. At 7.30 o'clock Sunday morning ten travel-stained automobiles driven by Prussian officers were seen coming slowly through the fog along the Vise-Maastricht highroad. The last Belgian village Meuland, which is situated in the border line, was still asleep. The noise of the motors brought out a crowd of curious villagers.

The former ruler was dressed in the uniform of a general with silver stripes, and carried a sword. His unmistakable martial figure was loud lord and head on a walking stick, while his eyes stared straight ahead.

The Dutch frontier guards stopped the cortege. After some brief formalities the automobiles were conducted to the railway station at Eysden. Detectives and mounted police formed a cordon about the station.

Crowds of Belgian refugees swarmed about the station crying "A bas Guillaume" (down with Wilhelm). An imperial train arrived at the station an hour later. It consisted of fourteen cars and William Hohenzollern, who had walked up and down the railway platform entered the train and changed to civilian clothes.

Arrangements for the reception of the Germans were made by General Van Heutz, aide de camp to Queen Wilhelmina, who went to German headquarters last week.

The last London census was taken in 1911, and gave the city a total population of 7,251,358. The last New York census, 1915, showed a population of 5,002,221.

E.P.M. Mortimore, the embalmer of Edmonton of Edmonton, will be at Alberta Hotel, Vermilion, Thursday, November 14th. Islay on Wed. 13 and Manville, Friday 15.

Sir Thomas White Expresses Warm Appreciation of Work of Press in Victory Loan 1918 Campaign

The following letter from Sir Thomas W. White, K.C.M.G., chairman of the Executive Committee of the Patriotic and Publicity Committee of the Privy Council, is self-explanatory:

I desire personally and on behalf of the Victory Loan Committee to express our most thanks to the press of Canada for the splendid support given so freely and generously to the Victory Loan. Many fine patriotic service in the past deeply appreciated by reason of knowledge of the many difficulties which have been imposed upon the press by war conditions and of the disorganization of staff in so many parts of the Dominion owing to the present crisis. I feel that the success of the Loan will be in large measure attributable to the invaluable assistance of the press.

"If I Could Only Be Strong and Healthy Like Other Girls."

THIS is the longing of the girl who is pale, weak and anaemic.

She is lacking in energy and strength, and is so easily tired out that she does not feel like taking outdoor exercise or joining others in social gatherings.

The healthy, happy outdoor girls get in the way of helping her to herself, and she gets lonely, discouraged and despondent.

The source of trouble is in the condition of the blood, which has become thin and watery, and utterly lacking in nutritive qualities.

This anaemic condition is shown in the pallor of the lips, the gums and the eyelids, as well as in the pale face and angular form.

Nature has provided for the purifying of the blood by having it sent to the lungs periodically to come in contact with the fresh air and take up new oxygen.

Unfortunately this plan of nature has been improved by human beings living too much indoors and breathing over and over again the vitiated air of ill-ventilated rooms. This is the usual cause of anaemia, as well as a reason for its continuation.

The blood gets ever thinner and more watery, until the human system is literally starved.

The digestive system has failed and your health must go naturally should until you can find some means of better tion.

Fortunately, Dr Chase's Nerve Food furnishes the vital elements needed for regenerating the entire organism when in a run-down condition.

Gradually and certainly the building up process is established, and the pure rich blood created in the body affords health and strength to every part of the body.

Weakness and disease, the sense of discouragement, failure and unhappiness give place to new hopes, new confidence and stronger determination to succeed.

The appetite is sharpened, digestion improves, and you find yourself enjoying your meals and taking a new interest in life. As you gain in strength and energy you feel encouraged to keep up the use of this restorative treatment until thoroughly restored to health

The rosy cheeks and healthful appearance of people who have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is its strongest recommendation, and accounts for its ever-increasing popularity

It is for sale by all dealers, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, or by mail from Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy

But the tattered bundles seemed to be exercising a strange fascination on the boy. Sticking his hands in his pockets and his feet stubbornly on the ground, he observed the occupant of the hut at leisure, taking in the three days of existing in the matted tangle of long-grey hair, the baby prominence of the unshaved beard through one of which a toe was shown. Then Tom Bunbury opted a question not to answer that plea for help. He addressed himself to the shabby humanity, whose attendance was extremely expected, and he performed his remarks with the exasperating coolness which with him did duty for a laugh.

"Tom, you've got a good check on you to kill. Shoot the police and it's goes about hard," he said. "Take me to prison you to the hotel proprietor-landlord. She will be glad to get a payment for your night's lodging. I'm sure you'll pay good better prison."

The tramp got to his feet and started to hitch out on to the moor, the two young people falling back before him.

"You're a poor worm and you're the early that's got him," he mumbled to them. "It's hard if I haven't got myself shelter at such a shack as that."

The grim heart of Mavis was touched. "Don't think of leaving," she hastened to beg of the man's. "A young friend was only joking, and really had tents, too. You can have as long as you wish. No one is likely to interfere with you, and so you can say that you have Miss Comlyn's permission."

The man breathed his farewell and thanking her in the white as he then shambled back to his lair, while the boy followed Mavis silently across the moor, evidently ransacked the crisis.

"I don't mean to be rough you, Tom," the girl replied the on soon as last. "But I hate to be down on the entertainer, and he can't do any harm here."

"I beg your pardon—he has done a great deal of harm already," was the surly rejoinder. And Mavis pursued the subject no more was heard concerning. Stunned Indians continued to the end of the honeycomb walk.

CHAPTER XIV.

Your Old Pals

The tramp, though he had left his last interview, was not to be seen in the corner where his repose had been broken, and when, in response to the summons at the door he watched the disturbers from a point on the moor out of sight, and then, producing a packet of neatly-rolled cards, he dressed them a

Morgan and his sister plunged in the great moor lings and proceeded to go through results the same audio as those to which Tom Bunbury had enlisted Mavis Comlyn's services. Climbing the mound, and about and pried on its rugged surface, but much more methodically than their predecessors. Both men were provided with miniature picks, with which they turned over the wedge-grass rubbish. For a long time their labors were unrewarded. Then, suddenly, the Frenchman shouted to his companion that he had found a specimen.

"It's only a small one, but I'll go down a little bit further."

Crouching an assent, Morgan watched his brother-in-law disappear beyond the summit, carrying with him his tool. Five, ten minutes passed. Wilkens was still engaged in the task of helping the Frenchman to the stranger, who, without his knowing it, had made an ineffectual attempt to grab his arm before he sank into the stone mass. Dashing the protuberant eyes bulged in an effort to clear the mud which might have been saying upon him, but no familiar expression was to be gathered from the weathered face enclosed in its setting of matted hair. Morgan seemed to be more fortunate, and his gruff farther addressed him with an almost jovial state of

"There, Mont, it's all over. Don't generally get a chance to see the inside of a bog, but I was at Portland Bill when the Alum Bay boat was wrecked, and I've had to do with the dead ever since. Don't you worry about the stranger, he's all right. He's quarters are toilet and comfortable, and he is in every way superior to the average cycling overland. Otherwise, he would not have been left to himself. Now, what you say, Mont, would you like to make a short cut home across the moor, and leave the doings of the French coast guard to look after themselves? Or would you like to see Tom Bunbury again?"

Mont, who had been in a state of mute, dumb astonishment at the sudden turn of events, found his tongue at last. "I'll go home," he said, "and tell mother what's happened. Then I'll come back and help you."

"And I've been living rough, sailor, and grossed a bit of hair," the stranger took up the conversation. Proposes Eating Wild Donkeys

Bank Will Satisfy the Taste of Most Pensioners

Wild horses have become a pest in some districts of Australia. Now a scheme is on foot to exterminate the wild donkeys, which are said to be even more numerous and destructive than the horses.

The animals are descended from those which escaped from the early settlers. They are found in the interior of the country, and are said to be of a very fine breed. Their flesh is said to be excellent eating, and it is proposed to kill them and can it for the use of pensioners.

Judea Friendly Toward Conquerors

Life Went On as Usual During Bombardment

The freshness of early morning in Judea is still undisturbed by the sun's rays.

Into the hill the silver waters sip pole and quiver in the shaking rays, the cattle low as they wend their lumbering descent somewhere to the hills, and the cheese and curd vendors extend upon all the air. In every street the cafes are open, and the smell of coffee and tobacco smoke makes a delicious mingling with the cool morning air.

Over the hill comes an army of trade purchasers the commerce of the British Empire, and the Germans, for all the hostile way I am sure, have left the Judean capital as it was in the days of peace. Not a shop is closed, not a single one of the many cafes has been destroyed or damaged in the bombardments. Everywhere the same activity prevails, and the same cheerful bustle.

Rise of a Balkan Republic

Originated Through Initiative of French Colonist

A republic has already arisen in Albania as the result of the recent war. It is the work of a Frenchman, a typical French colonist, who has been living in Albania for many years. He is a man of action, and when he saw that the country was without a government, he took the matter in hand himself.

He called a meeting of the chiefs of the various districts, and persuaded them to form a provisional government. He then drew up a constitution, which was adopted by the meeting, and he was elected president.

The new republic has a population of about 1,000,000, and its capital is Durazzo. It has a small army, and a navy consisting of a few gunboats.

The progress of the 11th Council in the interests of the Town, as depicted in the Taxes paid between the 1st of January and the 1st of December, is somewhat remarkable. Over $1,000 more taxes were paid in the latter month than in any other month of the year.

The late James Rutherford Cavill, whose death was noted in last issue, was born in the province of Quebec but resided in the West for the past thirteen years. He was just 27 years 9 months and 5 days old. Peti, as he was familiarly known to all, was married in July 1917 and leaves a widow and little baby girl only two weeks old. He was a former member of the 151st Battalion and was engaged in Building Home, Limited, charged using 14 various trades. The immediate cause of death was an abscess in the ear following a severe attack of Influenza, on Thursday, November 14th, he passed away, the funeral being held Friday to the Vermilion cemetery Rev. H. A. Edwards officiating. The sincere sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family.

A bright little life passed out Saturday last in the death of Freddie, only child of Mrs. Fred Wittle, born from pneumonia following the influenza. He would have been two years old Monday next. Freddie was loved by all who knew him, possessing a bright and sunny disposition and was the joy and comfort of his mother's heart—given as it seemed to cheer her in the news received of the loss of her husband in France. Home the sympathy is extended to Mrs. Wittle in her double bereavement. The funeral was held Monday from St. Aidan's church to the Vermilion cemetery.

Ralph Berry, formerly of Vermilion and well known farming district, the Beech Ancona Kootenay Country, writes that the frost set in early this year, much earlier than usual, in the Kootenay district.

The annual meeting of rate-payers under by-law for rural Medical relief will be held tonight in the Council chambers at 8 o'clock.

The weather has taken a very decided change for the worse during the past week, and the first snow of the season fell on Tuesday night. Temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero have been recorded, and the ground is covered with a heavy blanket of snow.

THE STANDARD

VERMILION, ALBERTA

There was a time when people were content to live in a city, or even in a certain little area about a city—little circles of kindness, little bounds of love—It must be that those circles are the main and most of today's unrest, literally, is the desire the world feels the circle. I mean, instead of hanging about them. For it is a fact that every man of right feelings is trying to reach out beyond his own affairs personally, to the affairs generally, a number of the citizens have come out openly for a campaign of hope in the personal of the town in general. They have organized what might be called and have elected J. W. H. Morrison as president for May; and the following gentlemen as councillors: W. A. Bowen, Leroy H. West and Wesson H. Hewson and the executive is pressed to announce a week of these gentlemen to be added to the request made of them.

These men have not need nor any intention to be "people of the town of Vermilion." They stand for only one in the administration of civic affairs and a progressive municipal government. They are not carrying entire and fully realizing the opinion that which will be imposed on them and consequently will need the united support of the people in this critical moment of the town's history.

Mr. Morrison as mayor, will be a man most capable and efficient in such affairs. He is level-headed, quiet as but nevertheless progressive and fully cognizant of the town's needs and condition. He does undoubtedly desire to make a mayor in whom the public will have unbounded confidence. As also the other men nominated, all of whom have need be said. They are all business men of ability, integrity and thoroughly appreciative of the requirements of the town. The Standard gives these candidates its unqualified support and appeals to the ratepayers of the Town of Vermilion to do likewise. They should all be elected by acclamation.

The Standard is pleased to announce that A. A. M. Craig has decided to remain on the Council of the town of Vermilion and finish out his term. Mr. Craig had seriously contemplated resigning but has been persuaded upon to reconsider his intention. He has done his life in the of the new interest just taken in town matters and which has stimulated in the selection of what probably constitutes the most progressive group of candidates placed before the electors of Vermilion for some time. Men like Mr. Craig are needed on the council at this juncture of the town's history when finances have to be re-arranged and a general overhauling made of the town's business generally.

Germans Preparing to Embark on Commercial Campaigns in East

London - Captain Persius, the German naval critic, has chosen the moment when the fleet vessels of the enemy are about to be surrendered to the allies, to publish in the Berlin Lokalzeit a sensational article containing revelations regarding the German fleet. Captain Persius declares that the German fleet was in no shape to give battle to the British fleet on the 21st and 22nd of the month of August, 1914. Germany had "serious mistakes or oversights, but not one permanent, while Great Britain had a double one, that, namely, of the mistakes of von Tirpitz, was not serious and was quite fatal." In the Skaggerrak battle, he says, the German fleet was saved from destruction "by good leading and partly by favourable weather conditions. Had the battle been over or Admiral Hipper's battleships less able, or the whole German fleet engaged, the hungry British had long ago been ready and waiting for the fifth and crowning act of the tragedy." At a conference on June 1 Captain Persius says, it was clear to every thinking man that the Skaggerrak battle must be the only natural engagement of the war.

Dairy Show at Winnipeg

To Be Greatest Demonstration of Its Kind Ever Held in Canada

A dairy show will be held at Winnipeg, February 17 to 21, 1918, in connection with the annual convention of the Manitoba Dairy Association. The last convention of the association at Winnipeg in January of this year, was, by common consent, the best ever held in Canada. A large factor in making it such a success was the interesting educational character. It was not simply a convention, but a school of instruction for the dairy farmer. Plans which have set the new standard for cream quality butter during the present season. Still greater emphasis is to be put on the cream-grading idea in connection with the next convention, which will be held in January of 1918. Many of the representative creameries and dairy plant operators and manufacturers of Western Canada will be present to take part in the programme and exhibits, has been secured for the meeting. Dairy cattle breeders and dairy cattle judges will be present in large numbers, while great interest has been taken in the exhibits of cows and dairy products. The annual was quite interesting. In the Skaggerrak battle, he says, the German fleet was saved from destruction "by good leading and partly by favourable weather conditions. Had the battle been over or Admiral Hipper's battleships less able, or the whole German fleet engaged. The hungry British had long ago been ready and waiting for the fifth and crowning act of the tragedy." At a conference on June 1 Captain Persius says, it was clear to every thinking man that the Skaggerrak battle must be the only natural engagement of the war.

THE STANDARD
VERMILION, ALBERTA
S. R. P. CORBIN, Editor

THE STANDARD
VERMILION, ALTA., DEC. 4, 1919

Contrary to general expectations there is a fight all along the line for municipal honors this year. This is an indication that the people are taking an interest in civic matters, but we question if there would have been that awakening if it were not for the fact that a very large number of men are letting it be known that the affairs of the town have been drifting to just such a state as to call a meeting and get a new set of men with new ideas to take their seats at the council.

In certain quarters the Standard is being roundly abused for its comments last week on civic matters. In other words we are told that the evidence was not interesting enough. However the election probably has been the best the public has had not kept proper reports tab on the record the past few years, if it had and was more critical of its actions then might not have reminded so much to say at the present time.

Sitting on the fence [illegible] as the editor knows is a thankless job, but nobody should be on that board who is not spot enough to take any criticisms levelled against that board.

To rage about what a paper says in connection with municipal matters gets one nowhere. Half truth stings and probably that is the reason why in certain quarters there is so much fuming. The electors want to know about town matters and if the council are not willing to make these publicity give the necessary explanations then they need not be surprised if someone else does it for them.

The outline of the year's work of the council printed this issue was handed in by Councillor Reynolds with the request for publication which we are pleased to accord it.

The doleful picture presented of the finances of the town shows where the finance committee will undergo a change at the next election. Apart from the great commercial prosperity of Vermilion Civic finances run the right way in office can be put in prosperous.

The statement appears to me that the council almost up against a serious financial difficulty. It certainly be called to [illegible] the [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

GEO. S. MATTHEWS IS VICTIM OF EPIDEMIC

Local Barrister Passes Away This Thursday at Noon Was Held in High Esteem

The death took place at noon this Thursday of Geo S. Matthews, barrister, of influenza after ten days illness. Deceased was 42 years of age and leaves a widow to mourn his loss. The family home is in Manitoba.

The late Mr. Matthews came to Vermilion shortly after he was admitted to the bar in 1911 and by his energy and devotion to his profession built up a large and lucrative practice. He took a very prominent interest in matters appertaining to the welfare of the town As treasurer of the Red Cross funds and in the success of the campaign he was due to be presented, since, and his death will be keenly felt by those interested in that work. Upon the outbreak of the influenza epidemic and in the absence of Mayor Seed the late Mr. Hines, he took upon himself the direction of the relief operations in connection with the Board of Health and spared neither time nor energy. The deceased was married three years ago to Miss Minnie Gordon of Scotsdale, Ontario. Out of respect to his memory the law offices of J.W.G. Morrison and Elliott & Loughlin are closed for a Friday noon until Monday morning.

There was a tap at the door and Jessop appeared, correct in every detail as to tech and carrying a portfolio under his arm.

"I am sorry to disturb you over your wine, sir," he said, "but there is a report to be left back down Institute on arriving you. I told him that you were finishing dinner, but he would take no denial. He seems the sort of person to create a disturbance."

"Have the man into the pantry and keep him out of sight," he said. "I will ring if I want to see him. One moment, Jessop," he added, as he turned to go, "did he give you any idea of what he's come for?"

"He was very mysterious, sir, but I gathered that the police were after him about Master Herbert. He talked a lot of claiming your help as a friend of a friend of yours."

"Did he, the cadet!" exclaimed Morgan, on the better of him. "Well, sir, Jessop, Jessop, keep him till I ring—do you hear?"

The butler bowed and retired as Morgan resumed his seat. He had a wrath on his guest till Herbert's accolade once and once glowed like hot riveted.

"You cursed bungler," he stormed. "With your cursed folly you might have spoilt an outwardly risen record, but now, just at the crisis on which all hangs depend, your mistakes are made and hit you—as well, which is all that counts. That Calvert is one of the right goods, eh? There's no getting out of it—that you've done time at Portland!"

"I am afraid not" was the Duke's son's dismal confession. "I only wish I have told you before we went into this together, but you didn't give me have any scruples, and I thought it had no bearing on our bargain."

"Leave it at that," Morgan said, in by quieted down. "We must decide how to deal with the Calvert."

In the ensuing hour Jessop, a curious mode ending his true hips, had gone down to the back door and had conducted Mr. Calvert into his pantry. The butler's manner had differed widely from what might have been expected from a gentleman's upper servant ordered to admit a tagged man to his sanctum. Pointing to a chair, it poured a generous one of whisky.

"I've got to that, he said, "and able to be governor will ring when he's free. Been on the trail long?"

The tramp replied that he had left Betsie, the bother's young woman. "Yes," he replied wearily, "long three years from the time I and my mate, were tried at the assizes for the Ladies' account, and I'm more than I thought. Not guilty, they brought you and I had a fortune for a week."

Jessop pulled his nose and laughed softly. "Ah he said, "you've got back. It was there to you he had determined to the chance to come over the border, because, Of course, I weren't quite willing with the more than I could, as fill out the jury would have found you guilty."

"I quite agree," commissioner, "and I'm equally appreciative. Come, go and smoke some round at the pantry apartment. Jessop's quarters are the best in the house. Make yourself comfortable there, and I'll be with you in a few minutes."

Jessop pulled himself up with a jerk and a grin

TO THE ELECTORS of the Town of Vermilion

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

At the request of a large number of the electors I am in the field as a candidate for Mayor and appeal to you for your support and influence. Without making any promises as to policies, I believe with a few many of you that a change in civic administration is not only desirable, but imperative if we are to take our place among the progressive towns of the west. It has been apparent to everyone that under the old Council there was an unwarrantable lack somewhere which was not making to the town's best interests. I am not going to criticise but will content by stating that if honored with the confidence of the electors of Vermilion they will see a marked change for the better in the conducting of our civic affairs—there must be a reorganization in order that the town's business will be carried out expeditiously and effectively. The matter of finances requires imperative attention in the very vital issue of the stability of our town, and this may necessitate an inquiry into probable new sources of revenue and retrenchment in connection with all matters at present available. Whether elected or not concerns me little personally—but I feel in the interests of the town that a new set of men at the council board is desirable. I feel also that if the retiring ones not being elected to assume interest in civic matters and the general dependable conditions which have prevailed, it will have accomplished something towards [illegible]

The Staff of the Isolation Hospital at the School of Agriculture wish to thank the people of the town and district for the many kind cares taken during the stress of the epidemic. Special thanks is due to the Red Cross Society for the promptness with which they filled every request for supplies made by the nursing staff and to Womens' Institute for the gifts of chickens, broth, cooking, etc., received and baking which came at a very opportune time. They also wish to thank those who furnished cars so willingly.

ISLAY CITIZEN DIES

In the Isley hospital on Thursday, November 28th, at 1.30 p.m. there passed to his last rest Alexander Robertson Young, for the past six years a highly esteemed citizen of this community. The late Mr. Young was born in Montreal, Scotland thirty-three years ago. In 1911 he came to Western Canada and in the following year settled in Islay where he engaged as a baker and merchant.

Last spring Mr. Young underwent a critical operation for appendicitis from which he made a good recovery at the time. But his weakened condition was further impaired by the shock sustained a few weeks ago when his shop and dwelling were destroyed by fire, so that his powers of resistance were unable to overcome a new attack of the flu which developed into pneumonia.

Mr. Young was possessed of genial worth, a manly spirit and the purest devotion to his home and friends. He is survived by his wife and an infant daughter, Nora, aged four, and one half years.

The funeral on Saturday afternoon passed from the late residence of which he was a member, to the Isley cemetery where service was conducted by Mr. Emmett Beattie, [illegible] a number were present of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hendrie and to the [illegible] in their sore affliction.

The deep sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved

Australia Will Sell Wheat

Minimum Price Has Been Set at $1.18 Per Bushel

London.—The Morning Post, commenting on the farmer-German wheat purchase, declares that Australia is the only country that can supply Britain with wheat in quantity sufficient to make any material difference in the world's shortage. The paper says:

"It is significant that the Australian government has taken the unusual step of fixing a minimum price for wheat. This is a guarantee to the farmer that he will not be forced to sell his wheat at a loss, and it is a guarantee that the government will not be forced to buy wheat at a price which will be a burden on the taxpayer. Australia has a record crop, and the government is anxious to get the wheat on the market as soon as possible. The rest of the wheat supply on hand is small."

Ex-Kaiser Has Many Adherents

Little Doubt That Counter-revolution Will Be Attempted Soon

London.—It would be a most unwise thing to disregard the fact that Germany and Austria-Hungary are with the ex-Kaiser, and that there are many adherents of the old regime in the new republics. The task of the counter-revolutionaries will be made easier by the fact that the German people have been deceived as to the real situation in Germany, and that the rest of the world is not in a position to realize the extent of the disorganization which has overtaken Germany. Until the Allies have occupied Germany, and have had time to restore order, and to get into touch with the real situation, there will be a danger of counter-revolution.

Business With Russia Impossible

Swedish Experiments Show Words Instead of Attempting to Trade With Soviet

Stockholm.—Swedish business men who have been trying for the past few months to establish trade relations with Russia have found it impossible to do business with the Soviet government. Russia is in a state of complete chaos, and there is no one with whom business men can deal. Many months ago Russia ceased to be a country in which business could be done, and the Swedish business men who have been experimenting have found that they have been wasting their time.

The Kaiser's Abdication

More Strange Incidents Cast Doubt on Genuineness of Ammunition-Scare

London.—The Morning Post, commenting on the former German emperor's abdication, says:

"It is significant that the document signed by the ex-ruler abdicating his throne and renouncing his rights to the German crown contains no reference to the imperial title. The omission is the more significant because the document in question was drawn up by Prince Max of Baden, the last imperial chancellor, who was a constitutional monarchist, and who would naturally have been anxious to preserve the imperial title if he could have done so. The omission, therefore, must have been deliberate, and it is clear that the ex-emperor has abandoned the imperial title as well as the throne."

Kaiser's Land in British Columbia

Writer in London Daily Mail Says Investments Were Very Extensive

London.—Writing in the Daily Mail on the ex-Kaiser's going to Holland about the extensive land holdings on the Pacific coast of which he is reported to be the owner, a writer says:

"I am enabled from my own knowledge to say that the ex-Kaiser has a considerable interest in land in British Columbia. He bought it largely for both on the mainland and at Vancouver Island, and I believe that he has not yet sold it. Some of it has been in his name since 1908, when Baron Hohenzollern—Berching—is said to have purchased it on behalf of the Ahrendsees who disclaimed the ownership at that time. The article concludes "in any case it is certain the whole of the Ahrendsee has transferred to the ex-Kaiser's unrestricted ownership. Canada will understand for any feelings still the ex-kaiser or his friends."

"I had eczema so bad I could not sleep. It first started on my arm, then I had it on my body or skin. I could hardly wear my clothes, and I had to stay in bed. My flesh was dark red with water blisters, and burning and itching.

"Everything I tried seemed to make me worse, and I had the trouble for nearly two years. I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I got a sample. I got a box of Cuticura Ointment, and now I am entirely well." (Signed) Mrs. Peter McIntosh, Pinnch Road, Ont., April 16, 1917.

How often such distressing, disfiguring skin troubles might be prevented by every-day use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment for all toilet purposes.

Co-Operative Marketing

Ship Poultry Alive to the Killing Business

To enable Saskatchewan farmers to market their poultry for cash at the highest obtainable price and with least expense the department of agriculture has arranged with Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries Limited, to operate co-operative poultry killing and marketing stations at Regina and Saskatoon. The Regina station opened on October 12 and the Saskatoon station on October 26. Suitable buildings are secured and poultry producers in the surrounding territory in the points named are invited to ship their poultry alive to the killing stations.

The method of payment will be the same as in cream shipments. No advance payments will be made when poultry is shipped alive, but cash will be made when the station receives the poultry.

Story of Conversation Overheard in Palestine

Lieut.-Col. H. A. Gray Chesps, the leader of the brilliant "Balaclava" charge of the Worcestershire and Warwickshire Yeomanry in Palestine, tells an amusing story of a conversation he overheard between two troopers some way behind the firing line. One of them was reading a book, and the other man inquired the name of the author.

"Longfellow," was the reply.

"Never heard of him! What does he write? Stories?"

"No," answer.

"Oh!" Then after a pause "Well, I was going to ask you for the loan of the book, but as it is you can keep it. I never could stand poetry."

"But this is real good stuff," replied the other, and enthusiastically began to read:

"Tents shall be filled with feasting,

And silently steal away."

"By your!" exclaimed his friend, "there is something in that! I know what Arab hospitality means, and I simply steal anything."

Have Eliminated One of the Horrors of Being a Hero

Implements among the natives in France many eliminated one of the horrors of living a hero. The announcement was casually made in a report from marine corps headquarters describing the wounding and award of thirty French War Crosses to members of the American legion, known to the Germans as devil dogs. To be blunt about it, the news is this: No longer do French officers kiss on each cheek a British or U. S. soldier who has won the Croix de Guerre. Instead the officer conferring the honor pins the bronze decoration to the left breast pocket of the hero and then amazes his right hand.

As yet the official files of the marine corps have not disclosed the name of the diplomat who broke it about the change in French tactics in dealing with chief heroes.

Accordes, to the information at hand, the first occasion upon which the French adopted the hand shaking factor of the British and United States soldiers as an expression of esteem was in May, just a few weeks after a company of marines went into action at Cantigny at their gallant driven off a storm battalion of Germans who had tried to stampede them.

Newspaper Reading

Newspaper reading helps one to understand human nature. In work and business it helps one to grasp the opportunities within his reach, to estimate the need of the people and learn how to supply them. It helps one up in a great efficiency, ranking at right relation the claims of politicians and the caricatures of parties.—Brockville Record-Times.

A man who quarrelled with the editor sought a lawyer and asked the best way to put the newspaper out of business. The lawyer told him to buy the paper and run it for six months and never mention that. The lawyer charged $2 for the information.

Hope for the Chronic Dyspeptic.—The high lack of consideration of the body's requirements is an other disorders of the digestive apparatus. Save All Good Oat Seed

Suitable oat seed will be very scarce next spring, and the farmer who has a good sample will have a bushel of it is advised against preparing it in the usual way with other grain and thus rendered unsuitable for sowing. The Dominion Experimental Farms Branch, Ottawa, points out in this letter: "Cleaning oat seed and rejecting all but Man to be which has been carefully saved in previous years. It will be found a larger weight per measure. After the thin oats are removed in the fanning mill, the remaining oats should be run over a screen which will allow the thin oats to pass through, but will retain the plump ones. Treat the seed with formalin."

A Stitch in Time

THERE is a homely old proverb which tells us that "a stitch in time saves nine."

If the man who said it first had been thinking of health, he would probably have said that a stitch in time saves nine hundred and ninety-nine, so important is it to repair those first tissues that become impaired by ill-health.

This is no new doctrine. It is as old as man. Unfortunately (to paraphrase another proverb), we too frequently put off until to-morrow what we ought to do to-day.

Failing to repair the first tissues that need repair, allowing the malady to continue unchecked, other tissues become impaired, for all parts of the body are sympathetic.

The trouble spreads. And—then comes the rest. Nervous disorders may show themselves in various ways, such as sleeplessness, headaches, neuralgic pains, nervous prostration and exhaustion, while later developments take the form of paralysis, locomotor ataxia, or some form of heart disease.

Strangely enough—all these symptoms are preventable, if that stitch had been taken in time. It is here that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food becomes important. We do not say that it is the only means of preventing the rest, but we do say that many years of experience have proved its value as a repairer of wasted nerve tissues that have become weakened by overwork, anxiety, or other causes.

When we say that the value of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been proved we are speaking by the book. We might, at considerable length, tell you why Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will make that stitch if taken in time and prevent the rest, but we have always proceeded upon the idea that people are more interested in knowing what has been done than in similar to their own

Mrs. D. Abbott, of Exeter, writes from Bath, Ont. My system was in a run down condition. I was nervous and had no appetite. I had tried many remedies but got no relief. I then decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and after using a few boxes I found that it was doing me good. I continued its use and soon my health was restored and I was strong and well. I have recommended it to many others and always with the same result. I feel sure that if I had at once begun to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I would have saved myself much suffering and got back the health I had lost.

You can obtain Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, one pill a dose, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

VOL. X. NO 31 VERMILION, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 18 1918 $1.00 PER YEAR

Great War Veterans' Memorial Hall Fund

A Tribute to the Fallen and a Thank-offering to the Living.

The Memorial is to be erected in Edmonton in honor of the Northern Alberta Veterans in that Canadian Army which has fought valiantly from the famous Battle of Ypres to the re-capture of Mons, and which Sir Arthur Currie says: "In the last two years has never lost a gun, has never failed to take an objective, and has never been driven from an inch of ground once consolidated."

THE IDEA

Various meetings and the Great War Veterans of Northern Alberta began a movement to erect a Memorial Hall in honor of their fallen Comrades, and at the same time establish a Veterans' Club House in Edmonton. Many other Associations have also signified their approval of the project.

THE SITE

The citizens of Edmonton have given this a magnificent site in the Provincial Parliament Buildings, on one of the finest sites in the province. The property has been valued at $ [illegible] and the cost of the building will be $ [illegible], the city and the province.

THE FUND

The money for this scheme is going to be raised by purely local methods. The people of Edmonton will be asked to contribute the amount of $ [illegible] and the Provincial Government will be asked to contribute $ [illegible] and the Dominion Government will be asked to contribute $ [illegible] making a total of $ [illegible].

THE MOTIVE

We, as a people, must show our appreciation to those who responded to the call of King and Country, and who by their valor and devotion have made it possible for us to live in peace and prosperity. Many of our boys have made the supreme sacrifice, and we owe it to their memory to see that their dependents are properly looked after.

THE PLAN

There will be provided a memorial hall, library and reading rooms, gymnasium and swimming pool, billiard, pool and card rooms, and a dining room. An auditorium with a seating capacity of [illegible] persons, and two galleries with a seating capacity of [illegible] persons will also be provided. There will be a number of rooms to rent to various associations.

THE SUPPORT

The scheme has been very fully considered, and we are assured that it is the only one that will meet the needs of the returned men. The Provincial Government has given its support to the scheme, and has promised to give $ [illegible] per year.

THE MORIAL

The most important feature of the memorial hall will be the Roll of Honor, which will be prominently placed in the entrance hall. On this will be inscribed the names of all those who have given their lives for the Empire. Other names will be added as they are received.

THE APPEAL

This is the first Canadian Memorial Hall to be built, and it is a credit to the province that it is to be built here. We have a right to be proud that we have been selected as the first to erect a memorial hall to the memory of our fallen heroes, and we feel sure that the people will be glad to do their part in making this memorial hall a success.

THE NEED

The need for such an institution has been expressed from the most biggest to return to [illegible] and the need is going to grow as the years roll by. The memorial hall will be the means of providing [illegible] with a place where they can meet and enjoy [illegible] with those who have undergone similar experiences.

THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

Payments may be made in [illegible] months, or a person may be allowed [illegible] years to pay his subscription. Subscriptions may be obtained from any returned soldier or sailor, Victory Bonds accepted as payment. Subscriptions may be sent to the Secretary or payment to any bank.

Address all Communications to Memorial Hall Headquarters, C.P.R. Building, Edmonton Subscribe through any Chartered Bank.

Plan To Be Settled Upon— and Debentures For Hospital Sold

The postponed meeting of the Vermilion Rural Hospital District was held in the Imperial Hotel on Saturday last. The minutes of the meetings held during negotiations of the scheme were read and adopted. On account of all the members not being present several important items of business were left over until the next month's meeting. Mayor Reed of Vermilion was appointed chairman and H.W. Brown of Mile 0 of Vermilion Valley secretary-treasurer and the services of J. P. Long were retained as secretary until the next meeting when the question of a permanent secretary will be taken up.

The accounts incurred during the formation of the hospital district being in order were authorized for payment and the chairman and secretary were authorized to interview the bank and secure sufficient credit, until the tax levy for the year 1919 was due and payable, to meet this and other necessary expenditure. The secretary was instructed to obtain the latest papers gotten out by the Dept. of Public Health as well as all the information it could for enthusiasm at the next board meeting.

It is the intention of the board to erect a hospital on a plan in accordance with the scheme outlined at a [illegible] meeting, and to [illegible] the necessary [illegible] and [illegible] to carry on the work. 6,000,000 TOLL OF 'FLU

London, Dec. 19. The Times medical correspondent says that it seems reasonable to believe that about 6,000,000 persons perished from influenza pneumonia during the the past twelve weeks. It has been estimated that the war caused the death of 10,000,000 persons in four and a half years. Thus, the correspondent points out, influenza has proved itself five times more deadly than war has been in the same period of its epidemic rate, influenza would have killed 100,000,000.

Never since the black death has such a plague swept over the world. The breed of a new army of public health measures has never been more forcibly illustrated.

The Standard thanks the business men of Vermilion who have ... columns of the paper during 1918, and by so doing assisted in keeping Vermilion on the map.

Rheumatism

Sufferers should not neglect this opportunity to get rid of the poisons that cause the trouble. Nothing will do it more quickly than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood, which drives out the poisons. Mrs. Wm. Hall, Hillsboro, Ont., says: "I was a great sufferer from rheumatism. I had pains in my back and limbs, and was so bad I had to walk with a stick. I was also troubled with dizziness and headaches. I had been under the doctor's care for some time, but got no relief. Then I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and before I had taken the first box I felt better. I have used seven boxes in all, and am now entirely free from rheumatism. I am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to others." You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PEACE AND VICTORY

HUNS DECEIVED

Expected Britain to Sue for Peace When She Didn't Do

Some Resemblance

Much Remains To Be Done

Jews Must Be in Palestine to Have Jewish State

London. — Dr. Chaim Weizmann, head of the English Zionist federation, speaking in London on a meeting attended by 3,000 persons said that it would be positively unjust to ask the peace conference for a Jewish state where Israel and Arab could live as one people. The Jews are not enough. The Arabs must be in full sympathy with the Jews. Palestine was given to the Jews and Palestine is the Jewish land.

Never Troubled With Headache

This Relief From Suffering Fully Appreciated by the Writer of This Letter—Tells Others How Cure Was Effected

South Forks, Sask., Dec. 25 — Mrs. Letts of this place has a happy experience to relate. She suffered terribly with headaches, but headache powders seemed to help her but little. She tells of her trouble as follows: "I suffered from terrible headaches, so severe I thought sometimes I would go crazy from them. My husband tried several kinds of medicine but Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills were recommended to him by a friend. Since using them I am never troubled with headaches and feel better in every way. I am glad to endorse Dr. Chase's Pills."

You can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mrs. F. L. Harris, Kinsley P. O., Sask., writes: "I have been troubled with rheumatism in my left shoulder blade all the time, and was nearly as black as dirt around the eyes, so I concluded to try some of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I got six and before I had taken one-fifth of the box the pain was gone and I seemed to be in fresh, and by the time I had taken two boxes I was complete cured and tell like a new person. My complexion is cleared up, my body work out of doors, and, of course, I am enjoying the best of health. I am recommending Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to my friends."

A. W. Chase, M.D., etc., Toronto.

Vast Crowd Watches Entry

Indian Cavalry Escorted General Allenby Into Aleppo

London. — Official telegrams from Palestine state that General Allenby made a state entry into Aleppo on Dec. 10 with a large escort of Indian cavalry. The streets were lined with the 5th Cavalry division. A crowd of 100,000 watched the procession. The mayor presented the keys of the city and bread and salt to General Allenby at the gate.

His arrival at the governor's residence gave an audience to the local religious chiefs of the Moslem, Christian, Jewish and leading civil men. Also the administrative heads, and subsequently addressed the people gathered in the square around a series of the greatest enthusiasm. It is testified to the people's affection for their conqueror.

Restoring Canada's Shipping Facilities

Will Resume Freight and Passenger Traffic

London. — Some progress has been made in the work of restoring Canada's shipping facilities to a peace basis. Sir George Foster has been dealing with the question of compliance with the British shipping and an agreement on a number of important points has been reached.

Freight and passenger services between Canada and the Orient is to be re-established. The steamers Asia and Russia, which have been engaged in that service, will be transport work, will be sent back with cargoes to Vancouver or Hong Kong and will then be released to their owners. The Australian Line are formerly plying between Vancouver and Australian ports will be resumed by the admiralty and these are to be restored as possible now. Negotiations on the freight service will be made at once by Sir Henry Drayton's officials and West Indies has already been established. The same is true of

Floating Safes

Bynoon Developed by Italian Inventor

A new type of steel and reliable articles owned by passengers from being lost when ship founders, two Italian inventors have developed a system of floating safes for installation on ocean liners. The arrangement consists in part of a large cylindrical steel casing placed vertically on the middle of the ship, the top flush with the upper deck and the bottom in the bone-fitting, easily-lifted cas. The bottom of the well is closed by a concave steel plate of great strength

This bears the name of the vessel and is one end of a steel cable coiled around about a reel. When the vessel is in particular distress is gained to the safe.

Representation Arrangements For Conference

Each of Four Great Powers Will Have Six Delegates

London — The Manchester Guardian believes it has been decided to give the representation at the peace conferences, that each of the four great powers will probably have six seats at the conference, but as to the smaller powers nothing has been agreed by the same men.

Dominion representatives, the Guardian understands, will be in the same category as those in the inner body conference, but will possess similar or small stations before the conference, and will, of course, be in close touch with it.

The Guardian further asserts that Labor will be given representation at a representative, but rather a restricted one, probably by asking the Paris to sit on one or more of the committees.

Canada Must Hit Hard Finish

(A New Year's Editorial)

In a Reader's Digest article appearing between [illegible] there is a message to Canada from Sir Stanley Bruce, retiring High Commissioner to Britain.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders' fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you, from failing hands, we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders' fields.

Sir Stanley's article is entitled "Canada Must Hit Hard Finish" and is a plea to the people of Canada to be united to that great army of comradeship and sacrifice which is the British Commonwealth of Nations. He says that the Canadian people must realize that they are now in the front line of battle, and that they must put their whole strength into the struggle. He says that the people must realize that they are now in the front line of battle, and that they must put their whole strength into the struggle. He says that the people must realize that they are now in the front line of battle, and that they must put their whole strength into the struggle.

Northcliffe Gives His Opinion

Says We Must Have League of Nations

Paris. — Today I had a talk with Lord Northcliffe, considered by many to be the most powerful man in England. He is entirely in control of many daily, weekly and monthly publications, and is a force in the public life and activities, and the previous years have shown that when he sets his determination in his method of handling a thing he is generally successful. He is a man of unscrupulous ambition. His influence was considerable when Lloyd George raised him to the peerage. Yet he alone has had the strength and courage to criticize the Prime Minister. Only recently he has experienced a reverse in his own government and in the stupid censorship which protected it. I complained to him of the appeal in the Daily Mail, for publication of the Canadian and British dead. "What do you think about secret treaties and the league of nations?" I asked him. He replied, "I do not concern America. We must have a league of nations. We must have corrective, judiciary and legislative powers to be given to the league. A judiciary without effective power is useless. We must have the power to make you toe the line, and to shake your finger at a nation and say, 'You cannot act in that way.' Without force, perhaps, be more effective as a weapon than armed force. If we have a league of nations, and an ambassador, are both found to be dishonest, just cut their cables and sack them from completely.

"As for the freedom of the seas, we could not give up the right to use our navies, any nation constructing surface vessels, submarines, aeroplanes to starve us in no time. I do not believe that your president expects us to do so. We must have a league of nations such as no other man has ever believed in the world. It is an article one and his position in history rests wholly on the results of this peace conference. If we are able to get through an effective and workable league, my judgment is that Lloyd George will be the greatest statesman the world has ever known, and the one name he will be remembered by."

CHAPTER XIII

Touch and Go

As a starter to eleven, as was his practice on Sunday mornings in the country, Jasper Rayson walked down into the village to church. He had won golden opinions from the principal lady there, by not turning out the car on the sacred day, thus enabling his smart French chauffeur to enjoy a rest which he did not in the least need. For Morgan was not a motorist; he kept one for convenient purposes only, he used to say, and he considered the car's chief value to be that it gave employment to a number of people.

His lordship said that the car board must reorganize. The first essential step of the new régime should be to organize international flying. This would be involved in an international air convention. The activities of this were already drafted, and were being submitted to the allies. If they approved the convention, an international air conference would be held, and would endeavor to anticipate that within the next half dozen months the international code would have reached an agreement on this momentous question

Extra Pay for Entering Sub-Infested Waters to Be Discontinued

Washington, January 4.—The method for entering the once submarine infested waters of Europe will be discontinued after January 15, the shipping board announced.

Efficient officers and engineer officers, however, still receive the extra pay until Jan. 1, unless on the return trip to European waters, when the board shall establish new rates for them.

Allowances heretofore made to all members of ship companies except officers of vessels to cover loss of effects as the result of submarine activities will be discontinued Jan. 15, in cases of all men signed on articles on and after Dec. 27.

German Ships Commandeered

Paris — Italy and the United States shall annul Austro-Hungarian merchant ships in Constantinople, has commandeered 15 Austrian ships in the Black Sea, command by Admiral Mark L. Bristol, announced the United States.

It is asserted however that the ships will be used by the United States, it is understood that the vessels will immediately after peace be turned over to Italy.

Subsequently the fleet will be under control of the Black Sea commission.

The war cabinet and the admiralty on the suggestion of the minister of marine, have decided that Admiral Sir Rosslyn Wemyss, first sea lord, shall visit the Dominions and India in February, in advising the respective authorities on naval matters.

Jap Financier to Aid China

Washington — Information that Baron Sakatani, one of the leading financiers of Japan, has been appointed financial adviser to the Chinese government was received at the state department from Ambassador Morris at Tokio. Baron Sakatani to accept the appointment, it was learned, and, given a statement of policy, papers, money, etc., will go to China at once, it was said.

DOMINION WAR TROPHIES AT EDMONTON

On Friday, Jan 3rd, the Dominion Government exhibition of war trophies and photographs will be thrown open to the public in E.C. May & Co.'s salesroom in Edmonton and will remain open till the 11th inst. Five carloads of these trophies expected from the Germans, and a magnificent collection of enlarged to life-size photographs, arrived in the city and work has been started to get them into position for the first day.

The Canadian government in sending this splendid exhibition from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts in order that the people of Canada may have an opportunity of seeing what their soldiers had to contend with, both in the matter of Hun war armament and the unimaginable conditions resulting from a combination of intense and unprincipled means on their face employed by the Huns, and weather conditions of the worst kind, in a low-lying country, whose soil is logged by long rains.

The exhibition should be of great interest to the public for the reason that the airplane, by guns trench mortars, grenades, gas etc. thrown are and all the innumerable articles of small arms and equipment war literature by the ton which our boys had to and did gloriously overcome and capture.

Free Empire More Than Match for Military Autocracy

London. — In commenting upon the report of Field Marshal Haig the Daily Chronicle declared the operations dealt with "as the most significant occurrences in the whole history of the British Empire."

"In Marshal Foch's strategy, a moment, the part assigned to the British was most important, and most difficult," the newspaper says. "The overthrow of the German war power by Britain and its Empire, and by America, is the greatest achievement of arms in the history of the world. Field Marshal Haig's despatches explain how that achievement was accomplished. They show how the British Empire, with its Dominions and Colonies, and with the help of the United States, put forth its strength, and how that strength was directed to the final victory. They show how the British Army, with its Dominion and Colonial troops, and with the help of the United States, was built up, and how it was directed to the final victory. HAD WEAK and FAINTING SPELLS

These feelings of lonesomeness, these weak, "all gone" nothing sensations, which some nervous people feel, sometimes are a sickness. The thing to do is to find out what causes the nervousness, weak nerves, weak spells of the heart and a disordered nerve condition.

When the system is in this condition there is a lack of healthy blood. Fainting spells may be removed from it, and it is time to do something. You should not stay pale all day, but the next may be more cheerful.

I know what nervousness means. I suffered from it myself, and I know what it is to be better than ever before.

Dr. Miles' Nervine is a nerve tonic. It will put nerve force into the nerves, and good nerves depend on good blood.

They will act directly on the digestive heart and so relieved nerves, nerve system and restore them to full strength and vigor.

Miss Mary Mackay, Algoma Mills Ont., writes: "I was actually unable to eat anything and work spells and I seem more sure and nervous than ever. I was to help me. One day a friend of mine was in the store, and she saw me and asked me what was the matter with me. I told her. She told me to get a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. I got it and before I had taken it two days I felt better. I kept on taking it and in a few weeks I was entirely well. I have not had any spells since, and I am sure that Dr. Miles' Nervine cured me. I cannot say enough in favor of your medicine."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by druggists under a guarantee that the first bottle will benefit or money back. Book on nerves sent free. Address Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

Minister of War Assumes Command of German Army

Amsterdam. — Supreme command of the German peace army has been transferred from the people's commissioners to the minister of war, who will be responsible to the government. The transfer was made with the approval of the soldiers' and workmen's council, which will still be responsible for all social and economic regulations concerning the army.

Officers will in future wear a dark blue stripe on the left sleeve. All other distinctive marks have been abolished. The obligation to salute is reciprocal, but has been abolished in the big cities.

Great Britain May Restore Mesopotamia

To the Future It May Become a Great Country

London. — Improvements of great importance have been made in the Shatt-el-Arab, which is the river boundary between Persia on the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, according to the Journal of the Mesopotamia Board of Trade. Continuous navigation has now been established from the Persian Gulf as far as Basra, a distance of 70 miles, which is navigable for vessels drawing 26 feet of water.

Part of the Journal's statement on the irrigation projects of Basra is being carried out at the present time. Basra is destined to be the seaport of a large hinterland, which will include Persia, Mesopotamia and the southern portion of Asiatic Turkey. Basra is known as the "Venice of the East," and in the future it may again become a great country. But at present it is not blessed. Yet the rich soil retains its wonderful recovering within possibility and Great Britain has solved more difficult problems in this respect than are presented by the restoration of Mesopotamia.

Sinn Feiners Killed Two Policemen

Dublin. — Two Sinn Fein policemen were killed and a one-day session of the Irish Parliament was held here today at the Mansion house, but behind closed doors. Proceedings were limited to Sinn Fein business. Another step in the direction of the Irish republic was made in the official statement of the business transacted which would be forwarded to the peace conference following the precedent of the Paris conference.

A group of a hundred young men who adhered outside during the session of parliament, but no disturbance of any kind was shown. The public was not more interested in the murder of two policemen in Tipperary on the day the parliament was meeting.

Farmers Want Men Released

Winnipeg. — Immediate release of all soldiers and sailors in Canada who are required on Manitoba farms is demanded by farmers of the province. A strongly worded resolution to that effect was unanimously passed at the Union of Manitoba Municipalities convention here. It will be sent to Premier Borden at Ottawa. Arthur Meighen minister of the interior, declared that in his opinion the request of the municipalities would be granted, and he will take up the matter immediately on his arrival in Ottawa.

It is the strongest backing up appeal that has been made to the Government.

Irish Peace Delegates

Dublin. — According to the provisional constitution of the Irish republic now before the "Dail Eireann," legislative powers are to be vested in dupilas elected from existing parliamentary constituencies. The ministry will consist of a president and four executive officers —secretaries of finance, home affairs, foreign affairs, and national defense. All powers are will be raised on the vote of the "Dail Eireann," the constitution may be altered upon seven days' notice. Count Plunkett, President Edward De Valera and Arthur Griffith will probably be appointed Irish delegates to the peace congress.

Arms Found By Government

Will Consider Regulations Regarding Light Shipping

Warsaw. — Several thousand rifles, many machine guns and bombs of hand grenades intended for use in an attempt to overthrow the Pilsudski government, which has now been succeeded by the Paderewski government, were discovered in a cellar in Lemberg. The government authorities also arrested 1,600 Bolsheviki. The arrests were made as an effect to secure evidence electronic to the national assembly.

Prince Sapieha, who led the brief and feeble attempt against the Pilsudski government at Lemberg, has been made a colonel outside the army. He will be released from his confinement as soon as the hand was shown. The public was not more interested in the murder of two policemen in Tipperary on the day the parliament was meeting.

CANADIANS IN GERMANY

Two Canadian Divisions are to Remain Until Further Orders

Ottawa. — The militia department confirmed the story in the house of General Dodds, in Montreal, that all Canadian troops have been withdrawn from Germany. The information we have is wholly to the contrary," stated the chief of the general staff. He had been inclined to think that Gen. Dodds had been misunderstood or misquoted.

The known plans in regard to the Canadian divisions are that the first contingent is being withdrawn from France and Belgium but will not embark at will be transported to England. The movement to Canada would commence about March 1. As soon as known it proceeds on a basis as a part of the army of occupation so far some serial fashion.

Contracted a Mock Marriage

So as to Become a German and Be Immune from Expulsion

Berne. — How Rosa Luxemburg, the dead Spartacus leader of Berlin, managed to gain German citizenship is related by the Tageblatt of Berne. Rosa, who had been expelled from Russia for activities among the Jews there, was living in Zurich when she decided to go to Germany to propagate Socialistic ideas. She was warned that she would be refused, so she sought a lawyer in Zurich and demanded to know whether it was possible to contract a mock marriage with a German citizen so as to become a German herself and be immune from expulsion. The lawyer said there would be some difficulties as to obtaining a man to go through such a ceremony.

Rosa soon produced a German, Gustave A. Lubeck, and he immediately set on payment of ten francs. Rosa thereupon left her husband and went to Germany. Lubeck later was expelled from Switzerland as an undesirable foreigner.

Club Host Till Be Held Over Here

Irish Declared League of Nations Necessary

St. Catherines, Ont. — "We were fighting, not the Hohenzollerns alone, although they were leading, but we were fighting the German people, impregnated with the doctrine of world domination," declared W. E. Taft, former United States president, in a lecture here. "A surgical operation was necessary, but by a sharp instrument, but a club. That we have done, and we must hold that club for further application if necessary, in case it should later develop that a radical form of peace congress."

Mr. Taft declared that, "If we are to check our purposes for the war, a league of nations is necessary. The movement is on foot in open a series of conventions to educate the American people to the need of such a league by the holding of nine conventions in as many cities in various sections of that country in February, and he had decided to try it on Canada first.

Coal Miners Strike

Whole Yorkshire Coal Field Probably Will Be Idle

London. — Industrial unrest throughout the United Kingdom is on the increase. In addition to the threatened railway strike the whole Yorkshire coal field probably will be idle, throwing 150,000 men out of employment, while preparations are being made in Scotland for a general strike for a 40 hour week.

The cause of the trouble in Yorkshire is said to be a sharp local issue which is occurring in other parts of the country. The operators there have refused one demand and have insisted on taking twenty minutes off the employees' time for meals.

In reply to the lockout the Yorkshire miners association has declared for a strike. The dispute in London between the engineers and their employers has improved somewhat. Some of the employers have granted the demands of the engineering trades, but the electrical workers are now threatening to strike.

Portuguese Are Concerned Over African Colonies

Interested in Business

Paris. — The announcement of the negotiators of the British Dominions is being discussed with the keenest interest in official circles in Paris. The question is being frequently asked whether this present important step is to be followed later by insistence on the part of the Dominions of a right as nations to have a full share in dictating the foreign policy of the empire so far as it affects the Dominions.

"The British empire is in one sense a national entity and in another a league of nations in itself," was the way one high personage summarized the situation.

Do Not Share in War Gratuities

Most of Kin of Deceased Soldiers Provided for Under Pension Regulations

Ottawa, K. There is absolutely no truth in the statement appearing in certain newspapers that the war service gratuity payable in men or the C.E.F. on their discharge or demobilization will also be paid to war widows, dependents and next of kin of soldiers killed in action or who died of wounds.

An official denial of this statement is made by the militia department, which states that there is no foundation whatever for the statement. The fact is that the gratuity is not payable to widows, dependents and next of kin of deceased soldiers, as they are provided for under pension regulations.

Bismarck Had Plans To Destroy France

Document Found Recently Among Papers of French Literary Man

Paris. — Prince Bismarck contemplated a second war by Germany against the French, which would result in the virtual destruction of France, according to a document published in the Petit Parisien. The document purports to be a note made by the ex-councillor of the then king of Hanover, summing up a conversation with Bismarck and is said to have been found among the papers of a French literary man.

"I am positive that if her king brought it a war against France would be popular," Bismarck is quoted as saying. "I will tell you how I would act. I would first of all declare war, and then I would immediately occupy Belgium. I would then make the following demands: Belgium must be given to me as a province, and I must have a war indemnity of 1,000,000,000 francs. Then I would declare war against Russia, and I would not make peace with her until she had given me a large slice of her territory. Then I would turn upon France and force her to cede to me Alsace-Lorraine, and I would also demand

Annual Meeting Postponed to Friday, Feb. 21

The S. A. C. much regret the inconvenience caused to those who turned out for the Annual Meeting last Thursday, only to find it had been called off.

The factors influencing the committee were these: the special speaker from Edmonton had not arrived having been misinformed as to the time the train left Edmonton. The Treasurer was also absent, having been detained a day longer than anticipated at the Bank Manager's conference; and lastly the failure of the lights made it probable that the attendance would be very small. The general fund, out of which a great portion of the work is financed, depends particularly on the attendance at the annual meeting, and the committee after carefully considering the matter came to an unanimous conclusion that the finances and therefore the means are of help forthcoming to the returning men would be best served by a postponement.

In taking this course they realize that many people, especially those living in the country, were put to much inconvenience, but they believe that for the sake of the work amongst the returning men, this will be as cheerfully borne as have been all the many hardships by the men themselves; and they confidently hope that the meeting on Feby 21st will find every one of those friends of the boys in their seats.

A better programme than it was possible to arrange last time, is being provided, concerning which further announcements will be made later.

The committee appreciated the efforts of the manager of the Columbia theatre to make the hall available in spite of the electric light failure, and now to state that he was not in any way a loser in consequence of their decision.

The cash on hand amounts to $623 proceeds of social and dance at Montrose school and $20 from social evening at Kelmscott school for the war memorial and veterans club.

The annual carnival is being held this Friday night at the rink. It promises to be the biggest event yet held in this progressive town and the Rink Company have gathered together a great array of costly prizes.

President To Be Elected By People

Must Have Been a Citizen of Germany for 10 Years

London — Under the proposed new constitution for Germany, drawn up recently at a conference of eight known authorities on constitutional law, including the state secretary of the interior in the Ebert cabinet, the president, whose powers, it is announced, are given in an official despatch sent from Berlin and published in part here, will be elected by the people for a term of seven years. He must be a German by birth, and have been a citizen of Germany for 10 years before the election. He will be elected by a majority of all the votes of the empire.

The president will represent the empire in relations to most conclusions of peace and will be supreme commander of the army and navy. He will appoint and dismiss the ministers of the empire, but they require the assent of the reichstag. As soon as a majority of the reichstag withdraws its confidence from the ministry, or on the rejection of a measure of great importance, the president may dissolve the reichstag, but only once for the same cause. He may also refer measures to the people for decision. He may declare a state of war with the assent of the reichstag, but only in case of an attack on the empire. He may declare a state of siege in any part of the empire, and may issue decrees and orders, which, however, must be approved by the reichstag within five days.

The imperial government is composed of a chancellor and such other officials as may be appointed by the reichstag. The government must have the confidence of the majority of the reichstag and shall be responsible to the reichstag.

SANITARY OUTBUILDINGS AND INCREASED POWER SERVICE UP

Council at Regular Meeting Deals With Important Issues

At its regular meeting Monday evening the town council decided to adopt the system of sanitary out-buildings recommended by the provincial health department and such variations as to plans as may be suggested by the committee on sanitation This is a most sweeping reform looking to the general health of the public. All the new houses must be erected by the 1st June next or in his meantime plans and specifications will be made available to the citizens. The matter of taking over the municipals was left in abeyance until the committee had an opportunity of interviewing the owners. It is expected satisfactory arrangements will be made shortly and this move recommended at the next meeting of the council.

Another important matter discussed was the installation of a new electrical unit in the power plant The engineers working on the idea of installing a sufficiently large enough generator that the town may undertake a day service, in which event the present rates will be cut off and any 7 pm in use. Somewhat necessary. There are prospects of the Canadian National railway lighting their entire yard Installation of conduit, freight shed and coal chute. A demand loan also been made for the installation of the day service and if the present intentions of the council carry, all these improvements will be in operation within the year.

The matter of bringing in a business tax was deferred until the next meeting. The clerk reported a complete inventory taken of all the personal property owned by the town

Night Air Patrols
By U.S. Aviators

System by Which Aeroplane Flyers Keep Touch With Enemy Silenced

American aviators, by inaugurating night patrols along the lines, have attracted much attention among the seniors of other nations. Under the present plan, the air forces are always subject to a call from the front, where observers or lookouts report by wire when the sound of a motor overhead is heard, especially if the American lines.

As soon as one of these reports is received the searchlights begin sweeping the sky. The night patrols arrive at the same time. In event the German machine is located by the ray of a searchlight, the American machines attack until the enemy is downed or makes his escape.

When the system was inaugurated, the searchlights started, seeking any German machine that might be about. Without a pilot to guide them, the searchlights failed to find the engaged signal in green, announcing the danger that the enemy was might be near by, in an aeroplane. When the planes are sighted, the searchlights are immediately turned, so that they may be of assistance.

When the woman saw that the youngsters are easily influenced, so that they may be of assistance.

While his mother was away on a visit Johnny didn't say his prayers. Upon his mother's return there was a reckoning.

"Why didn't you say your prayers, Johnny?"

"Well, you see, it was this way, mother. I got to thinking about the first night I—nothing happened. Then I didn't say them the next night and nothing happened, so I decided I wouldn't ever say 'em again if nothing never happened."

"And then something happened—"

Prizes In All 4 Events Taken

Grand Aggregate and Hard Luck Prizes Also on The Slate

No popular ten Vermilion's big annual Bonspiel became that the soliciting committee's experience in canvassing for the prizes was a continuous pleasure trip... the entire 18 sets of trophies with a value of nearly $1000.00 being allotted in less than two hours—and at this some of these desirous of contributing, had to be turned down.

Secretary Cooper has mailed out cards with hearty invitations to the curling clubs of Edmonton, Fort Saskatchewan, Vegreville, Naseville, Islay, Lloydminster and Wainwright and confidently expects as the lowest, 10 visiting rinks with a possibility of a couple of more. With the latter rinks the Spiel should get away to a merry rink start, which will keep the 4 fine sheets of ice on the job from 9 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19th till the last draw on Friday evening.

At any event there's going to be some doings, the week after next at Vermilion.

It is expected to have the four Cups with the other prizes on display during next week.

The Carnival Friday night last was a whale of a success. Over 300 paid admission and the costumes were legion. Handsome prizes were put up by the Rink Co.

The cost of ALBERTA MUNICIPAL HAIL INSURANCE is so low that no farmer can afford to be without it

Consider this. Over a period of five years (1914-18) The Alberta Municipal Hail Insurance District has carried a risk of $54,000,000.00 of insurance at an average premium of more than 5 3-4 per. During that time the average cost of operating expenses was only a trifle over five cents on the dollar. The new plan announces even better results.

As there are no profits to be made or dividends to be paid, it provides the opportunity for fair adjustment of all claims on the basis of actual damage done.

You will save money by voting for Municipal Hail Insurance at the forthcoming Election.

Restrictions on Anthracite Coal

Fuel Administrator Has Right to Prohibit or Limit Use of Fuel in Any Building

Regulations to facilitate the equitable distribution of anthracite coal in such communities in Canada have just been approved by orders in council, at the instance of C. A. Magrath, fuel controller.

These regulations are devised to prevent disproportionate deliveries of anthracite to large consumers at times when the ordinary householder cannot be supplied. The fuel administrator is given the right to prohibit entirely or to limit in any manner he may deem advisable, the use of anthracite coal in any building. This does not apply to private residences using less than forty tons of coal annually.

Whenever the fuel administrator decides that it is in the public interest at certain points to give effect to the regulation above outlined, he will issue a formal order through the local fuel commissioner of any city or town within his province. In the absence of such official, the administrator may carry into effect the regulations.

Heavy penalties are enacted for contravention of the regulation.

Splendid Response To Britain's Appeal

How Canada Furnishes Fir and Spruce for Airplane

Late last year the British authorities in charge of aircraft production sent to the imperial munitions board a strong appeal for the supply of spruce and fir, urgently needed by the allies to secure aerial supremacy on the various fighting fronts. How splendid has been the response to this appeal is indicated in the following cablegram received by the board from the Director general of aircraft production of Great Britain:

"I wish to congratulate you on the remarkable results in spruce and fir production, as shown by the August and September output figures, and to thank the board and its representatives in British Columbia. Major Taylor, for the energetic and able manner in which they responded to our call of a year ago for assistance. This cable is supplemented by the following one from the controller of timber supplies:

"We are much obliged for your minute of the first instant with reference to production of spruce and fir in British Columbia.

"A shipment of practically 4,000,000 feet of spruce and 1,000,000 feet of fir, making a total of 5,000,000 feet during the last months ending September 30 was a splendid performance.

"I have expressed production to the timber control department on the other side, and they will be glad to know that you will expect to Major Taylor my congratulations on the work he has done."

English Diners Will Want Pure Beverages

Fruit Sanitarium for Hotels and Restaurants

Well-lighted and heated hotels and restaurants will be unknown in England this winter. The rationing of hotels and restaurants and the coming trade generally, under the fuel and lighting order is being specially dealt with by the coal controller, who urges proprietors of these establishments to assist in every way by careful use of coal, gas and electricity, and asks the public to co-operate by not demanding fire and light that can possibly be done without.

The coal controller points out that every form of display by means of lighting, though in part or more apparent than serious, nevertheless is a subject of complaint and resentment, and would set a bad example to the householders who are showing every intention to use less coal and light in their homes. He asks for subdued lighting in lounge and dining rooms, for no skeleton in show cases, and for the ban of multiple lights in bed rooms.

It is essential that guests should realize that hotels and restaurants are severely rationed for light and fuel, and it is confidently hoped that the public, by sound and sensible support, will help to put the national interests before comfort and luxury.

"Nevermind," said Mrs. Bygraves to her cook, "I think we will have some chicken croquettes today out of that leftover pork and calves' liver."

"Yes'm," said Annanthrow, calmly. Then for short: "An' we got a little bread dressin' what went with the turkey, too. Shall I make some apple sauce out'n bit, mum?"

Taking No Chances

In Oriental Countries Simple Precautions are Perverted

Europeans do not drink much watermelon, since disease and contagion are carried by the flies which congregate on the fruit. Among Europeans in Oriental countries, however, the watermelon is considered a delicacy, and the natives, seeing the foreigners eating it, conclude that it is safe for them also. Consequently they eat it, and are stricken with cholera. Many Europeans have been saved from cholera by the timely warning of their servants, who have refused to eat the fruit.

Italy's War Debt

Relatively Higher Than That of the Other Allies

Rome. — Italy's national debt is now more than $12,500,000,000, whereas when she entered the war it was about $2,760,000,000, declared Luigi Luzzati, former premier and a leader in Italian financial authority, in a statement urging financial aid to Italy. He said the country's productive forces were able to manufacture and utilize necessary expenditures had been made, and he probably would find this assistance.

Direction Finding Stations Established

Will Prove of Great Value to Vessels Lost in Fog

Ottawa. — The department of the naval service has established on the east coast of Canada four direction finding stations which, when in operation, prove of great value to vessels lost in the fog and unable to determine their position. These stations are located at Cape Sable, at the mouth of Halifax harbor; Cape Canso, and Cape Race, Newfoundland. From any or all of these stations a vessel may obtain her position by wireless. The apparatus is of a distance of several hundred miles from the coast.

All ocean ordinary wireless telegraph stations there are provided for receiving the direction finder signals are being used. Any vessel equipped with the wireless apparatus may obtain the required information by applying to any of the stations above mentioned.

The stations have been placed at the disposal of commercial shipping and information to this effect is being distributed all over the world.

Paris. — Sir George Foster, Dominion minister of trade and commerce, interviewed by the newspaper Liberte, said that France had informed Canada of her desire to denounce the 1905 treaty, as well as all other similar treaties. Pending first negotiations, Canada would continue to apply the old conditions. Continuing, Sir George said that the future clauses would naturally depend on the attitude of the two countries in accordance with the various arrangements.

In British military circles it was admitted that only the question of physical difficulties will determine whether their troops will come out by the end of April, or sooner. The Murmansk contingent can be removed more quickly, as it is in the vicinity but in the Archangel district there is already a considerable force of Bolsheviks, and it is said that a quick evacuation would be attended with certain dangers. The troops are well clothed and equipped, which the allies have no intention of abandoning. However, military problem has been complicated by the

INCREASE IN ELECTRIC LIGHT SERVICE

After a brief discussion following the report of Council re Wood upon the requirements of the electric light plant, the town council on Monday evening gave a first reading to a by-law to be submitted to the people asking for a vote of $5000.00 for the purpose of installing a more powerful electrical unit at the plant and the purchase of the necessary material to put the street lights on a separate line from the house services, providing the same is approved by the Utilities Commission. The present unit will complete a new generator capable of handling the town's business for some time to come without risk of an overload and of supplying a day service should there be sufficient demand for its consumption as to decide these matters. The electric light committee anticipate that by the time the new plant is ready for operation there will be such sufficient guarantee for a day service as will justify its immediate adoption.

The council also took over the formal control of the evergreens and contract covering the work will be entered into with Mr. Bergseth. It is expected that under the new arrangements a number of complaints [illegible] will be done away with.

Germany's Future

Must Re-establish Monarchy Says Prince Henry

London. — The Hamburg Nachrichten which recently in a series of articles has been dealing with Germany's future, wrote to Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of former Emperor William, in order to ascertain his views on the subject.

Prince Henry replied, according to the Nachrichten, that Germany, in order to reach her future goal, must re-establish her monarchy and her economic life on the pre-war basis. The empire, he added, should be placed again under the old dynasty and under the leadership of Prussia, while the "costly parasitic workmen's and soldiers' councils should be forthwith abolished. He also advocated the formation of well-disciplined local and state forces, "in good old style" and representation of Jewish affairs in commerce, industry and politics.

The events since November illustrated, he said, Prince Frederick's statement that a return to the monarchy was the first condition to Germany being raised from her present misery. "Then," he concluded, "will the old song, 'Deutschland' become true."

Meanville Rink Carried off Banner Event of Spiel

Meeting of Edmonton, Strathcona, Alberta, Lacombe, McLeod, Macleod, Meanville, Vermilion and Gibbons rinks in the Blue Ribbon

The annual bonspiel held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week was looked to by all as being one of the most successful in the curling annals of Vermilion. No less than twenty rinks participated, the visiting rinks numbering seven, viz., McClung from Edmonton; Mottey and Cumming rinks from Lloydminster and McKinnon, McLachlan, McLean and Sargent rinks from our sister burg of Meanville. The thirteen local rinks were Telford, Love, Fallow, McKenzie, Dr. F. Day Smith, Walker, Gibbley, Pebbles, Trimble(V. H. S.), Baggett, Cooper, Mutchler and Bluffer.

The weather conditions were ideal throughout the entire three days and tended to the pleasure of both players and onlookers alike and seemed to facilitate the curling powers of the skips. The ice sheets were in perfect shape and held well for the entire 60 games required to run off the four day competition. The rubber shoes were kept going pretty steadily at times and caused an contrast with the whole affair more or less considerable.

The first excitement about the bonspiel came Wednesday and the interest centered on the semi-finals of the Lacombe Rubber Co. cup and the Elks Rubber Co. cup, a hard fought game against Meanville Thursday. The sport was characterized by fine play, good curling and clever shots were made in evidence, in fact the best all round curling of the entire bonspiel. The game against Meanville was simply carried by Mr. Easton's rink, Mrs. Easton and Mr. Easton and Mr. Easton's rink, Mrs. Easton and Mr. Easton's rink, Mrs. Easton and Mr. Easton's rink, Mrs

THE COMMERCIAL CLUB

Has our community a Commercial Club? How often does it meet? Once a year or every day? Which is one of the best indications of the live town? Has it increased in membership? Has the membership list been revised in the last two years? The most progressive towns have a Commercial Club meeting every day or two. Non-members are added every day. If the membership takes in farmers, as well as business men. There is more than enough of the latter to keep the club alive. Every business man's name should be on the membership list. The annual membership fee is small, and the result to the Commercial Club puts the town on the map. A live commercial club is all true of the town. Are you keen for your town's welfare? Are we content to be nothing less than the best? Let's get into the Club, and work each day to stay there.

Bitterly Resent Latest Armistice

Conditions Will Throw German Germany Out of Work

I sodom — Advices received from Berlin by way of Basle are to the effect that Von Gerlach, a member of the Reichstag, has been elected by Field Marshal von Hindenburg to the new German Senate. The latter, especially, is bitterly resenting the German army to the Rhine, and declares that the new conditions will throw out of employment 2,000,000 workmen and the financial burden they the expenses of the allied armies in occupation on the Rhine.

These conditions, it is complained, will throw out of work thousands of German officers, from generals down, while the army of 600,000 voluntary, reported by the German press to have been organized, must be disbanded.

The dispatch adds that indignation against Mathias Erzberger on the part of the military authorities is increasing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MARCH 2 — THE REPORT OF THE SPIES

1. The Spies Sent Out (13-17-20).

Less than two years have passed since the Israelites were delivered from Egyptian bondage. They are now at Kadesh-Barnea, within sight of the promised land. Moses urges them to go at once and take immediate possession of it. They have first had instructions in the unbelief (Heb. 3:19).

There was a threefold purpose in sending out the spies: (1) to see whether the land was as God had said (Num. 13: 1). (2) to see whether the people who dwelt there were strong or weak, few or many (v. 18). (3) to see whether the cities were made up of strongholds or tents (v. 19). The last fully of the land has nothing to question his word is simply unbelief.

2. The Commission Executed (13: 21-25).

They entered the land from the south and went through it to its northern bounds. They spent forty days in the investigating exploration. It is a and comprehensive nature when men must spend forty days in the investigation of anything in God's word. On their return from the north they gathered some specimens of the fruit of the land and brought it with them. They are sold by ordinary dealers in fruit. Here is a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Maximilian Harden says the kaiser was a mere tool in the war. He couldn't have added all the Prussian brass was a sort of monkey wrench. Kingston Whig.

Another Case of Blood Poisoning

Persisted in saving his corns with a razor. Foolish advice. Cuts bleed and become infected. Then comes pain. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor. It's painless and gives the best, guaranteed and painless, cure. 25c at all dealers.

3. The Report Rendered a Report (v. 26-29).

On their return this committee of explorers rendered a report to the whole congregation. It was not unanimous.

1. The majority report (v. 26-29) (1) "The land floweth with milk and honey." This was true, and they exhibited the fruit. They all bore witness that this was in accordance with what God had said. (2) "The people who live there are strong" (v. 28). They reported that they saw the unbelief dwells mainly upon difficulties. (2) "The people live in walled cities." This was impossible to take them. This, no doubt, seemed reasonable from the human side, but they displayed their folly in that they felt God out of the question. The sense God said it would be given into their hand," would go along to fight the battles.

2. The minority report (v. 30-33) In part, this report agrees with the first. It does not question the difficulties, nor dispute the facts. It denies the conclusion of the majority They are not prepared to take God at His word and to allow His promises to them, but asserted that with God's help they were able to overcome the impression of land, and urged immediate action. The two and their eyes on the difficulties and failed to see God. They failed their eyes upon God. Caleb lived by faith and his suggestion made real. The decisions of the majority are not always right. Just two men against many themselves, but the majority were wrong and the two were right. It is not always true that the "voice of the people is the voice of God."

4. The Rebellion of the People (14:1-10).

This rebellion began by crying Having left God out of the question they saw many and took counsel of fear, ing and howling was followed by murmuring against Moses and Aaron They even went so far as to appoint a captain to go back to Egypt. God took them at their word; he answered them back to wander in the wilderness for thirty-eight years, during which time they all died except Caleb and Joshua. This was followed by a proposition to organize for the return to Egypt. They proposed to select a captain as their leader. The protest of Joshua and Caleb against such a united in the proposition to stone them. At this point God interposed in their behalf. His manifested his glory before all the children of Israel in vindication of the legality of Joshua and Caleb.

Liquid Air Plans

Winnipeg, B.C. — The manufacture of liquid air is the latest science —liquid air—is to be one of the chief commodities turned out in a new industry to be established in Vancouver very shortly. Vancouver has a number of modern industries established on a fairly large scale, but work is to be commenced at once on a new factory to house the most modern and up-to-date industry that has as yet located in the city. A permit for the erection of the new factory, the first unit of which is to cost $25,000 for the building alone, has been issued by the city building inspector.

NEED RESIDENT OF ISLAY, DIES

There passed into rest on Saturday, 8th inst at nine in the evening a highly revered resident of the Islay district in the person of Mrs. Bothwell, Sr., at the advanced age of 66 years and 6 months. Mrs. Bothwell had been in good health and spirits until a few weeks ago, when her health failed noticeably. The end, however came suddenly and peacefully, the immediate cause being a paralytic stroke.

The deceased's native place was Brockville, Ont, where she was born in 1852 and spent the early years of her life. In '54 she was married and went to live in Grey County where her family of eight children were born and reared, and where she gave herself without stint to the arduous labors of a pioneering life. In 1909 she came to Alberta and had since that time made her home with her son Thomas of this community. Mrs. Bothwell was predeceased by her husband who died in the year 1897 and by five of her children, the surviving ... being the three sons, Stuart of Mannville, William of the State of Idaho and Thomas of Islay.

The deceased was of a genuine christian character, simple, kindly and sincere, devoted to the Methodist church of which she was a lifelong member, and to the cause of Christ.

The funeral service was conducted on Friday, 14th inst., in the Presbyterian church, by the Rev. J.S. Cornet, and was very largely attended by a wide circle of relatives and friends. The remains were interred in the cemetery here. Mr. Wm. Bothwell to the family home in Priceville, Grey Co. for interment.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord..... that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

Profit Sharing

A well-known writer on Labor and Capital, commenting on the recent agreement between the Master Bakers and the Bakers' Union, says: "Profit sharing is the only solution of the labor problem. Labor and Capital must be partners." Labor and Capital are partners in the Dominion. Labor organizations are a necessary factor in the industrial progress of the country. Capital could not exist without Labor. Labor could not exist without Capital. Labor and Capital must be partners. Labor organizations which manage against profit sharing plans are essentially enemies of the country

British Army of Occupation

London. — The government announced in the house of commons that the total strength of effective and non-effective British troops in the armies of occupation in all theatres of war amounted to 80,000 men, including officers. The strength of the British army in France, Belgium and Germany, including Dalmatian troops, on February 1, was 1,324,108. It was stated that 197,000 German prisoners are being fed by the British commissary department.

Indemnity Bills Presented

Amounts Claimed Cannot Yet Be Made Public

Paris. — All the belligerent nations have presented their bills for indemnity to the commission, except France.

The amounts claimed by the various nations from Germany cannot yet be made public, the commission reserving to itself the right to give out the figures. It can be stated, however, that Belgium's demand totals between thirty billion and forty billion francs—seventy billion francs for actual physical destruction and the balance for thefts, unpaid-for requisitions, prisons and the like. This is the largest figure claimed by any of the belligerents with the exception of France.

British Army of Occupation

London. — The government announced in the house of commons that the total strength of effective and non-effective British troops in the armies of occupation in all theatres of war amounted to 80,000 men, including officers. The strength of the British army in France, Belgium and Germany, including Dalmatian troops, on February 1, was 1,324,108. Orientals Start Run on Bank

Police Reserves Were Called to Handle Crowds

Vancouver. — A scene closely resembling one of the panicky days during hard times was enacted here when a run was started on a Japanese bank in which Hindus as well as Orientals had money deposited when rumors were alleged insolvency of the bank prevailed at a shingle mill employing Asiatics and shortly after the noon closing hour a crowd of Orientals made its way to the bank in an automobile, presented their deposit books and demanded their savings.

From this incident rumors spread until there was a great crowd of Orientals demanding their money. Police reserves were called in to quell what had the appearance of a near riot. Crowd Chief was appealed to and in a short time two automobiles of scrip bills were on their way to the bank from another bank as were two carloads of silver dollars. The Hindus addressed the crowd as many of them were posted their money before leaving the bank. The great number of withdrawals, however, were made by Hindus, who took out large bills were sadly regretful for help during the afternoon when their Asiatic employers were absent.

Freedom Sought By the Koreans

Seoul — The declaration of Korea's independence says it represents the voice of twenty million people, speaking in the name of justice and humanity.

"We are no mean people," the declaration continues. "We have 43 centuries of history as a distinct self-governing nation. It is our solemn duty to secure the right of free and perpetual development of our own national character, adapting ourselves to the principles of the reconstruction of the world.

"It is nearly ten years since, for the first time in our history, we put on the yoke of another nation and were made the victim of the curse of the most unspeakable system in the world."

The declaration continues that it is the duty of Koreans to secure their inborn honor, who out injuries, get rid of wounds and stains of the ages, the ancestral spirit and vitality so long suppressed by the unjust regime of japan, and leave our children endless and freedom, instead of a bitter and shameful inheritance. We shall not rest to the last drop of blood in the cause of liberty."

Plan Has Failed

France Gives Up Idea of Pooling War Debts

Paris. — France has abandoned, for the present at least, the project of having her great war debts shared by the allies. It is authoritatively asserted by one of the Americans attending the conference that what has caused the abandoning possibility has now been definitely eliminated from the deliberations, although it is possible that France might at some future time attempt to secure assistance.

The project has never been formally discussed at the conference but conversations held at intervals since the conference began have served as a tentative for the presentation of the French point of view.

The British and United States delegations have been quite frank in their dispute, and have openly said the people of their countries would be slow to endorse such a plan.

Decisions Becoming Known

Military Conditions for German Given Out in Instalments

London. — The personnel of the German fleet is to be restricted to fifteen thousand, the supreme council has decided, according to press despatches from Paris.

The military clauses to be presented to German delegates that no tank will be built or imported, no more powers of conscription and that all German submarines must be handed over. It is added that the military conditions will supersede the armistice conditions.

When the German delegates go to Paris, the military and naval terms will be read to them. They will be instructed to sign. If they refuse, the armistice will be at once terminated, and the Germans will be notified that hostilities will be resumed.

German Delegates Go to Brussels

Copenhagen — The German delegates en route to the peace conference at Versailles left Berlin this morning for Brussels, where they will remain overnight. They will be instructed to sign the peace terms as presented. If they refuse, the armistice will be at once terminated, and the Germans will be notified that hostilities will be resumed.

Food for Polanders

Paris. — The food relief of Poland is proceeding smoothly, according to Herbert Hoover, in spite of the fact that the rise in cost has been so great that the allies have been forced to limit the amount of supplies to be sent. Up to the present time 200,000 tons of foodstuffs have been sent to Poland, and 100,000 tons are now on the way.

Dreadnoughts Not Being Constructed

Great Britain Abandons Work On Three Ships Completed

London. — Replying to a question in the house of commons, Thomas J. MacNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, said that no dreadnoughts battleships were under construction on Dec. 31 last.

He added that four dreadnought battle cruisers were under construction on that date; that work on three, which were in very early stages, had been abandoned and the ships upon which they were being built had been towed to another shipbuilding yard.

On the same date, he said, Great Britain had 33 dreadnought battleships and nine dreadnought battle cruisers, all of which were in commission or under construction, and 19 battle cruisers, seven of which were in commission and nine dreadnought battleships and one battle cruiser. So far as he knew no capital ships will be laid down this year.

Two New Freighters Being Constructed for This Service

Vancouver. — Mr. Charles Holdsworth, managing director of the London Steamship Company of New Zealand, who has arrived here to take passage home on the steamship Niagara, after spending two years in England, announced that the company had only intended to replace all the ships lost during the war, but also to add another send ship, last April but, owing to the shortage of tonnage here and New Zealand and Australia, the said the company was looking for the development of a great Australian trade. Two new freighters are now being constructed for this service, and will be completed by the end of October this year, he said.

Huns Created Situation in Regard to Shipping

London — The German delegates to the peace conference at Versailles have been informed that the allied and associated governments will not consider any proposals for the modification of the naval terms of the armistice, which were imposed upon Germany because of the German government's refusal to sign the peace terms as presented. If they refuse, the armistice will be at once terminated, and the Germans will be notified that hostilities will be resumed.

CHAPTER XXIV
A Lurid Night

"I want your watch a point. Well done!" phoned Kenyon. "It is the marriage of the ungodly and to a wrong one to-morrow days at most must be arrested, I order, and can't do it. I have my trade, that I am not going to have it spoiled. I can't see you strike a point."

Our Nevile's frustrated false teeth had another go at the grey moustache. Then he made a hunt of drawers and said:

"I will do it. I can see Kenyon, the Chief Constable, and I can get a warrant out. But Sir Anthony Wentworth is a very influential man. He pays and is a most generous supporter of all local charities. He has been a magistrate for the county for many years, and I am not going to have my action questioned by him. I can't see you strike a point."

"Let me have it," said Kenyon grimly. "I will take the responsibility. I can see Sir Anthony Wentworth to-morrow. I will explain to him that I have acted entirely on my own initiative. I will tell him that I have no evidence against you, but that you will be charged on suspicion. I will tell him that you have been seen in the company of a man who is wanted for a serious crime, and that you will remain in custody for a few days

Secretary of Winnipeg Party Died on Minneapolis

Mr. Bloom, who has been a close watcher since the riots and his obligations to the Hebrew Sick Benefit Association, which he has served as secretary for the last two years, will be continued by the remaining members of the executive. Mr. Bloom said that the party's decision to disband was made because of the fact that the party's leaders, including Comrades Queen, Heaps, Bray, Armstrong, Ivens and Johnson, are under the shadow of the criminal code, and that the party's activities would be hampered by their absence. TO THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL,
Town of Vermilion.

VERMILION, ALBERTA,
FEBRUARY 20TH, 1919

GENTLEMEN:

I have completed that I have completed the audit of the books and accounts for the year ended December 31st, 1918, and found them correct and in good order.

All claims shown for the year appear to be collectable, unaudited but and legally authenticated. The Secretary-Treasurer's bond is in good standing.

I have no suggestions to offer in connection with the Influenza Epidemic Expenditure, $4,726.80 the Revenue Account for the year shows a deficit of $2,839.99 and it has occurred to me that it would be reasonable and proper to make an appropriation for losses of the Hospital Fund appropriation, $1,940.40, which has been standing on the books as a liability of the town for the past six or seven years, as no effort against this debt. The original purpose of this appropriation have never materialized and in view of the establishment of District Municipal Hospital in the near future the occasion for its use has ceased to exist besides it may be held that the intention has been served by the the hospital relief supplied during the epidemic. I believe it to be entirely within the power of the Council to apply the fund to this purpose and thereby relieve the ratepayers to the extent of its value in future taxation. If you will pass a resolution authorizing it I will be pleased to put the necessary adjustment entries passing on such authority in statements for the year.

The reason for the breakdown of the Electric Light Plant a loss of $1,422.81 has been experienced in the past year's operations bringing the total deficit of operation to $3,785.31. It is to be hoped that the improvements of recent date presented and now effected will be careful management in the future redeem the situation by placing it on a paying footing which will eventually retire the deficit without recourse to any monetary or direct taxation.

In all other respects the situation is fairly satisfactory and hopeful.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. J. KENNARD, F.C.I.A.,
Auditor.

If This, Nervous, Run Down, Depressed, This Will Help!

The wear and strain of life has resulted in recent years to produce nervous debility in a large percentage of our population.

Thousands are afflicted with a feeling they can't exactly describe. They are always tired and droopy, lack ambition, have poor appetite, look pale and suffer from depressing headaches and insomnia.

This condition is full of peril. It is the springing stone to invalidism, the beginning of a shattered constitution.

We advise everyone in this condition to take a good medicine at once and try to get well while yet there is time.

Probably no better advice can be given than to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which have been famous for restoring the sick to good health. A general tone up of the system and nerves takes place. The whole body is fortified by rich and pure blood. The appetite is increased, food is digested and nourishing strength distributed to every part. Headaches go because the bowels are regulated and the wastes are carried off.

There is no experiment about using Dr. Hamilton's Pills because a trial will quickly prove. Just as a test, get a 25c box of them and see what they will do for you, or your children. This is a family medicine and should be in every home.

Gaspard called the order of the night—beer. The liveliness was better aroused. The long, green table was quickly flanked by white shirt fronts and more or less white bosoms. Play began, and Kenyon, who had seated himself with the rest, under the spell of the fascination which had really inspired his search for Tony, "off duty," could not see anything but the cards that fluttered from the dealer's deft hands.

And then suddenly above the purple air soars and the jingle of gold there rose loud and shrill from the gallery.

"We are ruled!" he cried. "There's twenty francs on the ace! If there's one. Ah, here they come!"

Even as he spoke he was brushed aside, and cowslips in and, out of the Cafe Gaspard men rushed. All of the first always the clamors had risen in chorus, some jabbering like stuck monkeys, others too scared to get the head of the table, the patron of black despair. He had no time to control the gambling paraphernalia or to remove the proceeds of the house's cheating. It was not so much a question of better the magistrate as of safety.

Safe in reader to be trouble in task-master whose figure-head he was. He did not know, though, how you had already secured it, that the raid was due to intrigues on the part of Morgan himself to curtail the activities of his rival.

Tony at once set off on a run, and she—after successfully—"Now a period at Gaspard's—to meet Kenyon.

"Tony, my boy, I have been looking for you everywhere. Where have you been?"

"Why, Master Tony!" she cried, from a night for new eyes. He had not seen her since the day of the fair, when she had been in a state of terror, the object fear that ever crossed them when struggling for breath. LESSON FOR APRIL 13—CHRIST OUR SAVIOR

1. Who Jesus Is (John 1:35-51).

It is absolutely indispensable that every pupil regardless of age should know clearly who Jesus is and what he came into the world for. It should be the ardent desire of every teacher to make so clear the person and work of Christ that the pupils may accept him as their Saviour. Nothing short of this Divine and glorious atonement will avail for salvation. What he is of forth to [illegible] is through personal testimony. CUTICURA HEALS RASH ON CHILD

On Body and Face. Red and Itchy. Cried for Hours. Lasted a Year.

"A rash started all over my little girl's body and face and seemed to last for hours. It started as a pimple and then would turn to water and it got red and sore. She scratched it so that it would not heal for a year.

"I tried different cakes of soap and Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using it once I used it right to the end of the second box. Then I bought more Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using it once more I was convinced that it had healed her. (Signed) Mrs. Dora Langley, 1153 Gertrude St., Verdun, Que., June 21, 1918.

Particularly does the West feel bitter over the treatment she suffered in connection with the customs tariff. The West does not desire to destroy or even embarrass the manufacturing industries of the East, but it does feel that the East is making an unfair advantage of the tariff protection, a tariff which under present conditions means large revenues to the Government and large profits to the manufacturers. It is argued that, in the aggregate, the West pays more than its share of the customs revenue, and that the money is spent largely in the East. Whether this is true or not, it is a fact that the West pays a large proportion of the customs revenue, and it is a fact that the money is largely spent in the East. It is a fact that the West has no industries to speak of, and that the West is practically a customs revenue producing unit. It is a fact that the West has no industries to speak of, and that the West is practically a customs revenue producing unit.

Threatened With Paralysis

Severe Weakness, Headaches and Numbness of Hands and Feet Was Most Distressing. Got Satisfactory Restorative Treatment Was Found

Port Henry, P.C., April 15.—"I am a married woman, 35 years of age, living in Port Henry, and am employed at the cannery here. I suffered from Nervousness, Headaches, Weakness and Numbness of hands and feet. I consulted Mr. Cross, a druggist of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food while very much run down, and after using the contents of the first box I noticed a change for the better. I continued using the Nerve Food and got relief from all the symptoms mentioned above. I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in my family with satisfactory results, and can recommend it to anyone suffering from Nervousness, Headaches, Weakness and Numbness of hands and feet. I am willing to answer any letters in regard to this statement, and will be pleased to do so."

Mrs. Ernest Page, Kilkenny Lake, Ont., writes:

"I want to tell you how much benefit I have got from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was troubled with nervousness and sleeplessness. Since using the first box I have been able to sleep well, and my nerves are much stronger. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and find them very good. I have recommended the Nerve Food to several friends, and they have also got relief from its use. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment for Eczema, and found it very good for that complaint. Thrift Hint for Farmers

Old-fashioned Method of Skimming a Paying Proposition

Judging by a short story from Canada, says an American paper, but versing wheat by machinery, economy on a large scale, there is less waste something for the old fashioned plower to do. Last year a ward. The late telling of a farmer in the province of Saskatchewan who had a crop of 1,000 acres of wheat. In the spring he had a fanning mill, which he used to clean his seed with, taking out the small and shrunken grain. Then he sowed the wheat with a drill. When the crop was harvested he found that he had 3,315 worth of wheat. In the county two girls who lived on the farm next to his had a crop of 1,000 acres, but they had no fanning mill, and their crop was only worth $2,000. The result was about 150 bushels of wheat.

Do you shave with a saw?

FOOLISH question for 1919! Maybe not. But I expect for a moment the illustration above. They show pretty well what we're driving at; that is, to invest a blade in stropping it develops an edge very like a saw, and that's "grinding" and resharpening of which you hear.

Not so with the AutoStrop Razor. The self-stropping feature, now perfected, keeps the razor edge that means from shaving. It provides you with a sharp blade for every shave. The beauty of it is, you don't have to remove the blade from the razor to sharpen or dress it. You don't have to take the razor apart to clean it. You don't have to use separate strops. You don't have to use separate hones. You don't have to use separate anything. You simply strop the blade on the AutoStrop Razor and shave with it.

Cobb, Coughs and Colds

BY DR. SAMUEL HAMILTON

I commonly find few symptoms of a cold as a chill. Then comes a feeling of soreness or a tickling in the throat. The throat becomes sore, and a cough sets in. The cough is at first rather hoarse and dry, but soon becomes loose and moist. The throat is sore, and the cough is loose. So you see I am not talking about a cough or a cold, but about a cough that is loose and moist. The throat is sore, and the cough is loose and moist. The throat is sore, and the cough is loose and moist.

Trial of Ex-Kaiser Not For Belgium

Paris. — The Belgian delegation at the peace conference informed the conference that Belgium had not been officially requested by the associated powers to bring the former German emperor to trial and that the Belgian powers were bound feel obliged to decline to take the steps even if there were any request for such action.

The Belgian delegates held that any action should be taken by a conference representing all the associated powers and that the former emperor was in the custody of the Netherlands government and not of the government of any of the allied powers.

The Belgian delegates also declared that they were not in favor of the creation of a new international court to try the former emperor, but that the matter should be left to the existing international court of justice at The Hague.

Where They Belong

Over Two Hundred Germans Bolshevists at Bottom of Sea

New York. — Rear Admiral Sims, who commands the United States fleet during its operations in the North sea, announced that he believed there were 200 German u-boats at the bottom of the sea.

In a report to Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, he said, "The fleet found many submarines stuck on the bottom with indications showing that many of the men caught inside either committed suicide or killed each other."

Queen in Odessa

Athens — There had been no decision to take any steps to evacuate allied troops

Holland Fears Bolshevism

German Border Strengthened to Prevent Smuggling of Munitions

The Hague. — The frontier guard along the German border has again had to be strengthened because of the efforts made by Bolshevists to smuggle arms and munitions to Holland. Two Germans were arrested and twenty who were trying to come into the country were turned back. Large quantities of arms, chiefly rifles, have been confiscated in Amsterdam due to the activities of Bolshevist agents in Germany and Belgium. Many arms are daily and large quantities are being smuggled into Holland. Where hastily put up their shutters when they see the police coming and have apparently

Anarchy in Munich

Looting Houses and Threatening Banks

London — Complete anarchy reigns in Munich, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Daily Telegraph. All work has ceased. Trains are not running, and robbers are looting houses and threatening the banks, the dispatch states. The first independent government is said to have placed the Spartacides

Threaten to Use Force

Czech Forces Concentrated as Ottokar Advances

Warsaw —Advices from Cracow state that Czech forces have been concentrated at Ostrava and Trzinetz, on the extreme east of demarcation between Czech and Polish territories at that region, which was fixed by the allied mission sent there. It is said that the Czechs have advised that they will settle the frontier question by force of arms.

A Czech detachment is said to have entered Polish territory at Lutvinia, where it clashed with a Polish force, several Poles being wounded

Greek Canadian Trade

London — Reuter's learns, in connection with Canadian trade delegations to Europe, that a Greek commercial commissioner is leaving Athens at an early date for Canada to ascertain the extent to which Canadian industries supply Greek requirements and to arrange preliminaries for placing Greek orders in Canada

New Methods For Germany

May Be Allowed Before Peace Treaty Becomes Effective

Paris. — The council of four of the peace conference went into session with the question of the Adriatic again before it for consideration.

Another [illegible] British secretary for foreign affairs, took the place at the council session of President Lloyd George, who has gone to London.

The supreme economic council is considering the question of permitting Germany to have certain raw materials before the peace treaty becomes effective with a revision of the blockade regulations to that end, and it is understood the proposals are good for favorable action. The supreme council considers a measure providing for the [illegible] of Italy's coal supplies, and also [illegible] Austria-Hungary [illegible] Germany.

German Officers Will Demobilized

Berlin—It is officially announced that German officers will be demobilized and will formally leave the army when the war ministry is able to lighten the economic difficulties incident to their transfer to civil life.

Trade Outlook Bright

Market Is Opening for Sale of Canadian Products

Ottawa. — A cablegram to the Canadian trade commission in Cincinnati from the Canadian mission, London, states that there is a promising outlook for the sale of Canadian products, especially of foodstuffs in Scandinavia, Denmark and Holland.

Import regulations for these countries have been undergoing considerable revision. Guarantee to do the mission of imports into those countries, it is understood, must be furnished by consignees, but on this point there is little difficulty, and the supplies are for home consumption.

Considerable quantities of food stuffs have been consigned especially to Denmark within the last month, such as wheat, flour, oils and pork products. Permits will be granted freely.

No Russian Approaches

London. — Answering a question from John R. Clynes, a labor leader, as to whether approaches for peace have come from the Russian government, the premier said: "We have had no approaches of any sort or kind. None has been put before the conference."

Turkey May Start Next World War

Wants Treaty Revised

Demands Annexation of Land in Rhine Provinces

Berlin — Germany has sent a note to the regent of Belgium for a revision of the treaty of 1839 and Belgium's demand for the annexation of Malmedy, in the Rhine province of Prussia, annexation of Aix-la-Chapelle, and Moresnet, a small section of No Man's Land, the deposits of which was left undecided at the Versailles conference. It lies between the Belgian province of Liege and the Prussian Rhine province.

Until the outbreak of the war, Moresnet enjoyed the unique position of being without either a government or national allegiance. Its residents served as neutrals, paid no taxes and had no such modern institutions as roads, roads, posts and telegraphs, depending on such accommodations as were provided by adjacent countries. The only government consists of a municipal administration.

LET'S WAKE UP!

Our town should wake up to the fact that some one else is occupying the spot that really belongs to us. The business representative out of town is the one who gets the business. When will our town wake up? As long as we remain asleep the intruder will keep his place Only when we decide on the policy of co-operation are we really awake. We have seen the havoc and ruin of neglected business. Now is the time for co-operation.

"If you buy out of town and all of our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town?"

Coming to Canada

Rumanian Ship Has Sailed Under Recent Trade Agreement

London. — Reuter's learns that a Rumanian steamship has left Liverpool for Montreal to load goods supplied by Canada to Rumania under the recently signed agreement.

Mr. Lloyd Harris, chairman of the Canadian trade mission, has left for Paris, where he intends to investigate Belgian requirements with a view to purchasing such goods as would be available to supply and thus help in the work of reconstruction.

Canada will be requested to make a large exhibition of British manufactures which is to be held at Athens next autumn.

Rebel Force for Russia

London. — News from North Russia is that the situation in the Archangel area has been considerably improved by reinforcements arriving from Britain. The announcement is made that a rebel force will shortly proceed up the Dvina river and has had a marked effect on the spirits of the allied troops.

The most critical period, however, has not yet been reached, but it is believed that if the rebel force is dispatched as soon as open water is available, the needed relief will be successfully accomplished.

Meanwhile regraining for the relief force is proceeding throughout Great Britain.

Fix Holds Up Shipping

Melbourne. — The commonwealth government has decided to prohibit the movement of all shipping from Australian ports in consequence of the severity of the influenza epidemic in Australia and New Zealand.

Playing with loaded dice is shaky business.

NEGLECTED COLDS Lead to Consumption

Unless a complete cure is effected the inflammation passes rapidly to the more serious kidney trouble or to the lungs.

You can't make new lungs or more than you can make new tissue or a new kidney except by nature's own processes.

Catarrhozone Guaranteed to Cure

The powerful balsamic vapor and the curative properties of the Catarrhozone are sent to the seat of the trouble through the breathing organs are filled, local secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and cure comes quickly.

Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed — germs die and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed.

Use Catarrhozone to prevent — not as cure your misery after you have got, and guaranteed in every case.

Vote for the Electric Light extension Tuesday. It is the duty of each and all to manifest a live and active interest in what is vital matter by casting our ballots.

The voting on the by-law to effect certain improvements and extensions in the electric light plant is to be taken on Tuesday next, and the ratepayers should not fail to exercise their privilege in the matter. It is certainly a most important matter to be put on poll over the town, as adequate service for many months to come should also be one with the new installation in the event that have been no previous shortages in the town. The Standard would suggest that the by-law be carried by a large majority.

Fruit Prospects Excellent

Vancouver, B.C. — From all sections of the Okanagan and southern Similkameen valleys come reports of excellent fruit prospects for 1919. The setting of fruit bids this spring gives an indication of a gain in fruit production of about 30 per cent. over 1918, according to reports which have reached Fruit Inspector Hunter, Penticton. Providing that frost keeps away, and spring and early summer conditions are up to the mark, there is no reason why this year should not be by far the best in the history of the district, he says.

SOUSA'S BAND COMING TO WESTERN CANADA

Arrangements have been made in the Edmonton Exhibition Association whereby Lieut. John Philip Sousa and his famous band will play at the Edmonton Exhibition twice daily during the coming exhibition, July 7th to 12th. While few of us have been privileged to hear this band—probably the most famous in the whole world, we have danced to his dance compositions, and listened with pleasure to gramophone records of his various marches and other band music. Lieut. Sousa has been actively engaged during the war in the United States Naval Service, and a trifle more than 3,000 bandsmen were trained under his personal supervision after the United States joined the Allies in fighting Germany. He has been granted leave of absence for the summer and will make a limited tour with his original band, sixty in number, including two lady soloists. Lieut. Sousa in person will conduct his band

Charter Is Granted to C.P.R. — Will Mean Vast Expansion

Major Morrison is in receipt of official advices from Ottawa to the effect that the Railway committee has approved of the protest C. P. R. line from Willie to [illegible]. Undoubtedly their [illegible] big fight over the charter, the C.N.R. setting up the contention that they desired to build the proposed line from Benderdam easterly to Lloydminster with a branch to connect with the old main line somewhere just west of Vermilion. The matter was finally adjusted by granting a charter to the C.N.R. from Willie to Lloydminster and a charter west from there to Whitford Lake but with an agreement whereby the C.N.R. will have the running rights over the whole section of the line. It is regarded as a settlement of the matter as it was then stated that the C.N.R. will connect with the main line at Vermilion as soon as the C.P.R. commences at that point in connection with the Benderdam route.

The walk-out was conducted in a very orderly manner in every case. The strike committee has arranged for the present a supply of water for domestic purposes and a milk [illegible] of operation in all hospitals to insure adequate service.

A citizens' committee of 1,000 have been formed with the object of aiding in the maintenance of order in the city and arranging for the operation of essential public utilities. Volunteers for this work are being asked for.

H. W. Wood Says That Failure Would Be Crime Against People

Calgary. — Unless at an early date adequate steps are taken by the Dominion government to assist in financing the export of the grain crop of 1919, Canada will be confronted with the greatest conceivable disaster, in the opinion of H. "If present prospects are fulfilled," said Mr. Wood, "the harvest of the present season will be the greatest in our history, and exactly for this reason it is our duty and it is of the utmost importance that steps should be taken to insure that it shall find an outlet.

Brief Speech Which Attended Peace Terms

New York. —The Associated Press issues the following:

While the German peace delegation was being handed the terms of the lengthy peace treaty handed them and commandeering with the Wilmur government as to the demands made upon Germany by the allied and associated powers, the council of four is engaging itself with the formulation of peace terms for Austria and Hungary.

The German Austrian delegation is reported already to have started for St. Germain, France, there to await the summons to Versailles to learn what is to befall the one-time dual monarchy in the way of the payment of indemnities, the making of reparations and the relinquishment of territory.

Estimates have been made in Paris that five billion crowns will be demanded as indemnity from Austria-Hungary, in addition to the dismemberation of frontiers. The pre-war debt of the former empire and kingdom, it is stated, is to be divided among the newly formed states which have arisen, or are to arise in their old territories.

It is reported that when the terms of peace with Turkey are concluded, the United States is to be requested to become the mandatory of Armenia, and that President Wilson will place the matter before congress in order that a decision may be arrived at.

SUMMARY OF PEACE TREATY

Ottawa, May 7.—The government this morning received from Paris the following summary of the peace treaty, which was handed to Canadian Press, Limited, for publication in Canada:—

Paris May 7.—The treaty of peace between the twenty-seven Allied and Associated Powers, on the one hand, and Germany on the other, was handed to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles today. It is the longest treaty ever drawn. It totals 80,000 words, divided into fifteen main sections, and represents the combined product of over 1,000 experts working continually through a series of commissions for the three and one-half months since January 16. The treaty is printed in parallel pages of French and English, which are reorganized as the original validity. It does not deal with questions affecting Austria, Bulgaria or Turkey, except insofar as binding Germany to accept any agreement reached with these former allies. Following the preamble and deposition of powers comes the covenant of the League of Nations as the first section of the treaty. The frontiers of Germany in Europe are defined in the second section; European political clauses given in the third; and new European political clauses in the fourth. Next are the military, naval and air terms of the fifth section, followed by a section on prisoners of war and military graves, and a seventh on reparations. Reparations, financial terms and economic terms are covered in sections eight to ten. Then comes the seventh section, ports, waterways and railways section, the railway covenant, the section on guarantees, and the final clauses. Germany, by the terms of the treaty, cedes to Alsace-Lorraine to France, accepts the internationalization of Saar basin temporarily, and of Danzig permanently, agrees to territorial control Belgium and Denmark and in East Prussia cedes most of upper Silesia to Poland, and renounces all territorial and fiscal rights outside of Europe, as to her own or allies territories, and especially to Morocco, Egypt, Siam, Liberia and Shantung. She also recognizes the total independence of Austria, Austria-Hungary and Poland. Germany is reduced to one hundred thousand men, including officers. Conscription within her territories is abolished; all forts within fifty kilometres east of the Rhine razed, and all importation, exportation and nearly all production of war materials stopped.

Cause of Early Old Age
The celebrated Dr Meinhardt, an authority on early old age, asserts that a poison is generated in the intestines which if not properly kept in check and without forming poisonous matter. SUCH comfort is possible only with an AutoStrop Razor. Why the AutoStrop in particular? Because, with the handy stropping device, there's always a sharp blade ready for use. A few turns on the strop re-aligns the surface edge that results in shaving. It keeps the blade free from rust; and gives you for each day's shave the keen edge of a new blade.
You do not need to take the blade out to sharpen it, nor do you have to take the AutoStrop Razor apart to clean it.
Stropping, shaving and cleaning are all done without removing the blade from the razor.

Charter of the World's Freedom

The peace treaty, in failing as it does to provide the British Empire and Mexico with what has been promised by Germany as her equivalent, is without question one of the most one-sided documents ever drafted in the history of this old world. It takes no longer than Magna Charta and the American Declaration of Independence to read.

In providing for and safeguarding the freedom of mankind, the Declaration of Independence and Magna Charta are even more comprehensive than the peace treaty drawn up at Versailles. But the signed guarantee the United States, and of course all other nations, as well as mankind, will have that the whole civilized world is behind it.

The penalties imposed on Germany are severe, but only very severe when compared with the penalties she would have imposed on Germany if defeated. Germany has in Europe, in all she has done here, been in a spirit of revenge and of grasping greed on the part of the Kaiser and his military clique. Had she been defeated by Germany, the whole of her possessions would have been taken over by the victors, and she would be up to and fully the mercy of the victors.

Germany has been given a chance to live, and to live as a nation, and to live as a nation of peace. She has been given a chance to live, and to live as a nation, and to live as a nation of peace. She has been given a chance to live, and to live as a nation, and to live as a nation of peace.

The peace treaty and the League of Nations covenant are not perfect. It is not likely that they will ever be perfect. But they are the best that all human wisdom and frailties could devise, and they are the best that all human wisdom and frailties could devise, and they are the best that all human wisdom and frailties could devise

Alien Housekeepers To Be Investigated

Action Taken to Make Them Available for Soldier Settlement

Ottawa — Dominion lands held under homestead entry by aliens who have not become British subjects will be cranked by the Dominion land agents, and action taken to put them on available for soldier settlement.

This action is the result of conference between the department of the interior and soldier settlement board, and has been decided upon in order to put on the land as many returned soldiers as possible, and there is not an acre of land that will not be given to a returned man who wishes to take it up.

Applications for permits to purchase agricultural and grazing lands under the provisions of the soldiers' settlement act are being received by the department of the interior at the rate of about 200 per day, and it is expected that the number will be greatly increased in the near future. Up to the present the applications received have been confined to returned soldiers, but it is now announced that the government would reopen the lands for entry by others than returned men.

Paris — An official note issued says that a German correspondent sent to the Neues Wiener Tageblatt a dispatch that the hotel at Versailles where the German delegates are housed is full of spies acting as hotel attendants and that microphones have been installed in all the rooms. The note brands the report as an odious Allied manoeuvre and says that it originated in the French government may send it secretly to the correspondent.

Germans Must Sign Or Armistice Ends

New York—The Associated Press issues the following:

Although the peace terms which the Allied and associated powers are to present to the Austrian delegation are virtually complete and report has it that Wednesday has been chosen as the day when the Austrians are to be called before the peace congress, the negotiations may be delayed by reason of the fact that Hungary, where extremely unstable conditions still exist, has failed to appoint delegates to go to Austria.

The Council of Four continued discussion of the 26 tentary items to be presented to the Austrian compact. These, it is asserted, not only will require de celebration of the Austrian army and prevent future reconstruction, but will call for the dismantling of the famous Skoda works, Austria's great armament factories at Vienna and Prague, where the munitions hampers and other big guns used by the Teutonic armies during the war were made.

CHAPTER I.

The piercing notes of the porcelain meander's pipe shrilled out from down the street, and Ruggles Ives awakened, and ran his fingers through his mop of yellow hair, with the disinterested air of one who is already dirt on bearing the first echoes of the revelry.

The vendor of water cress had passed many minutes before, and his mournful cry, which said so much and so little to different ears about the narrow, tortuous street, had drowsily aroused Ruggles from his own particular sumwooss. No word for alarm clocks at Paris. On working days, the clear mender assumed the dreary fact that it was time to rise and dress; on Sundays Ruggles usually wanted for the stress of his own laziness for the upraising of which he had made an especial plans, he was wont to repose luxuriously in the midst of the forgetfulness and his pipe.

Now, as he sat up in bed and observed the square patch of still blue sky through his wide open mansard window, he was conscious of a full clock. It was a fete day, a 1 the weather forecast, so far as he cared for the matter, was in the heavy threats of the coming labor. had been raised away by the little bit bed and young brother would let he had hung with the scrupulous air

He pulled a round hat half on his head, the half, and looked at the with a pocket full of cigarettes, and, lifting a big knife, started to extend to its endeavors upon the small portion of a loaf which was all that was to sustain him until the noon hour. Then he would have planned I consider Montmartre, where some acquaintance might be encountered. You will have space in a Bonnes at Montmartre.

Of common breeds and pleasant persons in general Ruggles Ives had always been fond to the extent of a strong interest in their welfare, but he knew that I should not be the clear self spoiled him of short sympathy and, possessed of a certain amount of worldly wisdom, he had always considered that the best way to help a friend was to let him help himself. Ruggles was of his opinion. Ruggles

"Any year is a good year to sell wool," said Mr. Simms at Saskatchewan," remarked W. H. J. Farmers report an exceptionally good crop of lambs this season. At the Provincial Farm at Saskatoon, seven pairs of twins were found on the ewes last week, and another four pairs the following morning. Owing to the mild weather during the winter months and the excellent condition of the ewes, a vigorous lot of lambs are appearing throughout the three provinces.

Arranging for Wool Crop

Co-operative Scheme of Marketing Will Again Be Undertaken

Sheep owners of Manitoba and Saskatchewan have already been notified by the governments of the respective provinces that the co-operative scheme of marketing will again be undertaken this year. For the past few years farmers in these two provinces have sent their wool to a government centre for grading and marketing. In Alberta the wool is handled by wool growers' associations, of which there are four or five in the province. The scheme has been in operation long enough a proper system of grading and marketing was introduced, and it is expected that there will again be a large increase in the number of growers participating, as well as in the quantity of wool handled in all three provinces.

The suitability of Western Canada for sheep is all that could be desired, and experienced sheep breeders say they know of no country where sheep are less liable to disease.

Money in Eggs

Seventeen hundred cases of eggs were shipped from Regina, Saskatchewan, during the week ending May 8. Most of them went to Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, a few points, but four carloads went to Montreal. The number of shipments of eggs and butter that have been made from Regina, Saskatoon and other Saskatchewan points would show that the farmers of the province are in a position to produce enough to supply their own needs, and what is more, are beginning to do so. They are finding that a ready market, receiving from four and forty five cents a dozen at all times when eggs are plentiful.

Russia at War With Rumania

Bolshevik Troops Have Defeated the Rumanians and Occupy Two Towns

London—Open war between Rumania's disregard of the ultimatum from the Soviet government demanding the immediate evacuation of Bessarabia, a province that exists between Russia and Rumania, and which Rumania has occupied since the Russian revolution, is declared by dispatches from Moscow received here. The Soviet government has created the Dniester province in Bessarabia and declares that it has defeated the Rumanians in the region of Tiligul-tik and Bender, the dispatches say. Bender is on the west bank of the Dniester and Tiligul-tik on the east bank. Near this town is the village of Vornitza, where Charles XII. took refuge after the battle of Pultava in 1709.

Coblenz—Max Raasch, formerly a captain in the German army, who was arrested several days ago by United States intelligence officers on a charge of having in his possession property stolen from France, committed suicide by stabbing.

Raasch was arrested at the request of the French military authorities, who planned to take him to France and try him on a civil court charge of common robbery. Raasch was arrested in the French zone of occupation, and lifted himself in the jail at Coblenz by stabbing himself in the throat during the night.

Linen and other property found in the officer's home in Coblenz, the authorities say, was stolen during the war from French homes in Douai.

Reds Preparing New Drive

Paris—The Russian Bolsheviki are even sooner than before on a drive to Belo Kun, the Hungarian Bolshevik leader, according to reports received here. Additional troops are being sent to the front and the Bolshevik government is mobilizing all other available forces.

The report that Admiral Kolchak is on the offensive against the Bolsheviki is denied by the Bolsheviki, who say that the Kolchak army is disorganized and retreating.

Germans Must Show Economic Losses

Protest to Ponza Term Answered By Allied Governments

Paris—A reply by the allied and associated governments to the German note protesting against the economic terms of the peace treaty as being cal.-ulated to cause the industrial ruin of Germany has been delivered to the German peace plenipotentiaries. The reply is under eleven heads, and answers each German contention. It declared that the allied and associated governments, in framing the economic terms, had no intention to destroy Germany's economic life."

On the contrary, the report points out that in the reconstruction of the world's welfare Germany will have her part, and that only a share in the work but also will share with the rest of the world in the economic losses and demands antagon inevitably resulting from the war.

The reply declares that the German note fails to take into consideration the fact that the dismantlement of Germany and the end of submarine warfare relieve the German people of an immense burden of taxation, and returns to the ranks of useful production millions of men formerly in the army who have been employed either in war from industrial or agricultural activity.

The reply also makes an emphatic rejoinder to the German complaint that the fate of the German merchant marine will throw out of work three hundred thousand merchant seamen. The allies answer that the destruction or merchant ships, chiefly by German submarines, left the world the urgent necessity of limiting the opportunities for work of seamen throughout the world, the allied governments say, the greatest sufferers. It adds that there clearly is no reason why German seamen should be exempted from the effects of the economic disadvantages grave as they are, suffered by all of merchant ships.

The reply on the economic objections is regarded as one of the best documents on the exchange of terms

Rumanians Protest Against Polish Advance

Poland Has Not Ceased Fighting in Accordance with Pedrewski's Instructions

Paris — The Ukranian armistice commission has filed a vigorous protest with the Polish commission against the Polish advance on Galicia in violation of the armistice terms providing that hostilities be suspended in Galicia pending the Polish ability to furnish Poland pledges to the effect that the armistice would be observed by it, according to a dispatch sent to the allies. The protest from the commission declares the responsibility of continuing assistance to starving Galicia, but flatly refuses to undertake any obligations.

Representatives of Ukraine and Poland have been before the Council of Four, but no decision on the armistice was reached.

Minister Of Blockade Resigns

French Leader Considers Terms of Treaty Too Generous

Paris—Baron Denys Cochin, former minister of blockade, has resigned from the right wing group in the chamber of deputies, after a meeting of the group at which it was decided to send a note to Premier Clemenceau, asking the peace treaty be further considered by the Council of Four.

Baron Cochin considers that the treaty is too generous and unworthy of France and her allies. It is urged heavily upon Germany, he said, as it leaves Germany's colonies more or less and that her reparations will be continued much in force."

Delegates Say Terms Unacceptable

Washington — The conference of German political leaders and German peace delegates at Spa agreed that the peace terms were unacceptable and are going to a dispatch to a German press official statement, and that the allies will have to make concessions before the German people will consent to sign the treaty. The statement declares that a practicable basis upon which talks can be carried out is impossible demands and that Germany is incapable of being bound and carried out by the German people."

But this panic of hers was of short duration, and Miss Ruggles came to a moment later standing beside the bicycle and looking back facetiously.

"Are they coming?" she asked breathlessly.

"I don't believe so," he answered. "I guess the ducking cooled 'em off. We'd better hoop up, though."

"Do you think they could have drowned?" she asked. "The river was deep right under the bank."

"Oh, they're all right," he answered. "I looked over and saw them wallowing on to the bushes. One of them started to climb up, and I swiped him over the head with the rudder. I'm sorry I had your picture spilt into the river."

"Never mind the picture. Let's hurry on. I say, it was plucky of you! Such horrid brutes!" She gave a little shiver. "I'm glad you could have him all up with me if you hadn't eaten sheep just then."

"Oh, they may have been just trying to bluff you into giving up your purse," said Ruggles, though he had his doubts on this score.

He took the bicycle by the handlebars, and they started to walk on rapidly, with occasional backward glances. The girl had recovered herself, and, though still rather pale, was reasonably well composed.

She told Ruggles that while she had been making a study of the river the two tramps had come along the tow path and, after passing for a few moments and nothing more flattering remarks about the sketch, had informed her that they were making their way back to Paris from Epernay, where they had gone hoping to find work. But there had been no work to be had, and they were penniless and hungry and on most of shoes. She had given them a trifle, saying that was all she could spare, whereupon they had made some remarks which she preferred not to repeat, and which had aroused in the same proportion her indignation and her fear. Then, seeing that a crisis was coming, she had made a dash for her bicycle and mounted on the same evening, but they were too quick for her, and had caught her before she had gone a hundred yards. Then, seeing that a pursuing party was coming after them, and nobody be the wiser.

"I was horribly frightened," she concluded, "and so glad when at that moment I meant to jump into the river and try to swim across."

As she talked Ruggles observed her with undisguised admiration, and he thought that she was a very pretty and charming girl. She seemed just the sort that he was looking for as a companion for the trip, and he was delighted with the way she had stuck to her guns and refused to be frightened away from the sketch. Besides, she was a countrywoman, and that was a tie that counted for much in a foreign land. Also, she was a pretty girl, and that was a tie that counted for much in any land.

"Miss le Darthea Westbrooke," she answered, and Ruggles thought the name precisely fitted her. "I live in Paris, too, with my aunt, Miss Challand. We're stopping for a few days at this little village on ahead. I'm studying art, and I wanted to make some sketches of the river. We come out here quite often in the summer. Here's aunty, now."

Ruggles had already seen approaching them a woman with a tall and rather angular figure, who walked with a swinging, masculine stride, the speed of which increased as she discovered her niece strolling along in company with an entirely strange young man. She bore down upon the couple like an express on a house of young and downy ducks, and Ruggles observed that her features were high and, at that particular moment, severe.

"Suppose you thought I was never coming, my dear," said Miss Challand, and stared questioningly at Ruggles.

As a rule, of which that particular morning was the rare exception, Miss Challand took good care of her prettiness, to which more than one admiring stranger could bear witness.

"This is Mr. Ruggles, aunty," said Miss Darthea; and added to Ruggles, "My aunt, Miss Challand."

Miss Challand returned Ruggles's best professional bow with a brief nod, and the austerity of her face did not soften. Darthea quickly smoothed the situation. In a few brief words she described what had just occurred, and, having the artistic temperament, she may possibly have exaggerated the heroism of her rescue, quite omitting the precipitate retreat of the rescuer. Ruggles, listening modestly, was impressed by the fact that people had seen more of a hero than he had realized. Whether true or not, it was certainly gratifying to hear how

THE STANDARD
VERMILION, ALTA., MAY 29 1918

The Winnipeg strike has extended to a number of cities in the west and as a result certain lines of trade have been badly crippled. Bank shipments are held up and an order for printers stock under date of May 14th has failed to come through to the Standard-as can still be observed in several issues, while other orders will have to be held till shipments arrive. The reason for this issue of the paper was fortunately received, but for next week the issue is uncertain.

It is quite probable that during these two years, $50 Victory Bonds were taken by nearly 1,000,000 people in Canada. One may be sure that very few of them ever bought a bond before They were an addition to the number of investors in government securities.

The problem is to retain them as such. War Savings Stamps may do this, they being a Government "Baby Bond" which may be bought on easy terms then Victory Bonds were.

A Dutchman, an old time settler of the north, who has been working in the steel plant at Port Arthur for the past few years, paid a visit to this district recently and expects to return to his farm. Values to-day the same place as the empire owing out to-day and here

A steady rain which commenced at 10.30 Thursday morning continued to fall all day and well into the night. It came at a most opportune time following the late cold and the country has been thoroughly soaked. The weather has turned quite and following the heavy precipitation.

The Vermilion football team go to Lloydminster for the big cup of sports long held at Treaty. The football team is going to Lloydminster.

Pte George Carrol, an old 15th, boy, reached home the first of the week looking well and feeling fine after a long period of service in France. He was wounded and badly gassed and has been discharged as medically unfit.

Professor Alexander, who has taken up the work of Vice-Chairman for Northern Alberta of the National War Savings Committee, is one of the original staff of this young and thriving institution of learning located in the city of Edmonton, and has been connected with publicity movements of many kinds during the eleven years of his residence in the capital city of Alberta.

THE NATIONAL FLOWER ANOTHER SUCCESS

The operetta, "The National Flower" in which the leading talent of the town participated, was greeted by a crowded house at the Opheum Theatre on Tuesday night. The audience expected something above the ordinary and were not disappointed. The cast was supported by a chorus of fifty children and throughout the operetta ran with a pleasurable smoothness and attractiveness which delighted the house. The parts were well sustained and had outstanding favorites were again to the front. The musical director was F. J. Stanley; pianist, Miss Florence Hickman; stage directors, Miss Janet Dick, Mrs. A. D. Campbell and Miss E. Hyde-mon.

DEATH OF JOHN JOHNSTON

The death of John Johnston, after an illness extending over the past three months, took place at his home on the South Side the night of May 24th, at the age of 59 years, 1 month and 5 days. He was born at Barnacourt, County Tyrone, Ireland and had been resident in this country for several years past. He formerly resided at Vegreville and came to Vermilion to take the position of cashier in the C.N.R. freight office, for the last two years he was book-keeper for Craig Bros. He was a member of Vermilion Lodge No. 49, I.... His widow and little son, aged 7 years, survive him as well as his mother and two sisters of Lanigan, Sask. The funeral was held on Monday from the Church of Christ, the Rev. J. E. Tyner officiating. Owing to delay in receiving the telegram, the mother of deceased, Mrs. Johnston did not arrive in time for the funeral reaching here Tuesday.

The deceased was held in the highest esteem by a very large list of acquaintances, who will deeply regret his early death. Taken with influenza some time ago he never fully recovered and other trouble developed which resulted fatally. The family and relatives have the sincere sympathy of all in their sorrow and bereavement.

PROVISIONS OF WILD LANDS TAX ACT MODIFIED BY RECENT AMENDMENTS

At the last Session of the Provincial Legislature, the Wild Lands Tax Act was amended by legislation introduced by the Minister of Municipal Affairs under whose direction this Act is administered.

One of the outstanding features of these amendments is the widening of the provisions under which exemption from the tax might be secured. As the act has been in force for the past four years, all cultivation or pasturage of land whereby exemption might be secured, was required to take place during the year previous to that in which the tax was levied. This being the case, the purchaser of land from the Dominion Government, from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who made his purchase in the fall of the year, had no opportunity to earn exemption from the Wild Lands Tax in the following year. This was unfair as the purchaser in question had no control of the land during the previous year, and was thus penalized because of a condition of affairs beyond his control. The act as it now stands, provides that exemption may be granted if the cultivation takes place prior to the first day of August of the year in which the tax is levied. The amount of cultivation, and the number of head of stock pastured, is left as it was; namely: one quarter of the land must be cultivated, and there must be stock in the proportion of one head of cattle or horses or three sheep to every ten acres. The provision in regard to residence exemption also remains the same; namely: a bona fide farmer who is resident on his land is exempt for 640 acres, and such land may be any place within a radius of nine miles from his place of residence.

During past years, the administration of the Wild Lands Tax Act has been criticised on account of the fact that lands were sometimes assessed under this act that were really exempt from such tax. Because of the large areas given to each assessor to cover, this was unavoidable in as it was impossible for him to see all the land in his district, and he had, therefore to depend for much of his information on hearsay evidence from parties in the community. This led to a good deal of misunderstanding, and many mistakes were made. This condition of affairs was, of course, very unsatisfactory, and by-law provision has been made whereby, commencing with the current year, all land taxed under this act will be actually seen by the person responsible for the assessment.

In the organized portions of the province, that is, in the Municipal Districts, this tax will be levied by the municipal district, and it will be possible for the official levying the taxes for the district, to obtain exact information as to what lands in the district are subject to this tax, and there should be no possibility of land exempt from taxation being taxed, or of land subject to taxation being omitted from the tax roll.

In the organized portions of the province, the staff of outside assessors employed by the Department has been increased, and each assessor must see all the land that he assesses; no hearsay evidence will be taken.

This will ensure a proper assessment in the unorganized territory as well as in the organized areas, and it will do away with the possibility of a man being assessed for land which he is cultivating or on which he has probably made his home for a number of years.

The placing of the Wild Lands Tax Assessment in the hands of the Municipal Districts will also tend to better service in other ways, thanks, all taxes on lands in municipal districts with the exception of school taxes in organized districts now be payable to one official, that is, to the secretary treasurer of the municipal district. There will only be one tax roll and only one tax notice and one tax receipt will be necessary. A party who owns land in a municipal district will not receive any tax notices from the department of municipal affairs. He will only receive one tax notice from the secretary treasurer of the municipal districts in which his land is situated, and this notice will show all taxes payable by him, and a clear receipt from the secretary treasurer of the municipal district will be evidence that all his taxes have been paid. Where schoolitaxes are still being levied by the school district, the landowner will, of course, receive a tax notice from the school district in addition to that from the Municipal District. It is to be hoped that ere long all school taxes will be levied by the municipality and that in all municipal districts, only one assessment and tax roll will be necessary.

As far as the unorganized portions of the province are concerned; that is, the improvement districts, all taxes levied on land by the provincial government will be shown on one tax notice in place of two or three as in the past and the receipt of payment will be acknowledged on one tax receipt form, and all such tax notices and tax receipts will give full particulars as to the amount of the different taxes levied against the land.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT POSSIBLE

WINNIPEG, June 3. Despite surface indications of renewed tumults of the general strike here, leaders today were hopeful of a settlement within the next two sixty four hours. Authoritative information indicated a settlement "with honor to both sides."

Secretary Ernest Robinson of the general strike committee backed his prediction by telegraphing for labor delegates from the entire province to attend here for a "settlement of the strike."

Car Thieves

In the last week there have been some arrivals of car thieves on the part of some vandals in the town. The poultry committee is of taking automobiles that have been left outside on the streets while the owners would be attending the theatre at night and running them out on a ride on the country and leaving them somewhere a deep distance away. Some school boys and youths last year who made good of this practice were arrested and tried and the matter was determined to put an end to the practice that is again starting this year. They have a plain clothes man on the job as well as the local police and are determined to get the guilty parties, and when apprehended these outlaws are taught they are to get the better end of the law, as the practice must be put down and there is more than a little involved in stolen automobiles.

Defiance of Arrests at Winnipeg Given Out to Various Labor Men

Winnipeg—Following is the text of a telegram sent to Ottawa by Mayor Gray, who was arrested with the others on a charge of sedition:

"The undersigned have been released on bail of $2,000 each. It is stated that they have been given an undertaking not to take part in the present general strike.

As the following statement, issued over the signature of A. J. Andrews, K.C., representative of the department of justice, Ottawa, indicates that a number have changed their policy with regard to the trial of the eleven men arrested early Tuesday morning on charges of seditious conspiracy:

"As representing the department of justice, in order that no citizen should have any cause to complain that the [illegible] proposed to deport [illegible] prosecutors, namely, R. B. Russell, K.C., John Ewen, Q.C., A. J. Andrews, K.C., George Armstrong, and R. J. Deachman, a fair trial by jury if they [illegible] have decided to withdraw [illegible] charges against the [illegible] have been [illegible] that persons has no intention to refrain from taking an active part, directly or indirectly, in the strike now in progress, and in view of the fact that the [illegible] industry, in view of the statement as to the difficulties [illegible] issued by the postal trades employees, of the sympathetic strike [illegible] immediately following the arrest, [illegible] and that they are tried, should be detained in custody, accordingly I am [illegible] consenting to their being admitted to bail on sureties of $2,000 each.

"I understand that the [illegible] proposed by these persons [illegible] quite definitely that if they fail in their undertakings they will be immediately rearrested and placed in custody."

The next men who are being let out on bail will be tried in the civil courts on Wednesday next. The date for the trial will probably be June 27, but that depends upon whether counsel for the men can be [illegible] quite prepared to proceed with the case at that time.

In the ring of the fore men of alleged [illegible] are being detained at Stony Mountain, they will likely come before an immigration board on inquiry, as Sir Thomas Tait, deputy minister commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg for the federal government, has been appointed chairman. This board will not institute proceedings just yet, it was officially stated, as it is the desire of the authorities to get such evidence submitted as may show why the accused should be deported so that the minister of immigration, Hon. J. A. Calder, will have the reason for deporting the decision of the board.

Lost City Discovered

The Forgotten People That Once Lived in New Mexico

A lost city of 20,000 homes has been found in a great canyon thirty miles from the city of Santa Fe, N.M. It is reported to be the first known city of the Cochiti tribes of Pueblo Indians of the Southwest. The place is called Rito de los Frijoles, or Tyuonyi, and is one of the world's wonders. Here in little caves in the sides of gigantic cliffs, dwelt the prehistoric cliff dwellers of America in communal dwellings that were almost impregnable from attack by either man or the giant beasts of the stone age.

The great ceremonial cave of Kiva, where the people's councils evidently assembled, is located two-thirds of the way up the side of a cliff, in a cave inaccessible save with ladders. The temple is carved out of the solid rock, partly by nature and partly by hand. Little is known about the ancient people that once lived in this beautiful retreat in New Mexico, although many of the pottery and relics found in the cave were similar to the interior of the cliff dwellers.

Rioting in Austrian Capital

Copenhagen—In rioting in connection with a communistic demonstration in Vienna Sunday, eight persons were killed and 48 injured. The rioting began when ten thousand demonstrators attempted to obtain the release from prison of communist leaders arrested Saturday. The police fired volleys into the air and then into the crowds. The demonstrators opposed in releasing the communists.

Increase in Number of Neglected and Dependent Children

That there were 1034 neglected and dependent children and 518 delinquent children dealt with by the Provincial Department during the year 1918, is the information contained in the tenth annual report of the Department of Neglected and Dependent Children, just printed. The figures indicate an increase in the number of neglected and dependent children as compared with the previous year. This is accounted for in a large measure by the seige of Epidemic Influenza that swept over the province during the early fall months of last year, and the sudden death of one or both parents, leaving many children absolutely helpless. In a great many instances near relatives were discovered who were easily persuaded to take charge of the children. In cases where no relatives were to be found, they were treated as other neglected and dependent children and were placed in foster homes. During the year 182 were adopted and 267 placed in private homes under temporary agreements.

The report urges the necessity of some Provincial Home for boys being established within the very near future, and urges that this institution take the form of a combined farm and college.

The Superintendent does not limit his report to the dry statistics. He gives, in a very brief way, some indication of the child saving problem as it presents itself at the present time. Among the gains that may be recorded during the past year or two, he mentions the increase in activity on the part of the Social Service League, the Women's Institutes and others in baby saving activities; the establishment of an Institution for Feeble Minded, the passing of a Mothers' Allowance Act and the amendment to the Criminal Code, that makes it a criminal offence for any person to indulge in vicious actions in any home where children live.

Among the advances that are urged is a betterment in the housing conditions, especially in some parts of the province. According to the report, many serious housing problems were discovered while the epidemic of influenza was at its peak. The need on the part of the cities of increased facilities for supervised play and the necessity of a Dominion Child Welfare Bureau are emphasized.

It is the opinion of the Department that the experiment made a year or two ago in the appointment of women commissioners for the Juvenile Court, has demonstrated the advantage of having girls tried before a commissioner and officers who are sympathetic members of their own sex, is so valuable that it is a wonder that the system was not initiated years ago.

The Vermilion Hospital is to be closed on the 1st of August and no patients will be taken in after the 1st of July. These matters have been decided on by the Town Council at a special meeting held this week. The reason for the council's action is that the hospital has been a financial loss from its inception, in 1918 alone running behind over $1700. The Staff have been given thirty days' notice of the termination of their services. It is understood the contents will be sold as soon as the hospital is closed. The institution has been in operation for about three years and under the efficient management of Matron Boyd has been a source of great value to the community, but unfortunately the council feels that the town should not be made responsible for any further deficits.

Action Regretable

The Standard learns that the Commission on Public Utility has practically declined to give its approval of the by-law authorising the expenditure of $29,000 to provide adequate fire protection for the town as well as a fire hall. This is to be regretted, exceedingly so, for the reason that the town now is absolutely helpless in case of fire. Ample evidence of this was shown in the two fires we had in town recently, in both cases all the firemen or the citizens could do was to stand by and see property being destroyed and very valuable property seriously threatened. The Standard has no hesitation in stating that the Council has undertaken no wiser and saner course than this matter and that the citizens are back of it in any effort it may make to bring about the approval of the by-law in question. A very strongly worded petition was filed with the council this week demanding action and it is understood the board will pass it over to the Commission for its consideration. We feel that no matter the expense in this regard the [illegible] will willingly bear it. It means [illegible] and business places; a decrease in our insurance rates and a feeling that whatever money we have invested in town is secured. If the council alone were to blame for this matter we would demand their resignation instanter as we consider further delay dangerous, in fact criminal. The town must have fire protection and we must have sufficient confidence in the town to say that no matter what the cost it will be met.

Crown Prince Has Escaped Parole

Paris.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German Crown Prince, has escaped from Holland and made his way into Germany.

Hints have come from Germany within the past few days that the military caste there would not be averse to bringing about a military situation within the former empire that would embarrass the allies in putting the peace treaty into effect, and it seems not impossible that the move made by the ex-Crown Prince is credited with some such plan.

That the former Crown Prince made his way into Holland shortly after the signing of the armistice last November had not received there by the Dutch government, taking up his residence on the island of Wieringen in the Zuyder Zee.

Feeding details, still of uncertain character, and many of them of manufacture and the greatest importance, are to be worked out.

Secretary Lodge flew incident, the Paris papers has insistently alluded to the possibility of a return to the ex-emperor's escape from Holland, coupled with the question as to whether measures had been taken to prevent such a move.

In military quarters the belief was expressed that the crown prince and Field Marshal Hindenburg would way to meet Prussia, where the military are strongly element is strong. The ex-crown prince still is very popular among the old soldier officer class whose wish, whatever appears to hold against the former crown prince personally, might try to use him as "the man on horseback."

The presence in Germany at the moment of Field Marshal Wilhelm, when the fate of the peace treaty still is in the balance, had caused disquiet in Paris, and there is considerable apprehension regarding the next develop ment in the situation.

Germany Facing Railroad Strike

Berlin.—Germany was faced by a nation wide railroad strike for higher wages and shorter hours, Berlin, Hamburg has been stopped as both directions. The Bavarian service has been badly crippled.

The government is organizing in an endeavor to end the strikes, which are largely the outcome of communist propaganda.

Prohibition Bill Dead

Ottawa.—In the prohibition vote on the Saskatchewan measure which voted for prohibition. The senate won't likely change and the bill seems dead. The full session will be in October.

Interned in Peace Brow

London.—The Marquis of Queensberry has returned to London, having acquired large and other interests in the Peace River district.

Proposed Movement For Labor Reforms

Winnipeg.—A special dispatch to the Free Press from Ottawa correspondent says:

"Important proposals for amending certain sections of the Dominion labor laws designed to bring about the better relations between labor and capital, and to improve conditions, are incorporated in the report of the industrial conference commission, under which Justice Mathews, who is expected to submit the findings in the government.

"The commission is still recommended that a conference be held immediately with the provincial authorities, with a view to amend legislation about the following subjects:

1. An eight hour day throughout Canada.

2. A minimum wage for both male and female workers.

3. Collective bargaining, as prescribed by the railway mission.

The commission will further recommend that the Dominion government take steps, as soon as possible, for the formation of industrial councils on the Whitley plan, as adopted in England. It is urged that provision be made for old age pensions, that a system of unemployment insurance be inaugurated, together with insurance against sickness and disability

Urged Exclusion Of Japanese

California Senator Characterizes Them as "Men of the East"

Washington, District of Columbia. —Speaking before the house immigration committee, James D. Phelan, democratic senator from California, declared that, for its own protection, the time has come when the United States government must stop the here against all Japanese immigration in the future.

The California senator urged that Japan could not reasonably resent such action by the United States as has been taken by the Tokio government toward China.

"I am urging the Japanese as the 'all men' are," the senator from California declared, "except that no Japanese statesman had attempted to annex California or the west for the Japanese. The Japanese are not the Jesuits Valley in Mexico and that the transaction was entirely satisfactory to complainant to the U. S. department.

Havoc Of Tornado

Cyclone Caused $3,000,000 Damage at Fergus Falls

Fergus Falls, Minn.—Martial law military headquarters in charge of the tornado stricken district of this city had completed a list of 40 persons who are known to have died as a result of the cyclone. The officers in charge estimated the total death list at not less than 60.

Mayor Frashberg estimated that the city's financial loss from Sunday's tornado is not less than $3,000,000.

"A stated figure is the city above that they early estimate of a million and a half; but I am too conservative and that the actual loss is at least $3,000,000," said the mayor.

War Board Rules for U.S. Wheat

Washington.—Julius Barnes, United States food director, made public a proclamation by President Wilson granting him full authority to regulate the exportation and importations of wheat and wheat flour for the purpose of stabilizing prices. Mr. Barnes said that the proclamation would be put into effect very shortly. He would not say what regulations would be enforced by the war trade board, which hereafter has exercised the functions delegated to him.

Cattle Embargo is Still On

London.—Replying to a deputation urging the removal of the embargo on the importation of Canadian cattle, Prime Minister Lloyd George declared that the embargo on account of foot and mouth disease could not be removed. Mr. Barnes said that the embargo on account of foot and mouth disease could not be removed. Mr. Barnes said that the embargo on account of foot and mouth disease could not be removed.

End Of Winnipeg Strike

Branch of Allen Recruiting Army Recommended for Deportation

Winnipeg.—Twenty-eight alien enemies, arrested during Saturday's riot, have been recommended by the police for deportation, Crown Prosecutor Graham announced in the police court.

The men will be kept at the central police station and the provincial jail until their cases are investigated by a board of immigration officials.

Cornelius Hardie, who took a prominent part in the strike committee, presided at mass meetings, when it was decided to call a "labor parade," which precipitated the riot, was arrested by the city police.

Martin addressed the mass meeting in Market Square on Friday night and the meeting held in Victoria Park Saturday morning.

Chief Newton stated that 220 persons were held and that about 150 of these would be taken back. The cases of some lady, he said, were under advisement.

The old members taken back have been given their former positions in the fire re, which forbids affiliation with the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council and the taking part in sympathetic strikes. Each man before being again accepted has to sign the form prepared by Commissioners Chief Newton and took the oath of office and signed the agreement.—

In the course of a statement given out dealing with the activities of the provincial government during the general strike, Premier T. C. Norris says:

"The government now proposes to appoint a royal commission to inquire with full powers to ascertain the causes and origin of the strike and matters incidental thereto, in the hope that the problems of labor and capital between employers may be better understood, and that a sound basis may thereby be found on which matters in dispute from time to time may hereafter be adjusted.

"The commissioners we have in view is Mr. H. A. Robson, and we are at present in communication with him.

"With the termination of the appropriate strike, the general strike committee entered it automatically ceased to exist. The position of the labor temple is now the same as it was prior to the general strike, the chief authoritative body being the central labor council. The office of a considerable number of men being left without jobs as a result of the unconditional surrender of the general strike committee has created a great problem as to labor headquarters. It was unofficially reported that a movement was on foot to get a convention assembled to take up the question of reinstatement with the employers and to watch the interests generally of those who, though in many cases dragged into the strike against their will, may find they themselves out of work as a result. The labor temple is the only place such a green as the reason for the step would be necessary."

Rejoicing Over Advent Of Peace

Allied Soldiers Take Part in Celebrations

Copenhagen.—There was a remarkable spontaneous outbreak of rejoicing when it was learn that Germany had decided to sign the treaty reached Copenhagen. Many contradictory reports of the proceedings at Weimar kept the people in suspense until just before 6 o'clock Monday night, when the guns of the British grand fleet and French warships in the roads began to salute which announced the news.

The crews of the vessels, both in the harbor and in the roads, started whistles and sirens going, and climbed the masts and rigging of their vessels. Soon the allied warships had been cleaned for possible action.

Many of the seamen got shore leave and joined the throngs in the already crowded streets, singing and cheering. Long processions were formed, in which numerous flags of the allied nations were borne aloft. The singing of the Marseillaise and other patriotic songs was to be heard everywhere. French and British soldiers marched in the national Danish monument commemorating the war of 1864, and decorated it with flowers.

When darkness fell the warships were lighted up with incandescent lights, and three flags were searchlights over the city. The Copenhagen newspapers printed enthusiastic articles on Germany's decision to sign the treaty.

Madrid—"It was with ineffable joy that I received the news of the certain advent of peace," said King Alfonso in his message from the throne at the reopening of the cortes 20th and four hours passed by before the unalterable concord between the and the nation, and added

"Spain's function is ended for all time as a belligerent, except for the fact that the minister of England, charged with drawn in consequence of events there."

Australia's Method

Will Not Allow Any Arrogant Force to Usurp Functions of Government of Commonwealth

Melbourne.—Looking the political and industrial situation of the commonwealth, Acting Prime Minister Watt, in a public address, declared that the government will stand for the settlement of labor disputes by law and order under all circumstances, and that those by the out of bonts favor

"The people have determined that will be the boss of the country," he added, "and they will not allow any force, however arrogant or powerful, to usurp the functions of the government, or to challenge the decrees of the government."

Labor growing the break which occurred in the labor party over the first conscription issue, and the resignation of Premier Hughes and the Nation Labor party, led by William Hughes, the present premier, and the more numerous Liberal party, the Watt said

"The only safety for the country rests in the reaffirmation of this policy, and that the two may be a national party in fact as well as in name."

Facing Expulsion

Expelling Unions for Calling Strike Without Sanction

Denver.—For participation in the general strikes in Canada, several hundred members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers face expulsion from the organization according to a short action on the floor of the brotherhood's convention here Arthur J. Lovell, vice-president of the bro. herhood, who presented from Canada, where he was delegated to investigate conditions, said conditions in Canada at the time of his leaving were "terrible, very serious."

Army of 450,000 for U.S.

Washington.—Without a vote, the senate adopted committee amendments to the army appropriation bill providing for an army of 450,000 men the year beginning July 1.

The bill as passed by the senate provides for an army of 300,000 and Secretary Baker had recommended that the total be placed at 500,000 officers and men.

Personnel Cost Of Living Board Soon

Committee Report in Favor of the Appointment of Permanent Commission

Ottawa.—It is probable that the majority of the cost of living committee of the commons, which has been hearing evidence for some weeks, will report to the house in favor of the appointment of a permanent commission to be called in all probability the Inland Trade Commission. The proposal was discussed at a special meeting of the committee on B. C. fisheries, chairman of the committee in favor of the appointment.

A plan is to have three members of the commission, the chairman to receive a salary of $6,000, and the two other commissioners $7,000 each.

Germany's Way

Paris.—The Danish government has protested to the peace conference against acts of the Germans in Jutland, Schleswig. It is alleged that the Germans were selling property belonging to the state.

They were remanded by Magistrate Macdonald in special police court on the request of A. J. Andrews, prosecutor for the Dominion government.

W. A. Pritchard, Sam Blumenberg, Matthew Charlamoff, Oscar Schoppel and Moses Almazoff were given a similar remand.

T. J. Murray, together with R. J. McMurray, will defend the prisoners now in Winnipeg. The men held at Stony Mountain penitentiary will be defended by M. Hymns. A conference of these three attorneys for the defense was held, it was decided not to ask for a remand.

Turks Assault Greeks

Strong Forces Driving Them Back in Asia Minor

Paris—The situation in Asia Minor is serious, according to official dispatches received by the French foreign bureau here. These advices stated that the Turkish forces outnumber the Greeks four to one and threaten to drive them entirely out of Asia Minor. The Greek forces are reported to be retreating before the Turks, who are supplied with good artillery and plenty of ammunition.

Reparation For Fleet

May Yet Be Additions to Germany's War Bill

Paris.—The council has decided to send two fleets to the president of the German peace delegation at Versailles, regarding the seizure of ships of the German in Poland, in connection with a significant telegram interrupted by the allies, and which was not delivered.

The allies announce that they will demand reparation for the sinking of the fleet.

Money For Belgium

Reparations Commission Sanction Priority Payment of $800,000,000

Paris.—The reparations committee of the peace conference has agreed to priority payment to Belgium of $800,000,000 francs, the German indemnities, it was officially announced

Mobs Attack Meeting Socialists

Copenhagen.—Serious disorders occurred at Hamburg, Germany, when a mob forced preserving factories, it being alleged that the building of sugar and nuts had been found in them. The socialists were dragged to the streets and roughly handled. The police and mission department was also attacked and its officers were beaten. Finally a mob tried to disarm troops marching through the streets, and the latter opened fire, a number of persons being killed and wounded.

Invited to Mount Joy

Mount Joy—The council passed a resolution which will be presented by local delegates at the union of Saskatchewan municipalities' convention, inviting the convention to meet here next year.

German Government Exhorts Its People

London—President Ebert, Herr Bauer, and all the executives, have issued a proclamation to the German people, according to a wireless message from Berlin, announcing the conclusion of the peace and urges as the first pressing need the bending of all efforts to its fulfillment.

"As far as it is possible to carry it out," says the proclamation, "the treaty must be carried out."

It declares faithful loyalty to those threatened with separation from the empire, and promises to intercede in their behalf. "In no would intercede of separation."

It closes by exhorting the people to endure the need of work and unbending to face the reforming tion of the country.

Berlin.—The streets of Berlin

Winnipeg.—In reply to a request from a number of members of the Great War Veterans' Association, a of the general public that the executive committee of the association make a public statement as to its policy with regard to conditions existing on settlement of the strike, John G. Newton, vice-president of the Winnipeg branch of the association, points out that a call by the forthcoming Dominion convention to be held in Vancouver, it is impossible for the executive to meet in the near future.

Mr. Newton, in his statement, then mentions the stand taken by the Dominion executive, and as to which legislation has been requested, namely:

3—Suitable housing for all.

4—Reduction in the cost of living by the elimination or curtailment of unessential middlemen, by regulations governing cold storage plants and otherwise.

6—Suitable and equal opportunities for the children of all, rich and poor, without regard to all forms of education, with Dominion government financial assistance and scholarships.

7—Support of the general principles of the Hon. Arthur Meighen's industrial management as laid down by him in Canada's Commons in the United Kingdom.

8—Real democratic government by the people and proportional representation.

"From the above and from other statements recently published," continues Mr. Newton, "the Dominion executive obviously believes, and amply justifiably, that it has been obtained from the present strike, that there are two main currents in power and prospering in Canada today, one is just as bad as the other, and both really of the same type, viz., the profiteering class of capitalists and the reds amongst labor. It is clearly the duty of the Great War Veterans' Association to see that the activities of both are thoroughly checked.

"The strike has not been an unmixed evil by any means, because it has awakened the people from their apathetic slumbers, it has shown the government its duty in regard to the undesirable aliens, the profiteers and the right kind of living must be arranged to fairly handled immediately, and that if the present government is unable to do the bill another government can take its place, in other words, the present strike has focussed public attention on what the Great War Veterans' Association has been urging on the government for months."

The Tax Recovey Act

The various Municipal Acts in force in the Provinces provide for forfeiture proceedings being taken against land in which taxes are in arrears. By these proceedings the title to the land is forfeited to the Municipality, subject to redemption within a year, and if the land is not redeemed then it may be sold by the Municipality This method of Tax Enforcement has proved to be both expensive and tedious as it requires the making out of a Tax Enforcement Roll, and after certain notices are required to be served from the Land Titles Office for all lands on the said Tax Enforcement Roll are then to be sent by registered mail at least sixty days prior to date of the Court which the Tax Enforcement Return is to be rendered to all parties having any interest in the land before any title can be obtained in the local municipality and to the Alberta Gazette. After the Tax Enforcement Roll has been rendered, all local Ratepayers have to be advised that their names appear on the said roll and advertisements again inserted in local newspapers and Alberta Gazette giving date of the final hearing. If the land is finally sold, it is at least necessary to advertise the date of the commencement of forfeiture proceedings before the Municipality realizes all its taxes, and as a result usually has to purchase Municipalities, the land's assessed value, the Municipality does not get the benefit of the full value of a large assessment in obtaining advances, printing and mailing special notices, advertising for the Municipality's tax sale and final forfeiture and so on.

In the other proceedings were in force in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the Municipality has to wait for the Minister of Municipal Affairs to certify that all the Legislative requirements have been complied with before the Municipality can proceed with the sale of the land. In the Province of Alberta the Municipality has to wait for the Minister of Municipal Affairs to certify that all the Legislative requirements have been complied with before the Municipality can proceed with the sale of the land. In the Province of Saskatchewan the Municipality has to wait for the Minister of Municipal Affairs to certify that all the Legislative requirements have been complied with before the Municipality can proceed with the sale of the land. In the Province of Manitoba the Municipality has to wait for the Minister of Municipal Affairs to certify that all the Legislative requirements have been complied with before the Municipality can proceed with the sale of the land.

Profiteering In Canada

While profiteering in this country as in every other country has been severely condemned by the press and by the people, it is a question whether or not the average profiteer has not been unjustly criticized. Profiteering is the natural result of the law of supply and demand, and is practised by every one who has anything to sell. The farmer who sells his wheat at the highest price he can get is a profiteer, and so is the manufacturer who sells his goods at the highest price he can get. The retail merchant who sells his goods at the highest price he can get is a profiteer, and so is the wholesaler who sells his goods at the highest price he can get. The only difference between the profiteering of the farmer and the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant is that the farmer's profiteering is done openly, while the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant is done secretly. The farmer who sells his wheat at the highest price he can get is not ashamed to tell his neighbors what he got for it, but the manufacturer and the merchant who sell their goods at the highest price they can get are not willing to tell the public what they are getting for their goods.

The profiteering of the farmer is done openly, while the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant is done secretly, but the profiteering of the farmer is just as much profiteering as the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant. The farmer who sells his wheat at the highest price he can get is a profiteer, and so is the manufacturer who sells his goods at the highest price he can get. The only difference between the profiteering of the farmer and the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant is that the farmer's profiteering is done openly, while the profiteering of the manufacturer and the merchant is done secretly. The farmer who sells his wheat at the highest price he can get is not ashamed to tell his neighbors what he got for it, but the manufacturer and the merchant who sell their goods at the highest price they can get are not willing to tell the public what they are getting for their goods.

It Works! Try It

There can be no question as to the fact that it was not profiteering to sell wheat when it was selling at $2.15 per bushel, and there can be no question as to the fact that it is profiteering to sell wheat when it is selling at $3.15 per bushel, and there can be no question as to the fact that it is profiteering to sell wheat when it is selling at $4.15 per bushel, and there can be no question as to the fact that it is profiteering to sell wheat when it is selling at

CHAPTER ONE

The shadows of the spruce trees fell northeastward, pointing long, cool fingers across belts of undahlitag prairie, on toward the foothills of the brown foothills. Like an incandescent globe the afternoon sun hung in the bowl of a cloudless heaven, flimsy with heat, but the hot rays were not for the bright flicks of the ranch country and lost their force like a blue bell struck. And among the spruce trees it was cool and green, and clear blue water rippled over beds of shining gravel.

The ranch buildings lay a little to the rear, as though the trees stood sentinel between them and the glaciers. The house was of round straight logs, the angles of the squat roof were cupped and blistered with the pans of many summers. Refuse lot ered about the open door; many empty tins; a husky barrel, with missing hoops, leaned, hoopless, against bots of wire. Once there had been a fence; a sort of picket fence at little angles; but wild broncos had kicked it to pieces and range steers had straggled unreared across as scattered remnants.

Forward, and to the left, was the corral, still shaded red, on fences of lodge pole pine; a corner somewhat covered in, offering vague protection from the weather. The appointments were torn this with the cribbing of many horses.

The sunlight bathed the scene, nursed it in a soft, warm silence. The desertion seemed complete. But at hence was the silence of the unspoken places. But suddenly it was broken by a stamping in the covered portal of the corral, and a man's voice saying, "Hist, thou, you cayuse, get under your saddle! Sleepin' against a post all day, you sleepy eye Hay, come to it!"

Horse and rider dashed into the sunlight. The bay—for he was somore than a bay—but the beast so though born to it, his lithe frame taking every motion of his mount as softly as a good boss rides the sea His red shirt and thick hairy chaps could not hide the play of muscles by of his figure, the broad felt hat, and the revolver at his belt, gave just the touch of romance. With a yell at his horse he snatched the hat from his head, swung to the east a smooth, brown face and a mane of dark hair, and, slapped the horse across the flank with his crumpled headgear. At the signal the animal sprang into the air, then shot at it a gallop down the roadway, bearing the body as unconcerned as a flower on its stem.

Suddenly he brought his horse to a stop, swung about, and rode back at a gentle canter. A few yards from the house he again spurred him to a gallop, and, leaning far down by the animal's side, deftly picked a bottle from among the grass. Then he circled about, repeating this operation as often as his eye fell on a bottle, until he had half a dozen; then down the road again, carefully setting a bottle on each post of the fence that bisected it to the right.

Again he came back to the house, but, when he neared, he drew up at the row of posts, and his right hand rose to the grip of his revolver. Again his sharp yell broke the silence and the horse dashed forward as though it knew what was coming. Once only they went until within a rod of the first bottle, when there was a flash in the sunlight, and to the clatter of the horse's hoofs came the crack-crack of the revolver. Two bottles shivered to fragments, but four remained intact, and the boy rode back, muttering and dissatisfied.

He reasoned with his horse as he rode. "Can't see why you got sore eye; a fellow can't get the hide if he sin't got the filler," cooked meal, and secret chuck. I could plug 'em out o' sin—you know that, you a flop-ears; don't you argue about it, neither—when I'm ridin' I'm ridin' belt, I can smash 'em six out o' six, but I ain't right, an' you know it. You don't know nothin' about it, you never had a father, heartsaye, you never had to be responsible for one. Well, it's comin' to a finish—a damn sight broke, you know that. You know—"

But he had reloaded his revolver and set up two more bottles. This time he broke four, and was better pleased with himself. As he rode back his soliloquy was broken by a strange sound from beyond the belt of trees. The horse pricked up his ears, and the boy turned in the saddle to listen.

"Jeepers creekers, what's loose?" he ejaculated. He knew every sound of the foothill country, but this was strange to him. It died at once, almost no hint, mechanical in its regularity, falling in its strangeness. It came across the valley with the un broken rhythm of a watch tick.

"Well, I guess it won't eat us," he ventured at last. "We'll post run it down and put a poke a hole in it." So saying, he cantered along the road which skirted the spruce trees, crossed the little stream and swung up the hill on the farther side.

He was half way down when a turn in the road brought him into sudden sight of the strange visitor. It was the first he had seen, but he knew it at once, for the fame of the automobile had been in the foothills ranch country had already spread into fifth farthest ranching country. The horse was less well informed. Whether or not in that moment he recognized the great steel of his ten must be left to some analysis of horse intelligence, but he bolted and kicked in rage and fear. The boy knew nothing about so much of the horse as of his bright eyes turned on him in frank and surprised disapproval.

"What horse-nonsense!" she exclaimed, but the words had scarce left her lips when they were followed by a cry of alarm. For the car had taken a sudden turn from the road, and plunged into a growth of young poplars, a dozen yards to the right. The childish man at the wheel gave it a violent wrench but left his brakes alone, and the car shot back into the road, only to swing next instant on another course. In the car the two occupants were thrown from their seat, the girl fell clear, but the father was less fortunate.

In an instant the boy had flung himself from his horse, dropping the reins on the ground and the animal although snorting and shivering, had no thought of escaping but trotted off by breaking his parole. With quick ungainly steps the boy brought himself to the upturned machine. It was curious that he should appear to such disadvantage on foot. In the saddle he was grace personified.

For a moment he looked astonished stupidly upon the wreck. Had it been a horse or a steer he would have known his duties, but of such an experience was new to his life. Besides, there was the girl, whom he had no fear of strangers where they wore schaps and colored handkerchiefs, but a girl in brown corduroy and an oldish man with a white collar were creatures to be approached with caution. The oldish man lying on the ground, with a leg pinned under the car and blood flowing, raised his head against her knee and looked at the boy with bright grey eyes and mad. "Well, aren't you going to do anything

"I'm not afraid my leg is broken," said the man, speaking calmly and with understanding his pain. "Can you get the jack out of the tool box and raise the car?"

The girl pointed to the box, and in a moment he had the jack in his hand. But it was a new tool to him, and he fumbled with it stupidly. The handle would not fit, and when it did fit it operated the wrong way.

"Oh, let me have it," she cried, impatiently. In a moment she had it set under the frame of the car and was plying the handle up and down with rapid strokes. The machine began to groan with the pressure, and the boy looked on, helpless and mortified. He was beginning to realize that there were more things in the world than riding a horse, and shooting bottles. He felt a sudden desire to be of great service. And just now he could be of no service whatever.

But the foot of the jack began to slip in the soft earth, and the girl looked up helplessly. "It won't lift it," she said. "What shall we do?"

It was his chance. He was right here, and his wild, open life, had given him muscles of steel. "Here," he said roughly, "move his leg when I get it clear." He turned his back to her rode, and went down on his knees, and he could get his hands under the steel frame. Then he lifted. The car was a heavy one, and powerful too, and he was able to swing it up far enough to release the injured leg. "Very good, my boy," said the man. "That was a wonderful lift. The leg is somewhat bruised, but nothing to be thought, "but it's better than sleepin' in a bunk." he added, as an afterthought, "but it's better than sleepin' in a bunk," he added, as an afterthought, "but it's better than sleepin' in a bunk."

He was back at his horse, and in a moment they heard the clatter of hoofs galloping down the hillside.

The girl sat on the ground and looked at her leg. Nobody loved her leg. Tears made her bright eyes brighter still.

"Don't cry, Bessie," he said gently. "We are very lucky to be so close to a ranch. Of course, I'll be laid up for a while, but it will give you a chance to see ranch life as it really is—he paused, and his tone became tender—"I fancy we shall find it plain and unadorned. What a horseman! If I could ride an automobile like he does a horse we should not be here. Did you see how he picked the bloss chuck? just grabbed into the prairie hen—embraced it, I might say."

Palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, inability to lie on the left side, dizziness as if smothering, suffocating feeling in the chest, weary and restless nights, tired, weak, nervous, extraordinary twitching of the muscles, specks before the eyes, ringing in the ears, sudden attacks of heart [illegible] are symptoms of heart weakness. Don't neglect your heart. Don't wait for [illegible] to be remedied immediately. Don't wait for [illegible] to get at the whole system.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Horse Pills will help to strengthen the heart, give it energy to do the work required, and will tone up the nerves and tone up the tired, overstrung organs.

Mrs. William Stevens, Chemainus, B.C., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from nerve trouble and heart weakness and I was so bad I could not sleep. I was afraid to lie down at night for fear I would not get up again. I would get so nervous that I would be afraid to go out of the house. I tried all kinds of medicine but got no help from them. My husband urged me to try Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and I am glad I did. I have taken seven boxes and now I am well and can enjoy life. I am never without them in the house now."

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are a splendid stomach tonic and nerve tonic. They are a great help to women who suffer from nervousness, headache, backache, dizziness, sleeplessness, etc. Sold by druggists everywhere. Write Dr. Miles Medical Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Coming Of Peace

watched of Germany. Germany, although defeated and accepting the terms imposed upon her, is far from repentant. There has been no regeneration in Germany. At heart the people are still arrogant and defiant, and for the time being impotent and helpless. The spirit of Germany has not changed, and although it may now strike at a republic and not an emperor, there is nothing any real evidence of the sincere acceptance of democratic principles.

The fact that the war Germany precipitated upon the world has been brought to a close does not diminish the necessity of the Allied Powers maintaining a united front in their relations with Germany. The making of the various peace treaties will be a matter of great difficulty, and it is necessary that the Allied Powers should be in agreement as to the terms of the peace treaties before they are presented to Germany. It is necessary that Germany should be required to accept the terms of the peace treaties as a whole, and not be permitted to accept some and reject others

BUSINESS GROWING WITH LUMBER FIRM

The Hayward Lumber Co., Ltd. of this city, who have for some years past operated a line of lumber yards at most of the larger towns on the main line of the Canadian National Railway, and are now extending their operations along the new line, running from Oliver to St. Paul de Metis. They have already established complete lumber yards at the following points on that line: Bellis, Vilna, Alwinne, Ashmont and St. Paul de Metis, and also contemplate opening up at several other points.

This company has had a particularly successful career, and have built up their business on the foundation of giving the utmost service and satisfaction to the community which they serve by their various retail concerns.

The farmers and settlers generally along the Oliver St. Paul de Metis line have hitherto been severely handicapped by reason of the long distance they have had to haul all their building material, but on visit of the establishments of the Hayward Lumber Co., Limited, and the facilities which they offer, all of their trade, complaints in this respect will be done away with.

Japan Tourists Goal

30,000,000 Yen From Influx of Foreigners in 1918

The soldier's empire is estimated to have received more than 30,000,000 yen from the influx of visitors in 1918, or $2,000,000 more than the total exports of coal made by Japan. Japanese coal dominates the fuel situation in this part of the world.

The disorders in Russia have sent visitors of this nationality by from approximately 2,000 a year to over 6,000 in 1918. Those of British nationality have remained at an average figure of 2,000 a year, their movement not being influenced similarly by the great war so far as volume is concerned.

The Dutch have increased decidedly, now numbering approximately 500. The French have doubled their number, French subjects to the extent of 600 passing through Japan in 1918. The restraints resulting from the war have been most pronounced in the case of the United States citizens.

Where Babies Are Babied

The strong tendency of talking newborn babies is still practiced in certain parts of Europe and Asia. The method varies with the differing nationalities of the peoples employing it. The Armenian and Hindu carry the entire skin of the infant with every motion. This is by the help of the three bounces more whereat it is wafted off with each motion.

A Bengalese baby of fifth Alfonsy are even more peculiar in this regard than the Armenians, for they are alleged to keep their new-born babies covered with salt for a period of 24 hours. The mothers then proceed to sprinkle their babies with salt. The mothers imagine that this practice brings health and strength to their offspring, and serves to keep away the evil spirits as well.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the little ones there will be reasonably safe during the hot summer months. Stomach troubles, destitution and diarrhoea carry off hundreds of little ones every summer, in most cases because the mother does not know how the trouble may be quickly and promptly. Baby's Own Tablets are a medicine which can be used with reasonable confidence by any mother, and they are guaranteed by government analysis to be absolutely harmless even to the new-born babe. They are unsurpassed for the relief of teething troubles, they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Says Communism Will Succeed In Hungary

Bela Kun Declares Allies Should Raise Blockade

Budapest.—The allied policy toward Hungary should be one of non-interference in her internal affairs, and the allies also should raise the blockade," Bela Kun, foreign minister of the present Hungarian government, told the Associated Press correspondent, in discussing questions of Hungary had been interfering with the affairs of the American republics. He also stressed confidence in communism would succeed in Hungary.

Resuming his discussion of the reported friction with the Austrian republic, Minister Kun said: "It is altogether untrue. Austria is seeking with this allegation to deceive the public so that it may be enabled to continue the domination of Hapsburg imperialists. It is also untrue that we brought rifles and guns from the Italians. Our policy is peace. Sooner or later our frontiers, now impossible, will be altered, when the allies understand the situation better, and when they realize that the best policy is peace dictated by reason.

The very best remedy is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken according to directions. They further the proper action of the stomach and restore healthy action. For many years they have been a standard remedy for dyspepsia and indigestion, and are highly esteemed for their qualities.

"So as not to wake the audience," replied the professor.

Knoll—Lavallee

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning at 6.30 in St. Joseph's church, 110th St., Edmonton, when Miss Angele Mathilde, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lavallee, was married to Dr. John Knoll, of Provost, son of Mr. and Mrs. Knoll, Ontario. Rev. Father Murphy performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride, who was given away by her brother in the absence of her father, who is still overseas, was elaborately gowned in white voile and taffeta with veil arranged in mob cap style, and carried white roses and sweet peas. Miss Madeline Lavallee, the bride's sister acted as bridesmaid, and wore a becoming costume of yellow voile with a white Georgette Hat and carried tea roses and sweet peas. The groom was supported by Dr. Herbert J. Conroy, Mrs. McDonnell, of Lethbridge, sang delightfully during the signing of the register and Mlle. Humbert presided at the organ. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 112th street, where a wedding breakfast was partaken of. The house was decorated with quantities of wild lily of the Valley. The bride's travelling suit was of taupe broadcloth, opening over a taupe blouse trimmed with Dresden ribbon and wore a smart taupe feather toque to match. The groom's gift to the bride was an onyx pearl pendant on a platinum chain, to the bridesmaid, a cameo and pearl pin and to the best man, gold initialed cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Knoll left on the C.N.R. for Prince Rupert and the coast cities. Among the guests were Rev. Father Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Shulman, Calgary; Mrs. McDonnell, Lethbridge; Mrs. J. H. Lavallee, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cashman, Mr. West, Mr. Somerville, Mr. McDonald, Vermilion; Mr. Hively, Misses Helen and Mary Adell Gorman, Miss Frances Kenny, Chicago. Miss Wolfford, Cashman, Walcott Cashman, Dr. Priest, Mr. and Mrs. Knoll will reside at Provost on their return

Despite the drought prevailing throughout various sections there is still "plain in Gilead" for a magnificent sample of fall rye was shown to the Standard this week which was in full head, well filled and no less than 48in. in height. This was representative of a field of 68 acres on the farm of E. F. Sonder & Son, Allandale district 15 miles northeast of Vermilion. Mr Sonder was in to purchase the binder twine and expects to harvest the crop the end of next week. A yield better than 20 bushels to the acre is the estimate and these farmers expect to have some 800 bushels to put on the market for seed. Mr. Sonder reports his wheat crop also looking well and figures on threshing such [illegible] next year's need at least.

GUARD COUNTRY WILL HELP WITH HAY

There is hope in the hay and [illegible] can come through a report brought down from the north country by Peter Tompkins who has been sent to the Lesser Slave Lake district by the department of agriculture to investigate the outlook for surplus hay likely to be available this season. Mr. Tompkins says there have been five more and heavy rains at Grouard, and the grass crop has been good.

The water in the lake is more than usually high, however, and there will not be a large hay rent unless it goes down. If the water lowers in time, there will be more hay available than last year, he says, but everything depends on that one condition. At present there is no excuse that for which the rest of the province is in want.

The Grouard meadow produced nearly 30,000 tons of hay for the past year, and Mr. Tompkins believes that even more will be cut this season if the water goes down. There is also a fair supply at other points along the lake.

Outstanding relief can be expected, however, from the Indian Reserves. At Sucker Creek, Drift Pile and Swan River practically all the hay on hand has been given out by the Indian agents, who have issued permits on the principle of first come first served. Farmers and stockmen from various parts of the province have been going north and arranging for such supplies as they could get.

There is a large cutting list at the department's office these days from settlers here and [illegible] are coming from as far south as the Claresholm and Cardston districts. The universal story that is brought by all these applicants is that the conditions are serious and that some provision for feeding the cattle must be made at once. Some farmers, it is said, have already turned their stock into the grasslands.

A proposition from the provincial government has been made to the federal authorities, to the effect that hay and feed be transported from Manitoba or from wherever enough may be found possible, perhaps even from Ontario, without freight charges to the farmers. The provincial office is urging that [illegible] be brought in [illegible] and that [illegible] another third and the rest [illegible] of the year. The farmer will then finance his own purchases of fodder but will have no expense for transportation. This proposition is now before the authorities at Ottawa, and the answer is expected shortly.

30,000 Head of Stock for Manitoba

WINNIPEG, July 16.— As a result of the present crisis in the cattle industry in Alberta, where there has been a total failure of hay and other fodder crops, leaving, according to reports, approximately 150,000 head of cattle without food, the Manitoba department of agriculture has decided to purchase between 25,000 and 30,000 head for the farmers of this province. Action by the government was announced by Hon. V. Winkler, minister of agriculture, today.

The official one much needed The Chief, it is reported will shortly make a tour of the town and report to the council on sanitary matters in general, especially with reference to the one eleven which have ordered to be installed by the first of July. Fight Pictures Unfit For Public

Columbus, O.—The Willard-Dempsey fight pictures may never be shown in public. In Ohio at least, they will not be placed on exhibition. The Ohio censor board officially rejected the pictures as being unfit to be exhibited in public. The probability of the pictures being shown in other states is believed to depend on what construction is to be placed upon the Rodenberg Act, which prohibits prize fight pictures being handled in interstate commerce.

Conscientiousness in Ancient Egypt

The invention of intellectual property, an English writer guesses, is due to Rome, who "first fell on the idea of telling down the starch of the wheat and the juice of the grape. The result was a paste, said to be the original of our present day "Turkish delight." Among the ancient Egyptians whole fruits, particularly figs and dates, were used for flavoring purposes, the latter especially for preserves and cakes. In old tombs date-[illegible] have been found, also records of feasts for the dead, consisting of confectionery, in fact, goes back 3,000 years, if not a little more, to be found on the walls of Egyptian tombs."

French Favored Cause Of Jews

Admit The Conditions of Absolute Equality Be Granted Jews In New or Enlarged States

Paris—M. Pichon, foreign minister, replying to a communication from members of the chamber of deputies asking information as to the attitude of France in the peace conference with regard to the Jews of Poland, Roumania and other countries, declared that, from the beginning of the conference, the French government endeavored to secure consideration of the Jewish question and had asked that conditions of absolute equality be granted Jews in new or enlarged states. These efforts, M. Pichon says, resulted in the treaty already signed by Poland guaranteeing complete liberty and equality to Jews in political and religious matters.

Deadlock at Kingston

Kingston, Ont.—Negotiations between the metal trades council, representing the Canadian Locomotive Co., have reached a deadlock, and the president has made a final offer of a 48-hour week, 54-hour pay, and the men have rejected the offer, insisting on a 44-hour week.

When Harry was out walking with his best girl he stopped to look at a pair in a shop-window which displayed the words, "Lost, half Persian cat; baby reward." Harry gazed at the notice with a puzzled expression for a few seconds, then he turned to his father and asked: "But, daddy, how on earth have they lost half of the cat?"

Work Is Our Salvation

The signing of the peace treaty and with definite prospect of the same being so well advanced that, so far as Canada is concerned the definite declaration of war has been made by the Government of Canada, marks the commencement of the readjustment of the nation's industrial conditions to meet the new order of things which will be brought about by the cessation of hostilities. Many months must elapse before the full effect of the change can be realized, but it is certain that the process of readjustment will be a long and arduous one, and will call for the best efforts of every man and woman in the land, as well as the exercise of much patience and forbearance.

The signing of the peace treaty does not by any means imply that all will be well with us. There will be many months of unrest and uncertainty, and there will also be many disappointments. Many of the men who have been engaged in the manufacture of munitions of war will find that their occupation is gone, and that they will have to look around for some other means of earning a livelihood. Many of the women who have been employed in munition factories will also find themselves without employment, and will be unable to obtain any other work. Many of the returned soldiers will find that the positions which they left to go to the front have been filled by others, and that they will have to look around for employment. Many of the returned soldiers will be unable to take up their former occupations, owing to the fact that they have been incapacitated for work by reason of the wounds they received at the front, and will be compelled to look around for some other means of earning a livelihood. Foodstuff Prices Drop in Britain

Overseas Government is Not Buying Food Surplus Now

Ottawa.—Inquiries are being received by the government as to drop in the price of export cheese. During 1917 and 1918 the British government purchased the exportable surplus of cheese, payment being provided from funds furnished by the Dominion government for that purpose. This year the British government decided not to purchase the cheese, and left it to be taken up by private dealers as before the war. The same course has been followed with bacon and many other foodstuffs, which during the war were purchased by the British government and have become subject to conditions in the open market under normal competitive conditions. As a result of prices in Great Britain will necessarily affect imported commodities, the prices of which are to-day lower than they have been in many countries where the cost of living is so high will naturally endeavor to purchase foodstuffs there instead of at advantageous prices at home.

Town And Country Men

Two years ago that the farm homestead should fall to the best unbeliever now, but the prohibition of liquor could be sold, has been largely exploded by the war. We find that all Europe in many cases to be a better man than the brothers and sisters who made a practice of abstinence upon the farm. In the wreckage of this theory can be seen many thousand good farmers dragging themselves through a daily routine of city office work. No matter what they are doing is useful and necessary and to the outsider perhaps, quite glamorous. The fascination by in the city knows better—

Daylight Saving in U. S.

Is to Be Continued for a Long Time Yet

Washington, D.C. The daylight saving law, under which 40 states of the country are turned forward an hour in March and moved back in October will be continued indefinitely. This was assured when, following President Wilson's veto of the $1,000,000 agricultural appropriation bill because of the rider forbidding the Daylight Saving act, the house refused by a vote of 247 to 143 to pass the measure over the President's veto.

Home advocates of the repeal said now the agricultural bill had been sent back to committee for elimination of the daylight saving rider, the further effort would be made at its repeal, perhaps at the next session of congress. Many others said they would be able to strengthen the law.

Labor Enquiry

Preliminary Arrangements for the Canadian Reconstruction Conference

Ottawa, May 3.—Labor conditions under the chairmanship of Senator Robertson, will meet in Ottawa in the near future, preliminary arrangements for the coming national industrial conference to take place subsequently as at present in the United States and Great Britain.

It will consider primarily, not the question of the relations between employers and employees, but the conditions which prevail between capital and labor.

It is expected that the conference will be held within a few weeks, and will be as early as possible in August.

According to the Echo de Paris the government is considering opening the frontiers immediately for the importation of raw materials. The Figaro says the government is also considering the removal of the exportation of certain foodstuffs, such as butter, eggs and cheese. Other newspapers declare that the government intends to pass a law inflicting severe penalties on food speculators.

Ulster Leader's Speech Is Severely Criticized

London — Sir Edward Carson's speech has brought the Ulster leader under the lash of the newspapers of all parties, primarily on account of his reference to the United States, which are criticized as reckless and ill-advised in brief but bitter terms by the two nations, and, generally, he cause is regarded has old threat to call out the Ulster volunteers to resist any attempt to place the Home Rule bill in operation.

The Attorney-General, Sir Gordon Hewart, speaking in the House of Commons, declared that the government has no intention of taking any steps to enforce the bill.

The debate turned on the legal power, in which the Attorney-General and Bonar Law asserted the validity of the Solicitor-General. But almost all the speakers condemned the Carson speech. Sir Donald Maclean, Liberal, appealed to the government to try to regain the moral authority of parliament by condemning the challenge the Irish Unionist leader used.

Andrew Bonar Law, the government leader in the commons, declared that the government was bound to be guided by the language of the act, which could be so far repealed by one house of parliament as to have no effect. The government had been advised that it would have no power to enforce the act if it refused to pass the money bills necessary to do so. Speaking broadly, he said, the government could not use force against a very considerable part, and the largest part, of Ireland.

The Ulster organizations are not slow to point out how much more serious their position would be if they proved upon us the ordinance field for arming by Britain. Ulster already has 100,000 men armed, but the distance is now practically occupied.

A special train now daily carries troops for Belfast up to the Morrow Hills. The troops are mostly Scots, housed and fed than in any previous campaign. The Ulster organizations of the British troops in forming the best assurance the utmost administration.

Strike Investigation Held At Winnipeg

Labor Men Want Robson Commission to Probe Alleged Discrimination

Winnipeg.—Little progress was made at the opening session of the royal commission to investigate the strike under Commissioner H. A. Robson at the legislative chamber. The session lasted less than one hour, the greater part of which time was given up to discussing which phase of the strike the commission would probe first, and was then adjourned.

It was practically decided that first the present the commission should survey itself with inquiries into the causes of the strike, and not the causes, although Judge Robson also pointed out that the calling and conducting of the strike could also be gone into fully. The reasons that made for this course were suggested by Mr. Murray, representing the trades and labor council, that many of the most important individuals who would have to give evidence are, at the present time, attending preliminary hearings on various charges.

Mr Murray suggested that the question of alleged discrimination against returned men and also against the workers who had been on strike ought to come before the commission, adding that those whom he represented felt that this question would be a live one.

Judge Robson said that the fact of the strike was the result and not the effect of the strike. How far the commission would go into individual cases he could not say. In his opinion however, Mr. Murray would be well advised to have a list of such cases and also secure the employers concerned so that they would have an opportunity of presenting their side of it they wished. Another matter which the commission would not go into was the question of wages, this having been fixed enough in fact three per hour days.

U.S. Soldier's Pay Is Small

Washington.—Popular belief in the U.S. that the U.S. soldier is higher paid than that of any other country in existence, according to figures available issued by the general staff. Co-Operative Plan Suggested

To Sell Everything at Cost Price to Consumer, or Cattle to Feed, to Standard

Ottawa.—To relieve the stockraisers in the dry areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan whose herds are threatened through scarcity of feed, the federal government has submitted two propositions to the provincial governments interested. It is proposed to cut hay on the Dominion lands in the Peace River district, and to south to feed the cattle or to send the cattle from the southern areas to the hay lands of the north, where moisture has been adequate and grass is abundant.

To carry out either or both of these proposals the Dominion government would co-operate with the provincial authorities that the cost of securing and carrying the hay and cattle be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments, railway companies and farmers.

Another proposal for division of expenses is that it be borne equally by the Dominion government, provincial governments and railway companies. This latter proposal will be adopted, as the stock owners may not be in a financial position to assume any part of the cost. The Alberta authorities have signified their willingness to accept the proposal, and it is believed will advise that the whole expense be borne by the Dominion and the railway companies and the rail way companies.

U.S. Opinion And Irish Question

London.—The British government does not regard the action of the United States senate with respect to Ireland or the acts in the same connection of other persons or bodies regarding the United States people, as in violation of Article 10 of the League of Nations covenant, said Andrew Bonar Law, government leader in the House of Commons.

The government, Mr. Law added, would not put the question of the future government of Ireland on the program for consideration at the next meeting of the council of the League of Nations.

Predicts Split In Labor Ranks

Dominion Trades and Labor Council Will Have to Take Some Action

Winnipeg. — In the opinion of many unions officials resident here, the Dominion Trades and Labor congress is expected to fix the status of the Trades and Labor Council of the Calgary convention report, according to labor men who have been in touch with the situation. They predict the possibility that the labor council will be split in two, and the formation of a new congress, giving a status loyal to the running antagonized, was widely discussed in labor circles.

Eighteen days on the bosoms of a hostile ocean in an open boat in the war zone—dinners of Captain Evans, or Scott's Antarctic fame, shared with a command at Sydney to vault for lunkers and an empty room blank was pointed to challenge anyone to a fight to the finish—strange. The captain's counter was empty and he was without the price. The mate was named and the Chief Engineer who was a captain, had seen several adventures. Evans as a cabin boy with an Italian steamer. Before the war he landed at Portland, Oregon, as a passenger on a steamer bound for Australia, and he was in the harbor of Sydney when the Emden was destroyed. He was on the first vessel to enter Rabaul harbor after the Australian troops had taken possession. He was on the Australian transport Kanowna when she struck a mine and sank in the Channel.

What is "Drunk"?

Drinkers Are More Liable to Disease Than Abstainers

Which is drunk every cell in his body is drunk. The body is composed of millions of living cells each having its own particular work to do. When a man is sober or less drunk he is neither efficient nor capable of doing his work properly. When a cell is drunk it cannot perform its functions efficiently.

One duty of the red blood cells is to carry disease germs. It is also the white blood cells is to fight the disease germs. When the germs overcome them the system is poisoned by waste matters that should have been burned up by oxygen carried by the red cells. Sudden deaths from heart failure, apoplexy, etc., are due to the clogging of the arteries with waste matters that should have been burned up by oxygen.

Alcohol paralyzes the white cells so that they cannot destroy disease germs. Alcohol dilutes the blood, destroys the red cells and thickens the arteries. Alcohol is a poison.

The Canada War Office is authority for the statement that records that are known to contain cancers—that is, cannot be inferred even by inoculation—lose that immunity and are easily inferred if given a dose of whiskey 24 hours before inoculation.

In short there are more drinkers than abstainers, and when all they have a much poorer chance of recovery. This is no self evident truth to all the greatest medical conventions and boards of health and is proved by the use of alcoholic liquors in the treatment of disease. Whiskey and brandy have been removed from the United States Dispensatory which contains the official list of medicines used in the States. Hundreds of medical men never prescribe alcohol in any form, and several states of the Union have prohibited its use even as medicine.

When these facts are known there will be less who will indulge in alcohol as any form, or as a beverage, and the question will be made to spread this truth. We must see ourselves as we are. This is what we have gained by years of hard work

London and the Diamond Industry

Although large numbers of Belgian diamond workers have arrived in Antwerp, the diamond cutters and polishers intend to remain in London and will not return to Belgium until the completion of the tunnel. Dandelion commissioners for selling diamonds have been appointed in London and Antwerp. Sir Edward Allison Hutton, London lieutenant of the Belgian king, and Belgian diamond merchants and considerable numbers of refugees have been assigned.

Canada's Immigration Bill

Ottawa.—The new Immigration bill introduced in the House of Commons by Hon. Mr. Calder, minister from the committee in the House of Commons, covers some slight amendments to the present law. The bill is designed to keep out Canada of undesirable immigrants and to facilitate the requiring direct to the countries by which immigrants originally came. Other provisions where no money is returned to immigrants who are deported on account of being a charge upon the public funds, or upon charitable or philanthropic institutions within three years after landing in Canada, and where the immigrant has been assisted to come to Canada by any person, company or society, the amount of money so advanced may be recovered from such person, company or society by the government.

Spies Resume Operations

Campaign in Switzerland Openly Conducted Against Allied Powers

Paris, Switzerland, spies and propaganda agents have resumed their operations in Switzerland, but their targets apparently have changed, the correspondent of the Temps in Switzerland writes. Instead of working against the Germans, they are now directing their attacks against the allied countries, he continues, and are carrying on almost openly a campaign against the United States.

Copies of pamphlets against the allied powers

"A very important anti British campaign has just been discovered," the correspondent continues, "bearing the name of another author, my courier are being distributed in sealed envelopes every day. This is one of the most important Swiss papers. The Swiss people have remained calm in the face of this campaign of abuse, the German origin of which is very apparent.

"I can declare positively that a number of documents lately arrived at Geneva, were identified as false forgeries when they were opened at the post of entry. But it has not been possible to discover the source of this kind of propaganda. They proceed from Switzerland. However proves that the German propaganda services are far from being disorganized. It is also apparent that Germany is very active in Switzerland. However proves that the German propaganda services are far from being disorganized. Struggling Back From Fronts With Lack of Discipline

Paris—Deputies from Budapest declare that general demoralization has struck Bela Kun's army, which is struggling back from the different fronts with utter lack of discipline.

Britain's Expenses Reach Huge Total

London. — A question asked in the house of commons brought forth a statement from J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, that the average expenditure of the country during the period from April 1 to July 26, was by the navy, £4,500,000 daily.

In opening Wednesday's session, Mr. Chamberlain, in giving the house an explanation on the pension estimate, said that at the present rate the pensions would amount to £40,000,000 sterling in a year. He explained that a new rule of pensions for military officers made the pensions not strictly annual ones, but one of 40 shillings worth; and for soldiers and sailors, those who had been killed or disabled in the course of duty.

Many changes on the previous rule for pensions increases, he claimed, would, as he gave to build, be made to the widows and other dependents of soldiers.

Good Roads A Necessity

Beast Of Mystery For London Zoo

Cambrian Train of the Horse, Giraffe and Bison

London.—Europe is to have a real live okapi for its very own. The rare animal, which is a cross between the zebra and the giraffe and ... is on its way to London.

... Europeans to get a glimpse of the elusive creature in captivity have been Mr. Jennett, a young Swiss in the service of the Congo State, who was supervising road making when he shot the animal, but only being wounded, the okapi broke its escape back into the Congo forest.

Sir Harry Johnston, administrator of the Uganda protectorate, declared much time to the search for it. He entered the Congo forest, but the atmosphere was unbearable, owing to the swamps and the smell of decaying animal and vegetable matter in the heart of the jungles. The expedition had to turn back without the okapi. One, however, has been recently secured alive, and it is hoped that it will be seen in Great Britain shortly.

"Pat, here's the dollar I borrowed of her last night."

"Bedad, Mike, I'd forgot all about it."

So the days passed, and Ruggles, washing hard, had lent a single cloud upon his fair horizon. This was due to his learning that the Vienna branch was almost ready to open its doors for trade, while he had as yet received no official directions to build himself as residence for a change of place. There was no sign of the Bergen general manager, recalling his former applications, and received a rather brief reply, which contained little or no more than the information that his letter had been received and was under consideration. Still, it was certainly in time, and Ruggles, a fiery optimist, told himself that he was sure to get his promotion very shortly.

For Ruggles was possessed of that peculiar dog the devotion to the big industry, of which he was himself not though humble component part. Ruggles is in some sense all-devoted most akin to religion. His belief in the company, from its head to its feet, was implicit. He was well-dosed, like the confidence of one of Napoleon's trusted grenadiers in the wisdom and infallibility of the Grand. Ruggles handled over all the enthusiasm of the aforesaid grenadier, and would have been incapable of the new and beautifully constructed arm. It represented the weapon which was destined to make every opponent bite the dust, and Ruggles, when he was given to make homage to and bend his knee, and help in the reconstruction of the world. The great problem is: How? Our industries may collapse, but agriculture must go on

STAMPEDE WAS EVENT OF THIS DISTRICT

The "Stampede" at Queenie Creek, fifteen miles north of Vermilion, held on Wednesday July 30th was a greater success than ever before—in fact it was a welcome surprise to the vast crowd of nearly two thousand people. Never before has an entertainment of this kind been attempted in any town between here and Edmonton that has been more successful. Well known men who have attended provincial stampedes are enthusiastic over the Queenie Creek one day event and say it compared favorably with some of the more elaborate three day shows.

From the time that the first steer left the corrals at 1 p.m until the abrupt termination of the program at 6 o'clock, there was not a dull moment. Steer after steer careered forth from the enclosures with a daring rider clinging to its back—besides furnishing much amusement, the majority of the riders gave an exhibition of skill that aroused the admiration of the crowds. This event was followed by the amateur and professional bucking contests. Twenty-five of the contestants were corralled at one stampede were rapidly saddled and ridden, unfortunately some of these proved too much for even the most experienced and intrepid riders—but as a whole fine straight up riding was done and out of twenty mounts only four were thrown. J. P. Ayerson and Jimmy Bate carried off before them in the professional contest and Jimmy Bate alone with Fred Rhodes were the winners in the amateur trials; in the wild steer contests the winners were C. Johnson and Leslie Reid.

During intervals between the main events the following races were run off— Free-for all horse race, novelty race, relay race and barrel race. Some very fast local horses entered and everyone feels certain that next year they will show their heels to any outsider who wishes to compete. Besides the horse races there were foot races of all kinds, unfortunately no time records were kept, but there is no doubt that a new record was established for the Indian 100 yds dash.

At six o'clock, when everything was at its height, rain started in fair—not slowly, but in drenching showers that drove people to shelter under anything from a cur to a saddle—still, they stayed in anticipation of more fun but it still rained on and the crowds began to disperse after waiting patiently for a year an hour. While all were glad to see the rain it was regretted that as it had waited so long it had not delayed its appearance for another two hours.

Mr. Archie Campbell, Mr. Anthony Dixon and the Committee wish to thank all those who did so much to make the stampede such a grand success, and to especially thank Mr. Williams, the promoter of the races.

Owing to the rain a small surplus still remains in the treasury which would otherwise have been given for the baseball, basketball and the remaining horse races—still there is another year coming and the management will use these funds to augment the purses in the main events.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children who have taught the value of money and the habit of saving grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 or more is sufficient). After a child has saved a number of dollars to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

Mr. King was elected on what is officially the fourth ballot, but as a matter of fact, only three votes were taken. No Minimum Price For Wheat

Manitoba Crop Estimate

James Stewart is President of Wheat Purchasing Board of Three Members.

Ottawa — Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, officially announces the appointment of James Stewart, of Winnipeg, formerly head of the wheat purchasing commission, to the position of president of the new board which has been created for the purpose of handling the crop of 1919. It is being represented, he declared, "that the government is using a minimum price for wheat, and that is not the case. What the government proposes is to pay whatever a net price as the board may realize, less the cost of handling, and relieves him of the responsibility of guaranteeing a price. It will be sold on the markets of the world, the farmer will receive the difference between the cost and what it has brought, minus transportation and other charges."

Trying To Shift Blame

Arrogant Claim That Allied Statesmen Plotted the War.

Copenhagen — The former Prime Minister of Prussia, in a letter to King Constantine of Greece, published in the Nachrichten, says the truth about the war may be had from the allied statesmen and that the blame for the war rests on the shoulders of the former German emperor is plainly false, the letter continues.

The letter adds King George, "To the name of justice and his own honor, he ought to desist in demanding the extradition and trial of the former emperor of Germany. The letter which is signed "Count Montgelas," declares that England plotted the war and that Germany defended herself.

If the allies want the truth, the former prince says, the leading statesmen of England, France and allies should also be brought before the tribunal. "Then we will see who is the guilty one and who is the guilty accomplice of guilt in the world war."

In the letter continues: "Germany and her brave people have been hit unjustly by the blow which has struck the German spirit which now seems dead still lives and will one day arise again in the splendor of old glory and chase whom which have been guilty and will one day demand a reckoning."

The letter charges that it was solely by the latter countries' intrigues of years prepared the world war, in order to destroy Germany as a troublesome competitor in the world's markets.

The former emperor continues: "Let me only remind your majesty of your conference with H. Sazonoff (then Russian minister of foreign affairs) in September, 1912, at Balmoral, and my interviews with Isvolsky, and on that occasion which knew no doubt that was planned for the German war and annihilation."

Germany was overcome, Prince Lichnowsky says, not by the force of the enemy, but by a silver bullet which lodged in the back of the German army, struck by mail order houses, by the bloodless "which failed to appear in the front of the German people as did former British generals against the women and children of Belgium."

Flying In Winter Weather

Aviators Say Extreme Cold Can Be Combatted.

Manufacture Of Whisky Prohibited

Toronto — Flying in Manitoba in severe time is possible and practicable," said Capt. A. L. Coll, late of the Royal Air Force. "The intense cold can be easily overcome by relatively heated apparatus and clothing. The machine can be heated by electricity economical for the aviator as it is derived from a small electric engine, driven by air screws. The apparatus weighs only five pounds."

Capt. C. A. Thompson, of Guelph, Ont., and late of the R.A.F., also told of his experiences of winter flying in France. "Without electrically-heated clothes or any of the latest inventions that not only make winter flying possible, but also enjoyable, I have flown and not suffered from frost bite. In some cases, with the electrically-heated clothes, I have flown and not noticed the cold."

Capt. Coll and Capt. Thompson are to be present to-day for the purpose of organizing and forming a company for the purpose of establishing aerial navigation by airplane.

General Pershing's Return.

Paris — General Pershing was accorded an enthusiastic ovation at the Gare de Vincennes on the occasion of the Bois de Vincennes on the occasion of the review General Pershing said, in an address that he was not returning to the United States before the first week in September. The American army would be practically demobilized by Sept. 30, he added, except the 200,000 men who will remain with the 7,000 men, in the army of occupation. The American headquarters would probably be established at Coblenz, he said.

Effect Of Tariff Changes On Fruit

Effect of Tariff Changes on Fruit.

The Fruit Commissioner's Branch of the Department of Agriculture has made investigations to the effect that apples are not affected by the recent tariff changes. The only change in fresh fruits is the removal of the 1c per lb. duty on tomatoes. Fresh tomatoes and fresh vegetables are now taken on formerly, with the exception of the removal of the war tax. As to potatoes, when imported from a country which has not a customs duty on potatoes when in Canada, the tariff is as follows: British preference 12½ cents, intermediate 20 cents, and general tariff 30 cents per bushel.

Indorses British Seaman Fund

Freedom Wilson Eulogizes Part Played By British Seamen in the War.

New York. — "I am very glad indeed to have an opportunity to add my voice to the tribute," President Wilson writes in a letter received at the national headquarters of America's tribute to British merchant seamen, 665 Fifth Avenue. The organization is organizing a nation-wide movement to raise a large fund in the United States to aid the 30,000 British merchant sailors who came out of the war maimed and disabled.

President Wilson's letter says of the British merchant seamen: "Alone with our gallant seamen, they have rendered a service to humanity in the great war which has just ended which cancels them among the true servants of freedom and civilization. I am sure that I am speaking, when I say that, for the people of the United States, and particularly for the American seamen who have taken a like part in the great enterprise of liberty."

THE STANDARD

VERMILION, ALTA., AUGUST 21, 1919

The Minister of Agriculture has been urging the moving of Peal. He especially in a dry season. The supply of both native grasses and roughage from grain crops is reduced to dry pasture and quick crops are needed for feed, hay and pasture. If rye is sown in July or August it furnishes feed during the autumn and in some cases is ready for grazing again in the spring as soon as the grass appears. It can be left to ripen for grain or can be immediately cut for hay. The crop is a highly nutritious and profitable crop in any kind of season and throughout the provinces. Besides its value for forage it is useful as a green crop to plow down and is also used to hold the land against blowing.

(In giving school competition and the refusal of the Utilities Board to sanction the issue of debentures for a new school, the Vegreville School Board has cut off the attendance of all non-resident pupils, given notice to that effect. Under the conditions prevailing at Vegreville the board is no doubt justified in its action. It is the first to run on the available school accommodation of the town to pretty due to the children of the 162 payers of the district. Vermilion is hard pushed along the same lines but fortunately is able to receive outside students.

Palomino on this week was delayed in order that the first publication might be made of Bylaw No. 208. The statutory requirements necessitate 4 publications in the paper, and as the season is advancing the advantages of the By-Law appearing at the earliest possible moment can be readily seen.

HOW TO GET FREE RATES ON HAY AND STOCK

For those who have not yet seen the regulations relating to the movement of hay, live stock and buying outfits free the following information is given.

Application forms may be secured from the railway offices, from the governm nt labor offices at Calgary, Lethbridge or Medicine Hat or from the Department of Agriculture at Edmonton. These forms must be filled up and sent to the Department and certificates will be sent back the same day as the applications are received. They should be addressed to Mr. J. D. Smith, Rural Branch, Dept. of Agriculture, Edmonton.

The conditions are more limited in some respects than they were last year. Free freight on stock, hay or buying outfits will not be given to those who have more than one hundred head of cattle or horses or three hundred head of sheep and only two cars of stock can be shipped north free and seven cared hay south. The dry area is defined as being south of a line from Lloydminster to Chipman, from Chipman to Tofield, from Tofield to Camrose and from Camrose to Wetaskiwin and continuing west. The rates apply only within the province except that free freight will be given for hay brought from Saskatchewan or Manitoba to the dry area.

The weather of both the Central and Northern Alberta is not as large as it was last year. There will probably be a hundred thousand tons secured this year but there was a good deal more than this shipped last year. There is still available a good deal of pasture about which information can be secured by writing the department.

"Pinch a bloke sit the toe, sir"—ushered Ruggles solemnly, for His gentleness whom he was serving was furnished with rather well-developed pedal digits (which is to say bunchy toes) from having padded barefoot over the Mount Mountain in his youth. "Let me stretch that out for you, sir. Take but a moment, sir, and you'll find it very comfortable."

"Too much I git you twenty."

"Oh, we never change our price, sir," said Ruggles, smiling as he did pleasantly. "It's not the way business is done in this country. We are an American company that we represent here."

Durthea heard no more of The Rat his gentleman friend and was being escorted by Ruggles to the desk, while Mrs Challand and her niece, descended to find Durthea clinging to the newspost and staring wildly in the direction of the cashier's desk.

"My dear!" cried Miss Challand. "What is the matter? Are you ill?"

"Ah! — I feel — Durthea began and then calling sight of Ruggles scribbling off his subscription and knowing that he might have at any moment, she said hurriedly: "I — I'll name our Lady's pa out."

"What is it, dear?" asked Lucy, solicitously.

"Oh — just the smell of that hotel shop," Durthea answered. "Never mind the shoes, auntie. Let's go home."

"Very well. But what was it that you were so afraid of? Did you see a ghost short in her tracks. "Was it? Is bode — is she dead?"

"No — no — no!" Durthea answered slowly. "I might tell ye all in a moment. It's not nothing bad — and I'd like to, anyway."

"Your feet will be tired," interjected her aunt. "I know it is."

"Oh, but I'm — I'm not," said Durthea, so sharply that her aunt gave her a quick look. DR. FOWLER'S Extract Of WILD STRAWBERRY

This preparation has been on the market for the past 74 years, and experience has become such that there have been many so-called strawberry preparations manufactured and these have been in many cases represented as Dr. Fowler's but our experience with those imitations has proved to the public that they may be dangerous to your health. the glow all gone from his face. What had the girl supposed him to be, anyhow? A Vanderbilt or an Astor? Had she thought that, if he were rich, he would have left his aunt and herself around Paris on the tops of trams and buses?

Being totally unable to understand, he came to the very natural conclusion that Durthea must have thought him guilty of having tried to sell under false colors and to gain her assistance in the imposition — and that was a person of considerable importance in the world of trade. He remembered having once hinted that he hoped shortly to be entrusted with a fuller measure of responsibility which might unlike it necessary for him to live in Vienna, and he recalled that after such a statement it must naturally have been disappointing to her to find him in poverty.

Durthea, after all, could scarcely be expected to understand that a man might be living economically one day and occupying the proud position of manager in a similar room a week later. Things were always coming and going and Durthea was an artist of no responsibility which might unlike it necessary for him to live in Vienna, and he recalled that after such a statement it must naturally have been disappointing to her to find him in poverty.

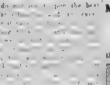
THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.



Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-nine years old and had all the symptoms described in that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to work or earn. I knew I ought to do something but did not know what to take. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and it entirely relieved me of my trouble, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and recommend your medicine to any woman as a genuine root and herb remedy, as it was hard for me to get it at first, but I obtained a bottle at last and it helped me from the first dose. I am glad to do so as the best testimony of any medicine

Government Explains Papal Peace Proposal

Britain Issues White Paper Showing Germany Conceded Nothing.

London. — A "white paper" issued by the government deals with the papal peace proposal to the belligerents in August, 1917. The Pope, in his note, said that before everything the fundamental point must be that the moral force of right should be substituted for the material force of arms, and pointed out that this would permit a mutual agreement for the diminution and reciprocal reduction of armaments, and free exercise of absolute sovereignty and independence of States. The Pope then mentioned Belgium and France, and the necessity for a complete political, economic and juridical organization of international society, and finally mentioned the question of the seas, and the freedom of them, which he considered it must be one of the most important points for peace and for the future relations of peoples themselves. Nearest a reply to the Pope's note was that of President Wilson, who commended it based on principles which he had previously stated, and declared that its views coincided with those expressed by Mr. Lansing.

Cool Comfort

First, then—a shave. Whether you are going for a spin in the car, taking the family to church or visiting a neighbour, you cannot go with a day's growth of beard on your chin.

The thought of shaving won't be irksome if you own a Gillette Safety Razor—rather, you think of five minutes' cool comfort with the highest type of shaving edge ever developed. No man in the world can command a keener blade than the one you slip into your Gillette.

And if Gillette shaving gives you an added joy to your Sunday, why not take five minutes every morning for a clean shave as the start for a better day's work.

For $5.00—the price of the Gillette Safety Razor—you have your choice of the Standard Gillette sets, the Pocket Edition sets (just as perfect, but more compact), and the Bulldog Gillette with the sturdy grip. Ask to see them TODAY at the hardware, druggists' or hardware dealers.

Allied Success in North Russia

London. — Six Bolsheviki battleships were destroyed in a successful Anglo-Russian attack on the Dvina river on August 10, the war office announced. More than 1,000 prisoners, 12 field guns and many machine guns were captured. The Anglo-Russian front on the Dvina was pushed forward 12 miles. The official statement reads:

"In North Russia, Anglo-Russian forces, on August 10, attacked the Bolshevik forces on the Dvina with success, so far. All the objectives were gained. Five enemy battleships were destroyed, the troops being driven from, captured or dispersed. Two 6-inch guns, 12 6-inch guns, 4 3-inch machine guns were captured. Over 1,000 prisoners, including 30 officers, have already been counted. The number is likely to be much larger."

Curb Profiteering In Britain

Amendment Passed British House Empowering the Board of Trade To Fix Prices.

London. — The house of commons, after heated debate, adopted an amendment to the profiteering bill empowering the board of trade, after due notice, to fix wholesale and retail prices. The vote was 132 to 70.

The amendment was denounced by Sir Alfred Mond, a member of the former ministry of war trade, who declared it announced that the government should accept the principle of destroying the whole business of profiteering by fixing it.

Premier Lloyd George, in the course of the discussion, declared that the government had no desire to be associated with profiteering. He added that if the government should be forced to take over a raw material, the commodity was likely to be 11 1-2 per cent cheaper than it was when the war began. He declared that the purpose of every member of the government seeking to include profiteering in the bill was within the scope of the bill was to put it.

British Ambassador To U. S.

Viscount Grey Has Accepted the New Post Temporarily.

London. — Viscount Grey, former British secretary of state for foreign affairs, has agreed to represent the British government at Washington pending the appointment of a permanent successor.

Viscount Grey of Falloden (Sir Edward Grey) comes to the United States to represent the British government after a brilliant career abroad as the British foreign office, for eleven years, moreover in the political affairs of Europe, he was the principal figure in the foreign affairs from December 11, 1905, to December 11, 1916. Owing to several necessary absences during that period, it was the executive of Sir Edward Grey that steered the gathering clouds of war into the storm. It was he who made the last effort to prevent the great conflagration and who helped to unite the harmonies of the leading powers to meet and discuss the situation in an attempt to put off whatever His effort failed through the attitude of the German government and of the German emperor.

"I never knew in a case so applicable for political life and such disqualification for it."

Since his retirement from the foreign office, Viscount Grey has been writing on international affairs. He has also attended to some business matters, and has been a director of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

General Currie Is Defended

Officer Says Criticism for Canadian Losses at Passchendaele Not Warranted.

Kingston, Ont. — Speaking at the Empire tendered to the corps delegates to the convention of Canadian Manufacturers' association, Major-General Mc Donald, chief of the Canadian intelligence service, defended General Sir Arthur Currie from the criticisms which have been levelled at him because of the losses the Canadians at Passchendaele.

"General Mc Donald, who was chief of staff to General Currie in the field, said that when Sir Douglas Haig told Currie to take Passchendaele, and the Canadians took it, after the New Zealanders and Australians had failed.

Referring to the Passchendaele affair, Mc Donald said: "Those figures recently published, of the casualties suffered by the Canadians in that battle, are misleading. They were not correct. The Canadians suffered 15,634 casualties in that battle, and not 16,000 as stated. Of that number 4,028 were killed and 11,606 were wounded. Those figures are correct. I have them from the official records. I have no hesitation in saying that the Canadians at Passchendaele did not suffer any more than they should have suffered in the circumstances. They were given a task to perform and they performed it. They were given a position to hold and they held it. They were given a position to take and they took it. They were given a position to hold and they held it. They were given a position to take and they took it. They were given a position to hold and they held it. Latest Alberta Crop Report

The condition of grain, fodder and root crops in Alberta is very distinctly improved at the present time on account of a month of fair rable weather over practically the entire province.

In the Peace River Country the crops are generally quite heavy and the cutting period is beginning. The crops of barley and oats are good and will be well advanced with respect to those two grains by the 25th of August. Root crops are excellent, cattle and horses are looking well and there are great increases in cattle stock due to the offerings from the south.

In Central Alberta extending right into the Eastern Boundary, wheat was very dry earlier in the season, crops of all kinds are considered to be at present quite beyond expectations of a month ago. Briefly the situation in Central Alberta is this: Early grain crops are not heavy, the apples particularly so wheat. Early oats are not heavy but where not too early they have shown greater recuperation than was expected and barley is a good crop in most places and the late oat crop is going to be quite heavy. Roots are excellent. Pastures are improved very greatly. Tame hay is a light crop but the rains are going to do more than simply improve the pastures. There will be considerable late hay cut as a result of rains during the past three or four weeks. Cutting of all kinds of crops is general in Central Alberta.

In Southern Alberta there is not much news to report with respect to grain crops. There will be some feed on fields that have failed and the pastures are freshening. Flax is now doing well but is not sufficiently advanced for this time of the year. The potato crop is considerably improved. Most of the south country has received about four inches of rain within the past three or four weeks. The soil is now in condition for cultivation in preparation for next year.
